RUSSIA TO HOLD PLACE IN ORIENT

Czar and His Ally, France, Extend Their Alliance to Cover Interests in Far East.

PLANS TO DEFEND THEM.

England and Japan Warned That Either Will Act in Event of Disturbance in China.

NOTE MAY CONCEAL THREAT

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, March 20, 3 a. m.—France and Russia have warned Great Britain and Japan that the Franco-Russian alliance extends to the far East.

A joint note conveying this warning has been addressed to all the powers, including America, and its text was made public late last night at St. Petersburg, Paris, and London—too late for careful analysis—by the London press.

In their joint note to the powers signatory to The Hague conference agreement France and Russia declare that they desire the maintenance of the statu quo in China and the attainment of complete tranquillity in the far East. Both declare that the Anglo-Japanese treaty supports the essential principals of their policy, and both admit that the treaty adds to the security of French and Russian interests in China.

Up to this point the London press sees no menace in the Franco-Russian note. Several London editors regard the note as a retort rather than a menace.

Sees Menace to Peace.

But others, notably the Daily Mail, see something more than a veiled threat in the closing paragraph of the joint note. In this France and Russia notify the powers that either of them will, whenever it deems it necessary, take measures for protecting its own interests in China or Corea in the event of hostile action by any other power, or a repetition of internal disorder in China. The Daily Mail, which is, perhaps, inclined to take a sensational view of any declaration by Russia, sees a distinct menace to peace.

It is pointed out that Russia and France have assumed the right to judge for themselves as to the exact moment when their interests may be jeopardized by internal disorders in China.

Others Show Less Anxiety.

The Morning Post, on the other hand, says the note is a declaration which all the world may read with equanimity.

The Times regards it as a significant indication of the great services rendered the cause of peace by the Anglo-Japanese alliance to which, it says, Russia and France think it better to say "ditto" than to say nothing.

Russia Modifies Demands.

Cabling from Pekin the correspondent of the Times says that since the presentation of the American note and the Anglo-Japanese protests, Russia's negotiations for the evacuation of Manchuria continue under modified Russian demands, which point to an ultimate settlement.

These include the withdrawal of Russia from between the Great Wall and Liao River within six months, from the Province of Mukden within a year, and, if the state of the country permits, from Kirin and Heilung-Chiang within eighteen months after the signing of the convention.

Announced at St. Petersburg.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

ST. PETERSBURG, March 20, 3 a. m.—The Official Messenger prints the text of the Russo-French conjoint declaration, sent on March 16 to the Austrian, Belgian, British, American, Spanish, German, Italian, Dutch, Chinese, and Japanese governments.

The note says that France and Russia are for these principles is at the same time a guarantee for their special interests in the far East.

"Nevertheless, they themselves being also obliged to take into consideration the eventuality of aggressive action on the part of a third power, or of fresh troubles in China jeopardizing the integrity and free development of that power and becoming a menace to their own interests, the two allied governments therefore reserve it to themselves to consider in such case the means of assuring their protection."

As Seen in Paris.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

PARIS, March 20, 3 a. m.—The announcement of the joint Franco-Russian note was issued to the press at a late hour. It was doubtless timed to add to the importance of President Loubet's forthcoming visit to Russia, and it is assumed it aims at emphasizing that the Franco-Russian alliance embraces coöperation in the East as well as in Europe.

Some regard it as a warning to England and Japan that any aggressive action on their part will produce a counter move by France and Russia.

The morning papers comment with much satisfaction and approval upon the Franco-Russian declaration concerning the Anglo-Japanese convention, which they consider strengthens the chances of lasting peace in the far East, as contributing to the establishment of the necessary balance of power.

Will Keep an Open Door.

"If," says the Figaro, "Germany and the United States have any misunderstanding regarding alliances and policy in China, or fears for the 'open door,' these are now removed. We are for the 'open door' on the condition that nobody attempts to close it on us."

The Gaulois thinks this declaration comes at an opportune moment to remind Great Britain that her treaty with Japan does not leave her such a free field as she seems to believe.

SEEK A MYTHICAL WRECKER.

Blunder of a Police Operator Sends Chief O'Neill's Men on a False Chase.

Bulletins were sent over the police wires yesterday ordering that a sharp watch be kept for a man who had "attempted to wreck a train at Pullman." All was excitement for the moment, but the disillusion came when it developed that the "train wrecker" was only a "train worker," or, in ordinary language, a confidence man. The bulletin went out from the Kensington Police Station, and the operator down-town got mixed.

EACH HOUSE A WORKSHOP

DR. HIRSCH SEES BRIGHT FUTURE FOR LABORING MAN.

Declares in an Address Under the Auspices of the Industrial Art League That the Large Factories Will Disappear and That Electricity Will Carry Into Each Artisan's Home the Power to Operate Machinery—Others Sanguine of the Future.

The abolishment of the great factories and a workshop within each humble home was the prophecy made last evening by Dr. Emil G. Hirsch. The rabbi based his forecast on his confidence in the possibilities of electricity.

Dr. Hirsch was speaking at a meeting in the interests of the Industrial Art league held at Sinai Temple. The meeting was for the purpose of enlisting aid in behalf of a workshop to be built in connection with the Jewish Manual Training School.

It is intended that the workshop shall be devoted to the development of handicraft as against the stereotyped product of the factory where the workman is kept at piecework, with no opportunity of developing his talents.

Draws Picture of the Future.

"I see the day when steam shall be dethroned through the development of electricity," said Dr. Hirsch. "The factory system of today will become unnecessary, and into every house power can be brought, which will drive each wheel for the artisan in his own little workshop.

"The masses, which are causing the students of sociology so much study, will disintegrate until they become not independent but interdependent artisans—artists in their work, who shall have the opportunity to develop the best within them.

"Until that time comes we must make a chance for a few and open the way for their talent or genius, and they will bring us joy in return in the articles they have created. It is not charity to help along this cause, but philanthropy in the highest degree, for it means the redemption of the workman."

Harm in Factory Atmosphere.

In speaking of his work in behalf of the Jewish Manual Training School Dr. Hirsch declared that if all the rest of his work should be counted for naught he believed his life had not been in vain. He declared the atmosphere of the factory to be immoral, inasmuch as the dull routine gave no chance for the development of any mental faculties.

"In the manual training school morality is taught in the work," he said, "for the pupils learn that they must be true to their ideals to produce true work, and they soon find that any departure from the rule brings an evil result.

"And after we have trained these young people to work with their brains as well as with their hands; after we have brought out their talents, and they have finished the school, where can they go? The factory means death to all they have learned, and they will ask us like the children of Israel did Moses, why we have brought them into the desert to die. It is for them that we wish to build the new workshop, where they can work out the ideas they have developed in their education."

For a System of Workshops.

While the speakers all disavowed any idea of attempting to revolutionize industrial conditions, they proposed the establishment of numerous workshops all over the city where skilled men and women may have the opportunity of doing artistic handwork in woodworking, bookbinding, and similar lines. Subscription blanks were passed through the audience so that every one could have a chance to make some offering.

Frank O. Lowden, President of the Industrial Art league, presided at the meeting. Professor George E. Vincent of the University of Chicago spoke on "Labor and Life."

Mrs. Marguerite Springer talked on "Labor and Love." Mrs. Springer urged the remodeling of the Golden Rule to suit the later discovery that love exists in every person, and is not something to be taught to him. The development of love, she thought, would come through man being given congenial work, which would broaden his character and develop the latent good qualities.

E. P. Rosenthal said that society has found the present economical system wanting, inasmuch as it had produced nothing but restlessness and discontent among the rich and poor. He showed how the purchase of sweatshop goods encouraged their manufacture, thus grinding out the lives of the operators, and held that the general happiness of the people amounted to more than accumulated wealth.

CECIL RHODES IS STRONGER.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

CAPE TOWN, March 20, 1 a. m.—A bulletin issued at midnight last night said that Cecil Rhodes had taken nourishment, that he was slightly stronger, and that at that time he was sleeping.

Dr. Jameson ascribes these good symptoms to the exceptionally cool weather now prevailing and to the use of oxygen, which is freely administered.

Mr. Rhodes smiled when the sympathetic message from Queen Alexandra was read to him, and asked Dr. Jameson to thank her Majesty for her telegram.

He takes less interest in public matters and no longer reads his letters or the newspapers. He has abandoned his idea of getting up and sailing for England.

FIGHT TURNS EYES FROM STAGE

During a test of strength between a patron of the Haymarket Theater and Special Policeman James Dore last night, occupants of the gallery diverted their attention from the mimicry of the stage to the strenuous exhibition in the upper tiers. A few moments later the exhibit was removed to the view of the balcony patrons as policeman and prisoner rolled down the gallery steps to the floor below. The prisoner was John Black, who is accused of causing a disturbance in the gallery because his view of the stage was obscured by other patrons.

KICKED DOG BREAKS MAN'S LEG

Middletown, N. Y., March 19.—[Special.]—David L. Black this afternoon was standing on the sidewalk in Fulton street watching a horse that was being led to a shop to be shod. A small dog began snapping at its heels when the horse kicked with both heels and sent the dog flying through the air. Before Black could get out of the way the dog struck him on the right leg below the knee, breaking both bones.

ROOSEVELT NOW JUJUTSU EXPERT

President Studies Japanese Art of Self-Defense and Joins the Order of "Embokkwai."

'KILLS WITHOUT A MARK'

WILL NEED NO BODY GUARD.

Washington, D. C., March 19.—[Special.]—While Congress is wrestling with the proposition to pass a bill to protect the President, Theodore Roosevelt is learning the art of "jujutsu" as an additional means of self-protection.

When it is remembered that the President is physically a powerful man—that he can box with the best of amateurs, that he is highly skilled in all kinds of wrestling, that he knows "savate," the French art of boxing with the feet—it will be seen that, when he has mastered the art of self-defense only taught to the nobles of Japan, he will be an unsafe man for any one to tackle, unless the attack comes through treachery.

How O'Brien Learned Art.

Professor John J. O'Brien is the man who is teaching the method of "killing without a mark" (the English of "embokkwai"). Professor O'Brien has long been known as the only teacher of that art in America.

O'Brien was, for ten years Chief of Police of Nagasaki, the port where more desperate characters abound than any other in the East. He was so popular there that he was initiated into the order of "Embokkwai," the sole purpose of which was to teach, perpetuate, and protect the secrets of "jujutsu."

In it strength counts for little. Skill, quickness of hand and eye, a strong hand grip, with the knowledge of the holds, makes a comparatively weak man a match for a man vastly superior in brawn and weight.

The art is redolent of Eastern cruelty, except for the fact that it is intended primarily for defense. It is, however, speaking militarily, defensive, offensive.

Experts Can Perform Wonders.

Experts can do fearful things; by it arms can be broken, bones wrenched from sockets, backs shattered, the heavy bones of the leg fractured like pipe stems, and even the neck broken. Weapons are useless, no defense is possible.

Its work is so quick and sudden that it lacks all the elements of the spectacular, and when exemplified upon the stage it is always "a frost." The spectators see a big, powerful man walking or rushing toward a man, slender, erect, steady, and watchful. A quick movement and the big man is writhing in pain on the floor, or is so badly hurt that nature mercifully sends him relief.

Except that a score can be handled as quickly as they come there is nothing to be seen. It is weird, and seems half Eastern magic, or what skeptical Americans call "a fake." But no man who ever met a master of the art ever concluded that there was anything of the fake about it.

Preisdent Needs No Aid.

So when President Roosevelt has added the knowledge of this art to his répertoire he will be a man half or wholly insane who will try to assault him and allow him half a chance.

And Theodore Roosevelt, horseman, deadshot, boxer, wrestler, "savattem," and member of the "embokkwi," will need little aid from Congress or any but his own splendid body, heart, and brain to care for himself at close quarters.

DEMAND RETURN OF FEES FROM TOWN COLLECTORS.

Citizens of Evanston Begin a Movement to Recover Commissions and to Check Similar Extravagance in Future.

Mayor Patten of Evanston is at the head of a movement to secure the refunding of money kept by Wesley L. Knox, former Collector of Evanston Township, as fees for collecting school funds. Notice also will be served on the Board of Auditors that only the $1,500 provided by law must be allowed the present Collector. Knox will be asked to return $2,877, said to be due the township, and if he refuses action will be brought in the courts.

This step is one of those to be taken toward abolishing town government. The movement was started at a meeting yesterday attended by Mayor Patten, Corporation Counsel Paden, members of the Finance committee of the Evanston City Council, Howard C. Gray, President of the Evanston Township High School board, and representatives of the First, South, and North School boards.

Information as to the amount of fees kept by Mr. Knox came to Mayor Patten several days ago. He immediately consulted with other officials, and an investigation of the reports of the Collectors followed. The investigation has not been completed, and it is not known how many collectors retained fees in excess of the legal amount.

TRUST CLAUSE IN FAIR WILL KILLED AND $9,000,000 FREED

California Supreme Court Decides Entail Is Invalid and Orders Money Distributed to the Three Children.

San Francisco, Cal., March 19.—[Special.]—The Supreme Court of California today killed the famous trust clause in the will of James G. Fair and ordered distribution of personal property valued at $9,000,000 to the three heirs—Mrs. Herman Oelrichs, Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt Jr., and Charles L. Fair.

By previous decision the trust clase in regard to real estate was declared invalid, so now this clause, by which Fair expected to tie up his $20,000,000 estate and hand it down to his children's children is rendered null and void.

The effect of the decision is to demonstrate that a man under the California law cannot make practical entail of his property. Fair's scheme was to give his children the income of his big estate, passing the property on to their heirs

NOW FOR AN ALDERWOMAN

CLUB WORKERS OF HULL HOUSE HAVE A CANDIDATE.

Cheer Suggestion That Their President, Laura D. Pelham, Would Do Better Service for the Nineteenth Ward than John Powers—Other Members of Gentler Sex Boomed for Municipal Housekeepers—Clean Streets Is Their Dream.

The Hull House Woman's club yesterday cheered the suggestion that its President, Mrs. Laura D. Pelham, would be of more service to the Nineteenth Ward than Alderman John Powers, provided she could be elected to the Council. The club women are dissatisfied with the manner in which the streets and alleys have been looked after during Alderman Powers' term of office and believe their President would do much better.

Mrs. Emma Andree, who suggested the idea at a meeting held yesterday for a discussion of Chicago's needs, believes there are three women in Chicago preëminently fitted for Aldermanic positions. They are Mrs. Pelham, Mrs. Hallowell, and Miss Jane Addams.

"If we could elect these three women to the City Council," said Mrs. Andree in addressing the club, "things would be far different down in this ward. Look at the condition of our streets and alleys. They are not kept clean, and although we continually agitate the matter they seem to improve little. What we need is women at the City Hall, and then the public housekeeping would be done."

Form a Political Alliance.

The Social Economics club and the Hull House club will coöperate. The former hopes to secure a referendum petition on the equal suffrage question and thus secure the right to vote, while the Hull House club will act as a "Voters' league" to pick the candidate after the right to vote is secured.

Mrs. Brundage told the meeting yesterday of the slights settlement club women are obliged to endure from the "exclusive" clubs of the city.

"Every once in a while," said Mrs. Brundage, "the exclusive clubs get up meetings and invite us, but they are careful not to mix up the settlement clubs with exclusive clubs. The members of those exclusive clubs sometimes talk about what they can do for the poor women of the settlements. Well, I have heard more than one clubwoman say they could learn something from us if they came down here."

Mrs. Charles Henrotin suggested the value of garden parties, as given by some out-of-town clubs. She said they promoted the decoration of lawns and streets and would keep up the work started by THE TRIBUNE'S garden contest last year. At a garden party, she explained, papers are read on flowers and their culture and sometimes seeds are distributed for souvenirs.

Shakspeare a Bitter Dose.

Shakspeare nearly killed the woman's club of Park Ridge, and Mrs. Root, a member of the club, told the clubs of the Seventh Congressional District, assembled at Irving Park yesterday, how it happened.

"We started in on ancient history, and we studied Egyptian history, Persian history, Grecian history, and Roman history," said Mrs. Root. "We were almost dead. Then we took up Shakspeare, and he killed us all."

Mrs. Stanwood, State President, proposed that clubwomen hold Quaker meetings. She says they need silent communion with themselves to know what they are doing.

The North Side Woman's club will give an entertainment tonight at Thomas' Hall, 565 North Wells streeet, for the benefit of the Juvenile Court work. Judge Tuthill will speak.

FIRE REPORTED IN KENTUCKY STATE REFORM SCHOOL.

Flames Discovered Early This Morning—Two Hundred and Eighty-seven Inmates Said to Have Made Escape.

Lexington, Ky., March 20, 2 a. m.—The local Fire department was called from here to a fire in the State School of Reform, six miles from the city, in which 287 children are confined. The inmates are thought to have all gotten out safely.

The Boys' Building collapsed at 1:10 o'clock, the building in which the telephone was located was on fire, and one of the guards, who was answering the telephone, declared that he must run as the heat and smoke made it impossible to remain.

The institution was erected at a cost of $100,000. There are eight buildings.

WOLCOTT MAY ENTER CABINET.

Former Colorado Senator Said to Be Considered by President as Successor of Hitchcock.

Washington, D. C., March 19.—The Post tomorrow will say: "It is understood that ex-Senator Edward Oliver Wolcott of Denver, Colo., is being considered by the President as the possible successor of Secretary Hitchcock, who, it is understood, will soon retire from the Cabinet.

"Mr. Wolcott was seriously considered for the Interior portfolio at the time of Mr. McKinley's second inauguration, when it was thought probable Secretary Hitchcock would retire. At that time, it was also understood, he was willing to accept the honor."

WOES OF MILES MAY GET AIRING.

General in Command of Army Is Down for Hearing on Root Bill Creating a New Staff.

LAST SNUB STILL FRESH.

Two Battalions of the Twentieth Infantry from the Philippines on Way to Fort Sheridan.

NEWS OF NATIONAL CAPITAL

WASHINGTON BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Washington, D. C., March 19.

Gen. Miles May Tell How He Has Been Ignored.

There may be something interesting disclosed in the session tomorrow of the Senate Military committee when General Miles appears in opposition to Secretary Root's bill for consolidating the staff departments and creating a general staff. Aside from General Miles' technical objections to the provisions of the Root bill, it is quite possible that he will be led to declare that he has been ignored in nearly everything the War department has undertaken for the army. The rebuff he received from the President on account of his suggestions for pacifying the Philippine Islands is only one instance of the manner in which General Miles has been ignored. In preparing the Root bill, for instance, he was not consulted, and the first knowledge he had of its contents was when the daily papers printed an abstract of the bill.

It is possible, too, that some interesting questions will be asked General Miles in regard to his Philippine policy. If he were to be pressed for replies to direct questions it would be found that he has a good deal of sympathy with the Filipinos and that he regards the war in the islands as unnecessary.

His scheme for pacification was not warlike in character. On the contrary, he hoped to end the fighting by taking Cubans and Porto Ricans to the Philippines and bringing to this country for an object lesson a hundred or two Filipinos.

Fighters from Philippines to Be at Fort Sheridan.

Adjutant General Corbin received official notice today that the headquarters, the band, and the First and Third Battalions of the Twentieth Infantry, numbering sixteen officers and 298 men, left San Francisco on Tuesday for Fort Sheridan. That post will become the headquarters of the regiment, and two battalions will be gradually recruited up to the normal strength. The regiment is fresh from the Philippines and is entitled to a full tour of duty at a home post.

Filipino Junta Admits Power of America.

President Roosevelt has received a remarkable letter from the Central Filipino committee at Hongkong which is a strong plea for the independence of the islands, but which is a complete acknowledgment of the strength of the United States. The Filipino agitators admit that they cannot hope to succeed by force of arms, although they do declare that they are none the less as insistent upon independence. In that section of the letter wherein the complete success of the American arms is acknowledged the Central committee under date of Oct. 10 says:

"We do not require any further lesson to teach us the immeasurable superiority in power of a nation which has enjoyed all the blessings of liberty for more than a hundred years, and which is ten times as great in population, and incalculably greater in wealth. We, on the other hand, have been struggling under a corrupt and archaic despotism which retarded all progress and stopped the natural power of our people.

"In our present condition our forces are, by comparison, limited in momentary resources, inadequately armed, and, of necessity, imperfectly organized. We therefore consider it no discredit to acknowledge, and we hereby authoritatively acknowledge that American power is supreme and that the prestige of American arms has been vindicated throughout this conflict."

Present Plea for Some Sort of Government.

The letter concludes as follows: "Finally the hope, and with the earnest prayer that this appeal may meet with a favorable response, we respectfully represent that no way can be found of putting an end to this unhappy conflict, which does not include an adequate assurance to our people of some form of ultimate national life. We ask in all sincerity, is not this aspiration both legitimate and laudable, and if so, what other course would you have a self-respecting people adopt? What greater proof of our sincerity and devotion could there be than the prolongation of resistance even after the complete supremacy of American arms has been established? The arms of America can march unresisted from end to end of our country, but wherever they are not present our people unite, drawn together by a common desire. The American armies can defeat our troops, but they cannot defeat or destroy this desire, unless by the destruction of those who hold it, and such an act as this we can never believe the American people would knowingly authorize."

House Leaders Not to Press Sugar Victory.

According to their present program, the House leaders will adopt a wise policy of delay before they attempt to reap the fruits of victory over the Cuban sugar question. About 85 per cent of the Republicans can now be depended upon to vote for the reciprocity measure if ordinary tact is used. By means of a little conciliation and through the natural calming down of angry feelings as the days pass by, all but about a dozen Republicans will probably vote for the administration measure. The House leaders have, therefore, practically decided that there is now no need of haste. The Cuban planters understand the situation pretty well and will not dispose of their stored-up crop at present prices.

The new Cuban government cannot be started until about May 1. After it begins operations it must negotiate formal [illegible] ratifying the Platt amendments and providing for exclusive reciprocity with the United States, besides passing immigraton and excluson laws, as required by the terms of the Payne bill. Provided Congress passes the Cuban measure before May 1, it will be in time to be acted upon by the Cuban republic.

The understanding is, therefore, that the reciprocity measure will not be taken up until next week, and not then unless the time seems propitious. It is figured out that the Cuban bill can be passed by the House easily enough in two or three days, so that if the Senate gets hold of the measure by about April 1 there will be time enough to pass it in the Upper House of Congress before Mayday.

Senate Means to Make Rebate Still Greater.

The sentiment in the Senate is that the amount of the reduction will surely have to be raised. Several Senators insist upon a reduction of 50 per cent of the Dingley rates. This is the figure specifically pleaded for by Estrada Palma, the President-elect of the Cuban republic, and it is the figure originally suggested by Secretary Root and Governor General Wood. The Senate will make a heavy reduction in the first place, so that there will be an abundance of room on which to compromise when the matter gets into conference. No pledges whatever were made by the House leaders in regard to the basis of reduction, and the belief is general that the final basis of the reciprocity between the United States and Cuba will be 33 1-3 per cent of the Dingley tariff rates on sugar and tobacco coming from Cuba and a similar reduction on all goods, including both manufactures and agricultural products, going from the United States to Cuba, with a guarantee that these concessions on the part of Cuba to the United States shall be entirely exclusive to this country.

The operation of this reciprocity measure will be limited to Dec. 1, 1903, as the bill passes the House, but it is well understood in the Senate that this limit of time will be extended in the conference to 1904.

To accomplish this the Senate will probably wipe out the Sibley proviso altogether and then as a compromise restore it in conference with the date of 1904 instead of 1903, thus carrying the whole subject over the next Presidential election.

Manley Takes Time to Consider Payne's Offer.

Joe Manley of Maine returned to his home in Augusta today to think over the offer made to him of the position of First Assistant Postmaster General. He declined the position of Commissioner of Internal Revenue, which is a much better place both financially and politically, and is nearly as independent a position as that of a Cabinet officer. Mr. Manley and Mr. Payne, the new Postmaster General, have been, however, close personal and political friends for many years. They understand each other thoroughly, and so far as the politics of the matter goes would, in their conduct of the Postoffice department, be a tower of strength in the direction of the renomination of President Roosevelt.

Mr. Manley wants some day to be Governor of Maine, but the plum trees up there don't seem to be quite ready for shaking yet, and so Mr. Manley is now tempted to accept the position offered to him here in Washington. There is another difficulty in the way, however, which arises from the fact that Mr. Manley came to Washington as the attorney of a number of firms in Augusta, Me., which have been recently barred out of the mails by the Postoffice department. These firms are seeking reinstatement to classification under the second-class mail rate. If they should get in it would break down the entire effect of the reform instituted by Postmaster General Smith.

Mr. Manley's efforts in their behalf as an attorney have been entirely proper, but if he should be appointed First Assistant Postmaster General and subsequently they should be admitted to the mails again at the pound rates it would put Mr. Manley in an awkward position. His appointment would practically necessitate an adverse decision in the case of his former clients and thus his acceptance of this place might work to the detriment of the interests of his fellow-townsmen whose regular attorney he has been before the department.

Senator Hawley today introduced a bill providing for the purchase of a bronze bust of the late President McKinley, made by Edward L. A. Pausch, the sculptor of wide reputation, who made the death mask of President McKinley, which has been accepted by the government and is now in the Smithsonian Institution. Pausch is in possession of accurate measurements of the mask and is perfecting a bronze bust of President McKinley nearly once and a half life size. The bill provides for an appropriation of $1,000.

H. Clay Evans Will Not Take Hitchcock's Place.

Reports from Chattanooga that H. Clay Evans, Commissioner of Pensions, will be appointed Secretary of the Interior, to succeed Ethan Allen Hitchcock of Missouri, are not true. Mr. Evans intends to retire from the Pension bureau because the continued war against him by veteran military associations is annoying to him and embarrassing to the administration. His management of the bureau has the warmest approval of the President, however, who indorses Evans as strongly as his predecessor, President McKinley, did. To put him at the head of the Interior department would not improve the situation, but rather make it worse, as he would then have the power to pass on all the decisions from the Pension bureau, which is an adjunct of the Interior department, and his decisions would be final. Commissioner Evans dislikes to retire under fire, but as the fire will continue so long as he is Commissioner he has decided to hand in his resignation, and the President will accept it as soon as he has found a place for Mr. Evans which will be a substantial promotion and recognized by the country as such.

Moreover, the man who is appointed Commissioner of Pensions to succeed Mr. Evans will be expected to manage the bureau on the same lines that have been followed by Mr. Evans. That the President will insist upon. Mr. Evans will be given an important diplomatic position and perhaps that of Ambassador to Mexico, to succeed Powell Clayton of Arkansas.

There is believed to be considerable truth in the charges brought to the attention of the State department by Senator Nelson that Mr. Clayton is interested in Mexican mining schemes. If the President becomes convinced that the charges against Clayton are true he will remove him and appoint Commissioner Evans as his successor. This would be a fitting selection, as Evans is a Southern man.

Harry R. Garfield Likely to Decline President's Offer.

In looking for a suitable man to succeed W. A. Rodenburg as a Civil Service Commissioner, President Roosevelt has been considering the name of Harry R. Garfield and James R. Garfield, sons of the late President. Informal inquiries were made at the request of the President, and it has been learned that Harry Garfield, who lives in Cleveland and has business interests there, which he is unwilling to leave, would not accept the place if offered. The President has not yet been informed whether James Garfield would accept the appointment if offered. If his friends indicate that the position would be acceptable to him the President will probably offer the appointment formally.

Mrs. Root entertained at dinner tonight in honor of Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. Shaw. Mrs. Root is making preparations for a trip to Europe soon, when she will take her son Edward to some of the finest ear specialists of London, Paris, and Berlin, with a view to curing some slight defect in his hearing. Miss Root may accompany her mother.

Subsidy Plans in House Not Well Defined.

No steps have yet been taken by Representative Grosvenor, chairman of the House Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries, to whom the ship subsidy bill, which passed the Senate last Monday, has been referred, toward arranging a program for its consideration. There is a widespread impression among the Republican members of the House that no serious attempt will be made to pass the bill at this session, but that it will be allowed to go over to the short session next winter. The fact that six Republican Senators voted against the measure in the Senate, and that two of them are from Iowa, the State from which the Speaker of the House hails, has led a good many members to believe that the Speaker will oppose any plan looking to the passage of the measure at this session, and that if he does he will have enough influence to prevent action.

The Speaker is disinclined to explain his position toward the bill, and it is not definitely known whether the reports of his opposition to it are true or not. Many members are urging that it would be much wiser, from a political standpoint, not to pass the bill, at least until next winter, after the Congressional elections.

There is, no doubt, great individual opposition to the bill, but it is the opinion of the best posted men in the House that an attempt will be made to put it on the program of the organization for action at this session, on the plea that it is a party measure.

Fellow Lion Hunter Calls on the President.

President Roosevelt has as his guest at the White House Mr. Phillip S. Stewart of Colorado, who accompanied him on his famous mountain lion hunt. Mr. Stewart arrived in time for a long cross country walk with the President, which both seemed to enjoy to the fullest. The President has but one Washington companion who can keep pace with him in walking, and that is Mr. Gifford Pinchote, the forester for the government. They walk for miles cross country without showing the slightest degree of fatigue.

Bellamy Storer of Cincinnati, the United States Minister to Spain, had an interview with Secretary Hay today. Mr. Storer has just returned from Madrid. He reported that the negotiation of the new treaty of friendship and commerce between Spain and the United States had been completed and that the failure of the Spanish ministry to approve it was due to the present political crisis and the desire to postpone this and all other important business until King Alfonso is crowned. Mr. Storer was confident that the treaty would be approved soon after the King came of age.

Old People Are Given Dinner by Society.

Society women to the number of a score or more turned out today in white aprons to wait upon the 200 inmates of the Home for Old Men and Women, conducted by the Little Sisters of the Poor. The feast of St. Joseph is always celebrated in this manner in Washington, and this being a French institution, founded by one of the former Ambassadors, it has always been the custom of the French Ambassador to attend the dinner. M. Cambon was prevented from doing this today, but all the other members of the embassy were present, and Mme. de Margerie and Mme. Vignal in their white aprons did the honors for him. M. Cambon also sent cigars and tobacco and wines for the inmates to cheer and warm them for the day.

Among the other society women who waited upon the old women and men, both white and black, were Mrs. Crackanthorpe of the British Embassy, Mme. Garcia Merou, wife of the Argentine Minister, Mrs. Corbin, wife of the Adjutant General of the army; Mrs. Henry May, Mrs. W. F. Byrnes, Mrs. James L. Barbour, Mrs. Anthony Gould of New York, Mrs. Perrin, Mrs. Mann, Mrs. Carroll Mercer, Mrs. William Emery, Mrs. Atwell, the Misses Patten, and the Misses Leiter.

In some instances in the dining-rooms for the colored people the unusual sight was witnessed of the grandchildren of former masters waiting upon old "mammies" and "uncles" who had served their forefathers in the same capacity.

This institution is maintained wholly by the food begged by the Little Sisters, and gratuitous contributions from hotels and other sources, and this is the only dinner of the whole year that is bought expressly for the inmates. Mrs. Leiter sent this morning a hundred dozen eggs and other substantials suited to the diet of old people, while the Misses Leiter furnished all of the cakes and ice cream used for the occasion.

Formal Dinner Given at Japanese Embassy.

Mr. Kogoro Takahira, the Japanese Minister, and Mme. Takahira entertained at dinner at the legation tonight. The guests were the Chinese Minister and Mme. Wu, Attorney General and Mrs. Knox, Senator and Mrs. Burrows, Solicitor General and Mrs. Richards, Assistant Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Darling, Solicitor General of the State Department and Mrs. Penfield, Professor Langley, the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Hamlin, Captain and Mrs. Barron, Mrs. Esther Steele, Miss Foraker, Dr. Swisher, Mr. Stevens Counseller, Mr. Komatz, Second Secretary, and Mr. Nakamura, Third Secretary of the Japanese Legation. It is the usual custom of the Minister and Mme. Takahira when giving a dinner to have the table decorated in flowers typical of their own country and in the fashion of the Japanese, but tonight a profusion of sweet peas was used on the table in true American fashion, and the menu was in keeping with American tastes.

SEEK WAY TO GUARD PRESIDENT

Senate Devotes Much Time to Measure Making Attack on Executive a Capital Crime.

Washington, D. C., March 19.—During the entire session of the Senate today the bill providing for the protection of the President of the United States was under consideration.

Mr. Spooner of Wisconsin contended that the government had an absolute and inherent right to protect itself against assaults made either upon itself or upon any of its officers. He maintained that an assault on the President was in the nature of things an assault on the government.

Mr. Hoar, in charge of the measure, elucidated some arguments he had made previously, and Mr. Teller of Colorado and Mr. Bailey of Texas spoke briefly upon the bill. The Texas Senator said he could not support the measure as it stands because he could conceive of an assault made upon the President as a person and not as an official of the government.

Mr. Culberson [Texas] offered a substitute which makes the assassination or attempted assassination of the President, Vice President, or the sovereign of a foreign country within the jurisdiction of the United States punishable by death; those who shall counsel or advise the killing of the President, or who shall conspire to kill him, or the sovereign of any foreign country shall be punished by imprisonment not exceeding twenty years.

DEPARTMENT HEADS ASSIGNED.

General MacArthur to Take Chicago Headquarters and General Funston Goes to Denver.

Washington, D. C., March 19.—By direction of the President, Major General Arthur MacArthur was today assigned to the command of Department of the Lakes, with headquarters at Chicago; Brigadier General Frederick Funston to the command of the Department of the Colorado, headquarters at Denver, Colo.; and Brigadier General William A. Kobbe to the command of the Department of Dakota, headquarters at St. Paul, Minn. These changes will take effect on the 25th inst.

Charges for Attendance Upon McKinley Said to Be in No Way Excessive.

Washington, D. C., March 19.—The bills of the physicians who attended the late President McKinley have been received here and will be transmitted to Congress at an early date. It has been variously stated that these bills would assume enormous proportions, out of all reason, but from the highest authority the information is obtained that they are fair and in nowise excessive.

PANAMA OFFER UP IN SENATE.

Project to Purchase Canal Rights Subject of Two Reports.

MAJORITY AGAINST IT.

Minority, However, Advances Reasons Why Proposal Is Thought Practical.

FRENCH ARE EAGER TO SELL.

Washington, D. C., March 19.—Senator Morgan from the Committee on Isthmian Canals today presented to the Senate the majority and minority reports of that committee on the question of the validity of the title of the new Panama Canal company and its right to transfer the Panama Canal property to the United States for $40,000,000.

The objections of the majority to the title held by that company are based largely on the relations of the canal company to the governments of France and Colombia, but the committee also discusses at length many other phases of the question. Among these is the relation of the shareholders who subscribed $260,000,000 to the old Panama company, whose interests the report holds cannot be lightly regarded. On this point the report says:

"The spectacle of the United States Congress authorizing the President, as the agent of our government, to conduct a trade with such a corporation (the new Panama company) without consulting France as to the claim of independence it (the new Panama company) asserts will be entirely new in the history of nations, and its consequences cannot be lightly disregarded.

Original Investors Considered.

"Among these is the serious danger of the United States being drawn into disagreeable relations with a large and influential body of the worthy people of France whose friendship for us has been cherished during the entire life of our republic.

"Unfortunately the report of the Isthmian Canal commission reveals the fact that men who make this offer are chief among those who defrauded these 600,000 or 800,000 Frenchmen of $250,000,000."

Severe on the New Company.

Speaking further of the obligations of the new company to the old, the majority say: "If Mr. Eifell and his associates get $40,000,000 from the American pepole, it is well that they are sheltered from the claims of these defrauded and despoiled bondholders and stockholders by the alleged despotism of French courts. They would never escape justice in American courts and would be compelled to account for every dollar of the money to the bondholders and to the stocks bearing interest before applying any of it to the profits of their speculation."

Minority Thinks Title Is Clear.

The minority report, which was prepared by Senator Kittredge, completely upholds the title of the new Panama company and says: "The title of the new Panma company to its concessions and other property appears from the facts and documents which have been laid before the subcommittee and is clear and free from any complications. For a transfer of its concessions to the United States the consent of Colombia is requisite, but this consent has been given by the government of that country as fully as it can now be given."

"On every other point the right of the new Panama Canal company to transfer its property to the United States is perfectly clear. Every link in the chain of its title and every step in the course by which it became in a position to sell its property, free and clear, is plain and satisfactory."

Reasons for Wanting to Sell.

The report then reviews the entire origin and history of the Panama Canal company and finds that the affairs of the old company were disposed of by a French court in a straightforward way when that company became insolvent, and that the court had a perfect right not only to appoint a liquidator or receiver, but to confer upon him, as was done, power "to grant or contribute to any new company all or part of the corporate assets."

GEN. OTIS ENDS HIS NARRATIVE.

Concludes His Examination Before the Senate Philippine Commission.

Washington, D. C., March 19.—General Otis concluded his testimony before the Senate Philippine committee today. Referring to his order of Sept. 3, 1898, directing the withdrawal of the insurgent troops outside the defenses of Manila, General Otis explained that a commission from Aguinaldo's Cabinet visited him.

In the discussion which followed he said they did not mention the fact that the towns immediately adjacent to Manila were not a portion of the city. He classed as ridiculous Aguinaldo's request to receive a portion of the northern part of Manila occupied by the Spaniards in trade for some of the southern part of the city held by the insurgents.

General Otis said Aguinaldo had demanded the right to occupy the palace and to make appointments which caused General Merritt to cable Washington for instructions. The reply was that there must be no dual occupation.

General Otis detailed the circumstances attending the capture of Iloilo, the offer of the Spanish General, Rios, to hold the place against the insurgents pending the arrival of United States troops, and the capture of the town by the Visayans before the arrival of the United States troops.

Aguinaldo, he said, was overjoyed when he learned that the detachment had been sent out, because he (Aguinaldo) declared that the first shot would be fired at Iloilo which would bring on war between the United States and the insurgent forces. General Otis said he had cabled Washington, saying that the taking of Iloilo meant war in the islands, and had received the response to defer action, which he did until the insurgents made war on the United States forces in Manila.

Senator Patterson asked General Otis if the idea of the Filipino people regarding the hopes and aspirations for independence was a mistaken one.

"No man ever worked harder in the interest of peace than I," said the General, "but if the United States troops had attacked the Filipinos and driven them out of the city when they first got there it would have been much better. They got exceedingly 'cockey' after awhile, and thought they could sweep us into the bay."

Further on he remarked that he had an idea, however, formed previous to the breaking out of hostilities, that the insurgents intended to drive the Americans out if they could.

"Admitting," said Senator Patterson, "that they were there to overawe the people, did you have any doubt in your mind that the hope of the Filipino army was independence?"

"They never intended to secure independence, but to set up a government under Aguinaldo," was the response.

"When you were communicating with Aguinaldo," inquired Senator Patterson, "as the General in command of the Filipino forces, did you at heart believe him to be a robber and a looter?"

General Otis declared he did not say Aguinaldo was a robber and a looter. He characterized him as much better than the majority of the Filipinos. In money matters he believed Aguinaldo strictly honest, and then, bringing his fist down on the table and speaking with great emphasis, the General said: "In duplicly he has few equals."

HOUSE HAS CUBAN BILL

CHAIRMAN PAYNE PRESENTS CONFERENCE MEASURE.

Provides for a Twenty Per Cent Reciprocal Agreement with Cuba to Terminate at End of 1903—Cuba in Return Must Adopt Certain Immigration Laws and Other Regulations—President Given Authority—Opposition Holds Meeting.

Washington, D. C., March 19.—Chairman Payne of the Ways and Means committee today introduced the following bill entitled "To provide for reciprocal trade relations with Cuba," as a result of the Republican conference decision last night:

"That for the purpose of securing reciprocal trade relations with Cuba the President is hereby authorized, as soon as may be, after the establishment of an independent government in Cuba and the enactment by said government of immigration and exclusion laws as fully restrictive of immigration as the laws of the United States, to enter into negotiations with said government with a view to the arrangement of a commercial agreement in which reciprocal and equivalent concessions may be secured in favor of the products and manufactures of the United States by rates of duty which shall be less by an amount equivalent to at least 20 per cent ad valorem upon such products and manufactures than the rates imposed upon the like articles when imported into Cuba from the most favored of other countries and shall not be greater than the rates imposed by the United States upon the like articles imported from Cuba; and whenever the government of Cuba shall enact such immigration and exclusion laws and shall enter into such commercial agreement with the United States and shall make such concessions in favor of the products and manufactures thereof as aforesaid, and which agreement in the judgment of the President shall be reciprocal and equivalent, he shall be authorized to proclaim such facts, both as to the enactment of such immigration and exclusion laws and the making of such agreement, and thereafter until the first day of December, 1903, the imposition of the duties now imposed by law on all articles imported from Cuba, the products thereof, into the United States shall be suspended, and in lieu thereof shall be levied, collected, and paid upon all such articles imported from Cuba 80 per cent of the rate of duty now levied upon like articles imported from foreign countries.

Power Conferred on President.

"The President shall have power, and it shall be his duty, whenever he shall be satisfied that either such immigration or exclusion laws or such agreement mentioned in this act are not being fully executed by the government of Cuba, to notify such government thereof, and thereafter there shall be levied, collected, and paid upon all articles imported from Cuba the full rate of duty provided by law upon articles imported from foreign countries."

Opposition Holds Conference.

The "steering committee" of the element which has opposed the Ways and Means committee reciprocity plan met this afternoon at the call of Representative Tawney of Minnesota, chairman of the committee, and with several other leaders in the movement canvassed the situation carefully.

Individually most of those present expressed a desire to carry the contest to the floor of the House. It was considered desirable, however, to take no action until all of those who voted in conference against reciprocity were called into conference. This meeting will be held later.

Cubans Want More Concessions.

New York, March 19.—[Special.]—The decision of the Republican members of the Ways and Means committee to report to Congress a 20 per cent reduction as the basis of a solution of the Cuban reciprocity problem is not at all satisfactory to Cubans who are now in New York. According to them so small a reduction for only one year does not give the required relief.

General Palma said today: "I do not wish to criticise the action of Congress, but I will say that if nothing better is done the Cuban people will be greatly disappointed.

"There are millions of dollars invested in sugar mills which cannot be operated until a reasonable price is obtained for the product."

MAKE PROGRESS ON RIVER BILL

Washington, D. C., March 19.—The House today made fair progress with the river and harbor bill. After the close of general debate twenty-seven of the 116 pages of the bill were disposed of. No amendments were adopted.

OPPOSES FRENCH TREATY.

Senator Aldrich Makes Argument in Senate Against Ratifying Reciprocity with France.

Washington, D. C., March 19.—The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations today listened to an argument by Senator Aldrich in opposition to the ratification of the French recipricity treaty. He said that in making the concessions provided for in that treaty the United States was securing only the low tariff rates of France, which are unconditionally granted to other countries and which should be ours by right.

COYNE RELIEF BILL PASSED.

Senate Acts on House Measure Relieving Chicago Postmaster of Amount of Robbery.

Washington, D. C., March 19.—Soon after the Senate convened today a House bill for the relief of F. E. Coyne, Postmaster at Chicago, was favorably reported by Mr. Mason, chairman of the Committee on Postoffices and Post Roads, and passed. The purpose of the measure is to relieve Postmaster Coyne from the loss of $74,610, the value of stamps stolen by burglars on Oct. 19, 1901.

SIR HENRY IRVING ATTACKS BACONIAN THEORY AS FOLLY.

Actor Says It Must First Be Shown That the Intellectual World of Elizabeth Was Party to a Fraud.

Princeton, N. J., March 19.—[Special.]—Sir Henry Irving lectured before the students of Princeton University in Alexander Hall this afternoon on "Shakspeare and Bacon." The big auditorium was crowded. Sir Henry wore his bright red academic gown. He attacked the Baconian theory from a dramatic standpoint, arguing that only a man who had been thoroughly acquainted with the stage could have produced Shakspeare's plays; that Bacon, the philosopher, could not have accomplished it.

"Until it can be shown," said Sir Henry, "how the most alert intellectual world of Elizabeth lent itself to a gigantic imposture of which there is no evidence except a silly cipher, we cannot take the Baconians with the gravity they demand."

"I fear," he added, "that the desire to drag down Shakspeare from his pedestal is due to that antipathy to the actor's calling which has its eccentric manifestations even to this day. Some people, I believe, are spiritually comforted by the notion that the plays which they misread at home, but would on no account see enacted, were written not by a vagabond player, who stole a deer in his hot youth, and who kept company with Bardolph's nose, but by a statesman, a philosopher, and a Judge who was convicted of taking money from his suitors and degraded in his old age."

Terence Henry, 102 Gault court, until last Monday assistant bridgetender at Erie street, is said to have stabbed Peter Clybourn, a teamster, during a quarrel last night at Orleans and Michigan streets. Clybourn was stabbed four times, and a physician pronounced the wounds serious. He was taken to the County Hospital. Henry is awaiting trial on a charge of theft.

DEMOCRATS ON SIDE OF BOERS.

PLAN TO FORCE HOUSE.

Agree to Spare No Effort to Compel Report of Measure Now Held Up.

WANT TO SEE FAIR PLAY.

Washington, D. C., March 19.—The Democratic members of the House at a caucus held tonight unanmiously adopted resolutions declaring that Congress should express the sympathy of the American people for the struggling Boer republics and pledging themselves to use their utmost endeavors to "force" the committees to report resolutions expressive of such sympathy in order that Congress might have an opportunity to act.

Two Resolutions Rejected.

Resolutions by Crumpacker and Sulzer were voted down.

The resolution submitted by Randall of Texas was adopted. It is as follows:

"Resolved, by the Democratic members of the House of Representatives of the United States of America in caucus assembled, That the Congress of the United States should, by resolution, express the sympathy of the people of the United States for the people of the South African Republic and the Orange Free State in their heroic struggle to maintain their liberty and independence.

"Resolved, That the Congress should, in the spirit of amity and friendship, appeal to the British government, in the interest of humanity, to accept overtures for peace, cease hostilities, and endeavor to bring about a just and honorable settlement of existing differences, to the end that peace may be established.

Should Enforce Neutrality.

"Resolved, That the United States should fairly and honorably maintain a position of strict neutrality in this contest between nations friendly to us, and see to it that the neutrality laws are vigorously and impartially enforced.

"Resolved, That we, as Democrats and representatives of the people, will use our utmost endeavor to force the committees now dominated by the Republican party, having in their charge resolutions similar to these, to report the same back to the House, so that the Congress may give expression thereon, declaring the sentiments and will of the American people."

In pursuance of the action taken at the caucus tonight, a resolution will be framed for introduction in the House.

MOURNERS AND WEDDING GUESTS MEET BESIDE BIER.

Weeping Family Takes Part in Odd Marriage at Minneapolis — Son of Dead Woman Is the Bridegroom.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 19.—[Special.]—One of the most remarkable wedding ceremonies ever performed in this city was solemnized this morning at 10 o'clock at the home of A. F. Smith beside the bier of Mrs. Smith, who died Saturday evening.

Lee Gilbert Smith, the son of A. F. Smith, and Grace A. Howell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Howell, were united in marriage by the Rev. James S. Montgomery in the presence of the members of both families. Toward the close of the brief ceremony the groom nearly swooned and fell forward on his knees beside the corpse of his mother. The ceremony took place beside the coffin, in fulfillment of a promise made to Mrs. Smith on her deathbed.

The coffin stood in one corner of the room in which the ceremony was performed and was covered with a canopy of white lace, under the edge of which the couple stood. The bride was given away by her father, while the father of the groom and husband of the dead woman stood weeping at the head of the coffin.

The bride bore the ordeal well, but her responses were scarcely distinguishable. She did not raise her eyes during the ceremony, and at the conclusion broke into convulsive sobs. The funeral of Mrs. Smith occurred this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, the entire bridal party being present at the funeral services.

MISSOURI SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS LABOR BOYCOTT.

Decision Handed Down in St. Louis Case Declares That Right of Free Speech Is Vitally Involved.

Jefferson City, Mo., March 19.—In the Supreme Court, sitting en banc, today an opinion was handed down declaring that courts of equity have no power to enjoin labor organizations from enforcing boycotts on corporations.

The opinion, rendered by Judge Sherwood, affirmed the judgment of a lower court which had refused the application of the Marx & Haas Jeans Clothing company of St. Louis for an injunction to restrain Anthony Watson and other officers of a local Knights of Labor organization and a branch of the United Garment Workers of America in that city from organizing a boycott.

The Supreme Court holds that if the labor unions of the State are not permitted to tell the story of their wrongs or their supposed wrongs by word of mouth or with pen and print, and to endeavor to get other persons to aid them by all peaceable means in securing redress of such wrongs, what becomes of free speech?

HEADLESS BODY OF YOUNG WOMAN TAKEN FROM LAKE.

Mysterious Discovery at Sodus Point, N. Y., on Shores of Lake Ontario—Suspect Crime at Nearby Town.

Sodus Point, N. Y., March 19.—[Special.]—The headless body of a woman was tossed up by the waves of Lake Ontario last night. The body is that of a woman apparently weighing about 130 pounds and is well formed. It was entirely destitute of clothing. The head had been severed apparently with some sharp instrument.

From the appearance of the body it was judged it was thrown into the lake about a day before it was discovered. The Coroner has taken charge of the remains, and the authorities are conducting an investigation.

They have a theory that the crime was committed at one of the resorts farther down the lake, and that the victim is a girl who disappeared mysteriously about a week ago and whose name was coupled with that of a well known man of Wayne County.

DR. ANGELL OF ANN ARBOR TALKS AT ALUMNI BANQUET.

President of the University of Michigan Declares the West Is Alive to the Value of Education.

President Angell of the University of Michigan was the guest last night of the Chicago alumni at its annual dinner and election held at the University club. He gave to the members of the association the latest news from their alma mater and a message full of hope for the cause of education throughout the Western States.

"An increased attendance is noted at all the Western universities," said President Angell, "and the Western schools will have all they can tend to if this passion for education continues. In accounting for this phenomenal increase I can think of three reasons: First, the population of the West has been growing at a swift pace; second, the high schools of the West are becoming better every day, and, last, the country is enjoying a universal prosperity."

Informal speaking was the order of the evening, Leander D. Condee presiding as toastmaster. Most of the responses were reminiscent of the days at Ann Arbor, among those speaking being Charles H. Aldrich, E. C. Lindley, John M. Zane, the Rev. C. M. Coburn, and Fred A. Brown.

The election of officers resulted as follows:
President—Leander D. Condee.
Vice President—John M. Zane.
Secretary—Eugene H. Garnett.
Treasurer—Cuthbert C. Adams.

The directors are Henry M. Bates, D. B. Gann, Frank P. Graves, G. Fred Bush, John Hibbard, Thomas C. Clark, and Kimball Young.

TWENTY SMALLPOX CASES IN THE LEVEE DISTRICT.

Health Department Officials Make Tour and Prepare for Vigorous Campaign Against the Disease.

A tour of the levee last night by Health department officials resulted in finding two more smallpox cases, making twenty in all which have been discovered in the levee district in the last few days. It was stated that health conditions in the slum districts were serious, and that prompt measures would be taken to stamp out the disease.

During the morning a negro who was suffering from smallpox drifted into the Harrison Street Police Station and remained there some time before the nature of his malady was understood. In the evening another negro who was suffering from the disease appeared at the station. Both men were hurried away to the Isolation Hospital and the station was fumigated.

"The population of the levee is so transient that we have a hard time fighting contagion there," said Chief Medical Inspector Spalding. "We are determined to stamp out the smallpox in the levee district, however, and will exert every energy to that end."

BOY HELD AS TRAIN WRECKER.

Herbert Cook of New Buffalo, Mich., Charged with Attempting to Derail Michigan Central Express.

St. Joseph, Mo., March 19.—[Special.]—Herbert Cook, 19 years old, of New Buffalo, Mich., is in jail here, charged with attempting to wreck an east-bound passenger train on the Michigan Central railroad near New Buffalo.

Cook is charged with placing a heavy bolt between switch points. Had not the bolt been discovered the passenger train would have run into the open switch and the train would have been plunged into a ditch.

Cook says he had no intention of causing a wreck, but put the iron on the track to have the train cut it in two. Cook confesses he has been reading dime novels.

Girl Drinks Acid and May Recover.

Helen Streser, 18 years old, was taken sick at 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning in the coffee-room of the Durand & Kasper company, Lake and Union streets, where she was employed. A doctor who was called discovered that she was suffering from carbolic acid poisoning. She was taken to the County Hospital and is expected to recover. She lives at 43 Keenan street and refuses to make a statement.

POLICE TO HUNT FOR GIRL KIDNAPED FROM CLEVELAND.

Child Ten Years Old Disappears with a Young Woman—Father Coming Here to Assist in the Search.

Chicago police will begin a search today for Edith Gordon, 10 years old, who was abducted from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gordon, 906 Central avenue, Cleveland, O. Mr. Gordon will arrive this morning and assist in the hunt for his child. The local police take up the matter at the request of the Cleveland department.

About five weeks ago Kate Cochran, 15 years old, rented a room in the Gordon residence, and soon she and Edith became greatly attached to each other. Last Monday Miss Cochran told Mr. and Mrs. Gordon she was going to Akron to visit her aunt, and asked permission to take Edith with her. The request was granted, and Mrs. Gordon took the pair to the depot in a carriage. There they met Henry Yarsky, a young man who had frequently called upon Miss Cochran at the Gordon house. He said he would accompany them to Akron. After waiting for their daughter's return until Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon became alarmed, and Mr. Gordon went to Akron to find her.

Failing to find any trace of his child or her companions in Akron, Mr. Gordon returned to Cleveland, and yesterday notified the police there. He gave them a description of Yarsky and the two girls, which was sent to the police here with instructions to hold the trio if found. Mr. Gordon last night started for this city.

STOLEN MONEY REPAID AT THE RATE OF $1 A MONTH.

Thief Who Stole Artist's Purse Is Making Amends on the Installment Plan—Ask to Go to Jail.

Some one in Chicago is easing a guilty conscience at the rate of $1 a month, and at the present rate of progress it will take thirteen months longer to satisfy the demand.

Some time in November Mrs. Beachy, an artist with a studio in the Auditorium Building, lost her purse to a pickpocket while riding on a street car. The purse contained $17, a bunch of keys, and some professional cards.

The next morning Mrs. Beachy received though the mail a carefully wrapped package containing her purse and her keys, but no money. A little later $1 was received by mail from some unknown source. Since then the dollar has come regularly once a month.

And there are other thieves of the same sort. The fact that they had stolen a $50 overcoat weighed so heavily on the minds of Fred Wilheimer and Viggo Parahl that they followed Detectives Stapleton and O'Brien to the Harrison Street Police Station and asked to be arrested. Yesterday they were sent to the bridewell for thirty days each.

CURE FOR THE SMOKE NUISANCE

Detroit Engineer Declares Forced Draft Would Do Away with Chicago's Evil.

That there is no reasonable excuse for the smoke nuisance in Chicago was stated in a paper read by F. R. Still of Detroit, Mich., before a meeting of the Western Society of Engineers in the Monadnock Building last night. The theme of Mr. Still's address was "Mechanical Draft," and the speaker declared that the mechanical draft system installed in smokestacks offered a practical solution of the smoke nuisance problem.

"With the more rapid and perfect combustion obtained with a fan and a little care exercised in firing," said Mr. Still, "there can be absolutely no excuse for the immense volumes of black smoke emitted by the chimneys of the factories. The mechanical draft system offers a perfect solution of the smoke problem, but only a few Chicago plants have adopted the idea."

Members of the Railway Engineers and Maintenance-of-Way association met in the banquet hall of the Auditorium Hotel last night, among the topics being methods for the preservation of railroad ties.

"Heap Medicine Man"

And a Sure Loser.

It's no use, old man, you can keep on trying them, one after the other, but the same old haunted look in your eyes, the same lantern jaw, and clothes that need a bicycle pump, will continue until you quit coffee.

There are hundreds of thousands of your type, sick and miserable half their lives, taking cathartic pills, stomach remedies, blood purifiers, tonics, and an endless string of remedies, some of which might be beneficial if you were not constantly pouring in a poison that keeps up your trouble, and that poison is coffee.

You say, "I ought to be able to drink coffee because I see others that use it and thrive," but, my dear man, your make-up may be so highly organized, or of such a character, that coffee, even one small cup a day, is an absolute poison to you.

You can prove whether or not it is by leaving off coffee totally for a period of, say ten days or a month. During this time eat plain food and drink Postum Food Coffee.

If your stomach gradually begins to recover, pulse beats right and you lose the uneasy feeling of ill-health, you can safely conclude that coffee has been a poison to you, and if you want to do things in this world—make money, be a success, round out your body, and win friends by your good nature and healthfulness—you want to throw over your coffee and take in return all these good things. It's just sense, plain, good, common sense.

Underneath all this are reasons of the most scientific character known to the physicians and chemists. In a nutshell, coffee is a poison to many people. Take it away and introduce Postum Food Coffee, which is a liquid food of high character that at once begins rebuilding the destroyed nerve centers.

There Are Many.

These are facts, facts, facts, and they mean health conferred and continued, if one will only wake up and take advantage of them. Remember Postum is a delicious beverage if made strictly according to directions, and that is easily done. Don't take any cook's excuse or statement that she followed directions. If your Postum comes to the table weak and unpalatable, you can depend upon it, the cook has slighted the job. It is the easiest sort of a proposition to make good Postum. It only needs attention. Put a piece of butter twice the size of a pea in the pot to prevent boiling over. All first-class grocers sell Postum.

BRITISH PLAN TO PENSION THE OLD

ADDS TO TAX BURDENS.

Project Will Cost Nearly $60,000,000 Annually if Carried Out.

[Copyright: 1902: By the New York Tribune.]
[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, March 20, 3 a. m.—The passage of the aged pensioners' bill to a second reading in the House of Commons yesterday was a singular tribute to the influence of Joseph Chamberlain. The measure followed the lines laid down by him in many public speeches and aimed to provide pensions for workers above the age of 65, without discouraging habits of thrift. Mr. Greene moved the second reading in a candid speech, in which he estimated the cost of the scheme at from $50,000,000 to $60,000,000 annually, divided between the Treasury and the local authorities, and there was no serious opposition on either side of the House. While neither local rates nor the Treasury are in a state for so large an addition to the public burdens, there was a general disposition to sanction the general principle of old age pensions, and the government supporters were willing to make political capital out of so radical a measure of state socialism. By passing the bill to second reading Chamberlain's favorite social policy has received general recognition.

Provisions of the Measure.

Briefly, the measure provides that men and women at the age of 65 or over shall be paid a pension of not less than five shillings ($1.25) nor more than seven shillings ($1.75) per week, providing they have not an income from any source of more than ten shillings ($2.50) per week and are in all respects worthy.

The pensions are to be paid by the local authorities out of the district funds. To this fund the National Treasury will make an annual contribution, not to exceed one-half of the estimated cost of the pensions.

At Joseph Chamberlain's suggestion a conference of officers of friendly societies, representing 4,000,000 members, met in London last October to urge Parliament to pass this old age pension bill.

It is estimated that there are in the United Kingdom 450,000 persons who would be eligible to pensions under the law.

In the Stock Exchange.

There were faint signs of recovery in the Kaffir market yesterday and there was a decided improvement in Canadian and American securities, but little business was done. There is no expectation of a revival of speculation on a large scale until the trend of the market can be forecasted after the delivery of the budget speech.

General business remains undisturbed by the protraction of the war and uncertainties of the budget. Exports of iron and steel to the United States, caused by a shortage of material, have been temporarily interrupted, but increased orders are expected by prominent exporters.

Passengers on the Etruria.

The steamer Elbe, with the Etruria's passengers and mails, will be landed at Southampton this morning. The belated company of adventurers from the Azores includes nine New-Yorkers, twelve Canadians from Montreal and Toronto, three Chicago passengers, and twenty-five others. No ship's company ever greeted the Lizard more joyously.

Torpedo Flotilla Discussed.

A great diversity of opinion was disclosed at the session of the Institution of Naval Architects yesetrday on the subject of the seaworthiness and utility of the torpedo flotilla. Experts were cautious in discussing the recent mishaps, especially as a naval inquiry has been ordered, but they considered it premature to condemn the torpedo destroyers as dangerous craft.

Prince of Wales Warns England.

The Prince of Wales' address in declaring the National Physical Laboratory at Bushey Park open yesterday was the most interesting he has delivered since his famous speech at Guildhall on his return from the tour of the empire. He again told the English people to wake up, as their commercial supremacy was threatened, and that the only way to maintain it was to give greater facilities for furthering the application of science to commerce and manufacture.

Decline of British Shipping.

Lord Charles Beresford, at the dinner of the Institute of Naval Architects last night, referred to the decline in British shipping. Ten years ago the British India company had the largest tonnage, the Messageries Maritimes came next, and the Peninsular and Oriental third. Today the Hamburg-American line led, with the North German Lloyd second, and the Elder Dempster third. Ten years ago the British mercantile marine formed 80 per cent of the shipping world, but today it accounted for only 69 per cent. Proper preparations should, he said, be made for the protection of England's mercantile marine. He appealed to the nation to see that the naval reserve was placed on a more satisfactory footing, and then electrified his audience by declaring that he should go to the different towns in the country and explain the condition of affairs, even if the authorities should court-martial him out of the service.

London's Dramatic Gossip.

The success of Stephen Phillips' tragedy has induced Sarah Bernhardt to put Marion Crawford's "Paolo and Francesca" in active rehearsal in Paris, and there is a prospect that Londoners may see it before August. It is less probable that Eleanor Duse will transfer Gabriele d'Annunzio's "Francesca da Rimini" to London after producing it in Berlin. I. N. F.

END OF REVOLT IN SAMAR.

Four Hundred Filipino Rebels Agree to Surrender—Will Receive $30 for Every Rifle.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

MANILA, March 19.—General J. H. Smith, commander of the American troops in Samar, has arranged an armistice with General Guevarra, who succeeded Lucban as commander of the rebels on the island.

Guevarra has promised to surrender with his entire force and all arms and ammunition. He has approximately 400 riflemen. The rebels will receive $30 for every rifle surrendered.

General Chaffee considers that this will end the rebellion on the island and that the greatest military problem yet presented has been solved.

TERROR REIGNS IN HAYTI

LEADING CITIZENS THROWN INTO PRISONS, OTHERS FLEE.

Justice of Supreme Court and Prominent Persons Accused of Conspiracy and Placed Under Arrest—Some Appeal to the Protection of Foreign Flags and Take Refuge in the Consulates—Several Disappear and Are Believed to Have Been Executed.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

PORT AU PRINCE, Hayti, March 19.—As a result of wholesale arrests made here today a reign of terror exists among persons who have expressed dissatisfaction with the government. The revolutionary movement is spreading through the island, and the arrests here today of persons charged with conspiracy are part of the plan of the government to discourage any possible accessions in Port au Prince to the ranks of the revolutionists.

The total number of arrests is not known, but many are known to have been taken to prison charged with conspiring against the government. As incarceration in a Haytian prison is regarded as a punishment only little less than death, great anxiety is felt among the friends of the men taken in today's dragnet.

A number sought refuge in the foreign consulates, among these being M. Seneque, a candidate for the Presidency against Simon Sam. He applied to the French Consul, but was refused protection.

Supreme Judge in Prison.

Among those imprisoned are Supreme Court Justice Bourjolly and General Destouche, two of the most prominent men in the island.

There has been an outbreak at Jacmel, and Minister of Public Works Le Conte has been sent there at the head of a force of troops to suppress it.

President Simon Sam's known determination to keep his office at all costs, and the unusually severe measures he is taking to discourage opposition, creates great anxiety lest many innocent persons suffer.

Hint of Secret Executions.

The reports that several political leaders opposed to the President have been secretly executed have caused resentment among those not otherwise the enemies of the government. The President is said to fear assassination.

In its eighty-eight years of independence Hayti has had seventeen Chiefs of State, and only one, Saget, lived to retire peacefully at the end of his term. Dessalines, the first President, was assassinated; Emperor Christophe killed himself just in time to escape a worse fate—that of being thrown from the high precipice at the rear of his famous castle of La Ferriere; Petion died in office, from a fever or poison—it has never been clearly established which; Boyer and Riviere fled and died in exile; Guerrier died in office, like Petion; Pierrot abdicated, and was permitted to end his days in Hayti, but kept himself carefully in obscurity.

This One Dies from Poison.

Riche died in office, and no doubt exists that he died from poison; Soliuque, another of the Emperors, fled, and spent almost all the rest of his life in exile; Geffrard fled to Jamaica; Salnave fled, but was caught and shot by his successor; Domingue died in exile; Canal abdicated, and is in exile; Salomon fled to Cuba, and died in exile; Legitime fled after having been thrown from power by revolution; Hippolyte died in office. Although there were reports that he had been assassinated, it is probable and hardly doubted now that he, at least, died a natural death.

Calls It Election Disturbance.

Washington, D. C., March 19.—"A Presidential election is pending in Hayti," said Mr. Leger, the diplomatic representative of that island to the United States, to night, "and I think the arrests and agitation reported in today's dispatches from Port Au Prince are an outcome of the campaign which is being carried on by the candidates for that office."

COUNTESS DE LA WARR WINS.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, March 19.—The court today ordered the restitution of the conjugal rights of the Countess de la Warr. Earl de la Warr, who left the Countess some time ago on the ground of incompatability of temper, did not defend the case. Since the Earl's return from south Africa in 1900 their relations had been unhappy. The Earl left her in June of that year. The Countess wrote to him in December asking him to return and live with her. He refused and she began suit a few weeks ago.

ORDER TROOPS TO MACEDONIA.

Porte Said to Have Sent 35,000 Men to Stop Agitation Started by Boris Sarafoff.

VIENNA, March 19.—The Neues Wiener Abendtblatt says in its issue of today that serious troubles are anticipated in Macedonia. The Porte has ordered 35,000 men to be sent to Macedonia and Albania, says this paper, and there seems to be no doubt that the agitation is the work of Boris Sarafoff, the former President of the Macedonian committee, who is using Miss Stone's ransom in his efforts. Sarafoff's bands, says the Abendblatt, are carrying on murder and incendiarism and are blackmailing the Bulgarian agricultural population of Macedonia.

BOERS PLANNED TO INJURE KING

Agitators Said to Have Been at Work in France Until Edward's Visit Was Canceled.

LONDON, March 20, 3 a. m.—In a dispatch from Cannes the correspondent of the Daily Mail says he thinks the French government is greatly relieved that King Edward's visit to France has been canceled, as Boer agents in that country were busy organizing demonstrations against his Majesty.

KING EDWARD TAKES SNUFF.

British Ruler Resorts to Old Custom, Which Now Promises to Be Generally Revived.

LONDON, March 19.—King Edward has set the custom of snuff taking, which, as a result, promises to be generally revived. At the Marlborough House dinners a snuff box, once used by the Prince Regent, is handed to his Majesty at the beginning of the dessert.

HENRY SALUTED BY HIS SQUADRON

Kaiser's Brother Arrives at Kiel, His Home Station, and Voyage Ends.

TALKS OF HIS JOURNEY.

PRAISE FOR CHIEF WILKIE.

KIEL, Prussia, March 19.—The German battleship Kaiser Wilhelm II., having on board Emperor William and Admiral Prince Henry of Prussia, arrived here at 5:30 p. m. His Majesty and the Prince were welcomed with the firing of salutes and cheers from the naval squadron which he commands.

Prince Henry landed at dusk and joined Princess Henry and his sons.

The conversation between the royal brothers is, of course, not a matter concerning which those surrounding Emperor William and Prince Henry have been taken into the royal confidence further than to know that the brothers had a talk today lasting several hours, and that Prince Henry told Emperor William his experiences from the beginning to the end of his trip.

Why He Skipped Chicago Stock-Yards.

Prince Henry does not know why he did not visit the Stock-Yards at Chicago, except that he was advised by John E. Wilkie, chief of the secret service, that it would be better to omit this part of the program, as the Polish workmen at the Stock-Yards might create a disturbance. Mr. Wilkie explained the reason of this change in the program to the owner of the packing-house it was intended to visit, and, although arrangements were made to see the packing-houses privately, it was later found inconvenient to do so.

Mr. Wilkie is spoken of in the warmest terms by Prince Henry's companions for his discretion and his careful arrangements for the Prince's security.

Given Only One Scare.

The only occasion when the least alarm for the Prince's safety was felt was when a member of the party saw a man enter the Prince's car at one end while Prince Henry was on the platform at the other end bowing to the crowd. This man was ordered out of the car. He hesitated, and then withdrew. A few minutes later he was seen working his way through the crowd in order to get nearer the Prince. This man wore a long coat, under which anything might have been concealed. A member of the Prince's staff pointed out this person to Mr. Wilkie, who at once said:

"Why, that is one of my men."

Kaiser and America.

Emperor William spoke to Commander William H. Beehler, the United States naval attaché at Berlin, who represented the American Embassy at Cuxhaven yesterday, of the wonderful reception Prince Henry had received in the United States.

"But," said Commander Beehler, "your Majesty would have received a greater one."

To this the Emperor replied:

"But I cannot leave the country for so long."

"It would not take you longer than your trip to Jerusalem," said Commander Beehler.

"Yes," replied the Emperor, "that is so."

"KING OF PATAGONIA" DEAD.

Achilles I., Who Held Royal Court in Paris Since 1871, Dies Leaving Throne to an Unknown.

PARIS, March 19.—Achilles I., known as the "King of Patagonia and Araucania," died here of pneumonia yesterday. Achilles, who had his court in a modest apartment on the Place de la Nationl, succeeded his second cousin, Antoine I., on Sept. 17, 1878. The latter, who was originally a lawyer of Perigueux, went to South America and claimed to have become King of Patagonia in 1861.

Achilles, whose real name was Laviarde, accompanied Antoine on his travels, returned to Paris, and assumed the royal title on Antoine's death. Achilles, in view of the difficulties between Patagonia and Chile, it is asserted, deemed it imprudent to return to his kingdom and surrounded himself with a court here, appointed functionaries and lavishly distributed high sounding titles and decorations.

Achilles' "High Chamberlain," who is a saloonkeeper, informed reporters today that the late King in his will appointed his godson to be his successor, but the "High Chamberlain" said he could not give the reporters the new King's name, because etiquette required that American Presidents and European sovereigns should be first informed of the facts in the case.

MAJORITY FOR DANISH TREATY.

Agreement to Sell Islands to United States Now Certain to Be Ratified.

COPENHAGEN, March 19.—The Landsthing, the Upper House, in executive session voted today to ratify the treaty providing for the sale of the Danish West Indies to the United States. There will be two more readings. The first will not take place before March 25. The opponents of the treaty are playing for delay, but the measure is now assured of a majority of two votes in favor of ratification.

TURKEY DECLINES TO PAY.

Sultan Flatly Refuses Demand of United States for Return of Ransom Paid for Miss Stone.

LONDON, March 19.—A dispatch from Constantinople says the Turkish government has flatly refused the demand of the United States for the repayment of the sum of money ($72,500) paid to the brigands as a ransom for Miss Ellen M. Stone and Mme. Tsilka.

CHINESE REBELS ARE STRONG.

Imperial Troops Repeatedly Defeated by the Insurgents in the Southern Provinces.

HONGKONG, March 19.—The rebels in the southern provinces continue to defeat the imperial troops sent to subdue them. General Ma and Marshal Su report that it is impossible to suppress the rebellion with the troops at their disposal, and the Viceroy of Canton has asked for reinforcements from Pekin.

MARRIAGE OF ACTRESS AND BANKER A SURPRISE TO FRIENDS OF BOTH.

LIZZIE RAYMOND.

Boston, Mass., March 19.—[Special.]—Mrs. J. A. Nowell, mother of the young Beacon street banker and broker, was astounded when told today that her son had been married to Lizzie Raymond, the vaudeville actress.

"Is it really true?" she asked. "It's all news to me. I haven't seen my son since Saturday last, when he told me that Miss Raymond was coming on for a few days and that he would spend much of his time with her. I told him not to bring her to my house, and I suppose that my remark nettled him. Where was he married and when?" And as she asked the question Mrs. Nowell's eyes filled with tears.

The information was given. Mrs. Nowell was silent for a minute and then remarked that she would have to make the most of it, and added that Miss Raymond as a daughter-in-law would hardly be acceptable to her. "But my son is a good boy and he never undertook anything that he didn't make a success of," she added, pointing with pride to a picture of the young man that occupied a prominent place on the wall of her parlor.

Mrs. Nowell seemed a bit more composed when she was told that the marriage had taken place at the South Congregational Church. "That's the church," she said, "where we always worshiped; where his dear father went with us," and again there came into Mrs. Nowell's voice a touch of pathos.

The news of the marriage of Lizzie Raymond in Boston was a surprise to the friends of the actress in Chicago, her home, no intimation of an impending marriage having been received here. Miss Raymond is a sister of Dan McAvoy, the actor. She has been twice before married. Her last husband, who was Sam Bernard, the German comedian, secured an annulment of his marriage to her on the ground that she was still the wife of another when she married him.

DUMONT TO VISIT ST. LOUIS.

AERONAUT WILL SELECT FAIR SITE FOR BALLOON SHED.

Brazilian Who Guided His Airship Around the Eiffel Tower and Landed in Safety Will Sail for the United States on April 4 to Confer with the Exposition Authorities in Reference to the Proposed Contests in 1903.

PARIS, March 19.—M. Santos-Dumont today accepted an invitation from the officials of the St. Louis exposition to go to St. Louis, assist the authorities in the organization of the proposed balloon contests, and select a site on which to erect a balloon shed for himself. The aeronaut will sail from New York on the steamer Deutschland on April 4. He will not take a balloon with him.

Other Aerostatists Invited.

St. Louis, Mo., March 19.—[Special.]—W. B. Stevens, secretary of the purchase company, stated today that letters of invitation had been sent to Santos-Dumont, Professor Langley, Chanute, and Hiram Maxim, all eminent in aerostatics, but he had no official knowledge of Santos-Dumont's acceptance of the invitation. When the Brazilian arrives it is expected that he will be of great service in advising the committee with regard to the dirigible balloon element of the contest, Professor Langley of the Smithsonian Institution representing the aeroplanists. Plans for a fitting reception to the distinguished Brazilian are under way, and will include a banquet and other functions.

VATICAN OFFICIALS ACCUSED.

Three of Them Before Secular Courts in Rome Charged with Thefts Amounting to $80,000.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

ROME, March 19.—The trial before a secular court of the three officials of the Vatican charged with thefts from the Vatican treasury aggregating $80,000 commenced here today. This is the first time the Vatican has had recourse to a secular tribunal. La Patria asserts that altogether $1,600,000, mostly the Pope's personal property, has been embezzled.

Interest and satisfaction are expressed in Vatican circles at the impending visit of Mgr. Taafe.

This will be the first occasion that the United States has had direct relations with the Vatican and creates a hope that a permanent diplomatic connection will eventually be established.

RARE CHINESE TABLETS SEIZED

Customs Officers of San Francisco Hold Records 200 Years Old Found in Possession of a Soldier.

San Francisco, Cal., March 19.—Ten jade tablets on which, almost 200 years ago, a Chinese workman engraved an acknowledgment of the wisdom, power, and goodness of Shun Che, the founder of the Tartar dynasty in China, are locked in the safe of the Customs Appraiser, John T. Dare, awaiting authority from Washington to return them to the Emperor of China or his representative.

The stones are one foot in length, six inches wide, and nearly an inch thick.

They were taken by the Customs Inspector from a private soldier returning from service in China. It is believed that they were taken as loot.

SHAMOKIN TALKS STRIKE

ANTHRACITE MINERS ARE NOT PLEASED WITH SITUATION.

President Mitchell Reads Replies from Various Operators Refusing to Meet Union Representatives—Letters Are Carefully Worded, but Meaning Is Clear—Much Feeling Is Aroused Among the Men, Who Insist Upon Right to Be Heard.

Shamokin, Pa., March. 19.—[Special.]—Prospects of a general strike being ordered among the anthracite coal miners are increasing each day. There are 150,000 men employed in the hard coal fields. Their wages average from $2 to $4 a day, according to abilities, as piece work or the tonnage system prevails. The average price paid in the region is $2.03 per ton.

These miners dig about 5,000,000 tons of coal each month. The anthracite coal operators contend that the soft coal miners are seeking to have the anthracite miners strike so they can secure much of the trade.

The districts that will be affected by a strike, if ordered, are known as the Wyoming, Lehigh, and Schuylkill regions, and cover the Counties of Carbon, Columbia, Dauphin, Lackawanna, Luzerne, Northumberland, Schuylkill, and Susquehanna.

Convention Gets to Work.

The miners' convention today began the consideration of whether the notices posted by the operators at the various collieries, announcing a continuance of existing conditions, shall be accepted or rejected.

President Mitchell today reiterated his denial that the visit of Secretary Ralph M. Easley of the Civic federation concerned the situation in the anthracite coal region. When asked if he would make any further effort to see J. Pierpont Morgan, Mr. Mitchell said he had made no arrangements looking to that end.

The sentiment of the delegates was for the first time officially expressed during the morning session of the convention. President Nicholls of District No. 1, speaking on the question of a Scale committee, said:

"The men of our district want their coal weighed, and they are ready to fight for it if necessary."

This is taken as an indication that most of the delegations have come to the convention with instructions to insist on concessions by the operators.

The Credentials committee made its final report, which showed the total number of delegates present to be 631, with 926 votes.

The convention decided to appoint a Scale committee of twenty-one members, seven from each district, and a Committee on Resolutions, consisting of three members from each district.

Operators' Replies Are Read.

The next business in order was the report of the special committee, consisting of President Mitchell and the district Presidents, appointed at Indianapolis to seek a conference with the operators. President Mitchell announced that letters had been received from the operators, and he deemed it advisable for the convention to consider them in executive session.

President Mitchell said later: "The letters, while couched in different language, are all of the same purport—a positive refusal to confer with the representatives of their employés upon the wages to be paid and the conditions of employment which should obtain."

President Mitchell addressed the convention, and he stated that he advised caution and prudence in arriving at any decision as to further action. He reviewed the efforts made by the officers of the union to maintain peace and harmony in the coal regions by the adoption of humane measures and the best methods of adjusting wage differences. He spoke also of the failure of the operators to respond to the employés overtures.

"What the final outcome will be is, at this time, purely problematical," was the concluding sentence of his statement.

No Agreement at Brazil.

Brazil, Ind., March 19.—It now begins to look as if there would be a deadlock between the block coal miners and the operators, who are in session, in a second effort to reach an agreement on the scale for the coming year. The miners make a number of demands which the operators are determined not to grant.

Alleged Murderer Safe in Jail.

New Orleans, La., March 19.—Ed Batson, the alleged murderer of the Earl family at Welsh, La., was safely placed in jail at Lake Charles, the parish seat of Calcasieu, today. Sheriff Perkins expresses the opinion that there will be no violence attempted against the prisoner.

DRUG CLERKS TO FIGHT CUT RATES

Will Refuse to Work in Stores Where the Prices Are Below the Standard.

PERFECT A NEW UNION.

Members Pledge Themselves to Discourage the Sale of All Opiates.

HONOR FOR WOMAN TOILER.

Supported at least in sympathy by the Retail Druggists' association, the drug clerks have begun their fight against cut-rate druggists. They launched their movement as a full-fledged labor organization yesterday afternoon.

In the declaration of principles adopted by the clerks at the Great Northern Hotel yesterday afternoon, when the organization was installed as a member of the Retail Clerks' International Protective association, they announce their determination to stand by the legitimate druggists.

Declaration of Principles.

The declaration is as follows:

"No clerk, who is a member of this organization, shall be permitted to work in a cut-rate store.

"It shall be the duty of clerks to discourage the sale of cocaine, morphine, or opium to habitual users of those drugs. Under no circumstances shall either drug be sold without a prescription.

"It shall be the duty of this association to discourage the use of drugs by any of its members.

"The members of this association shall seek in every honorable way to educate the public not to patronize druggists employing unregistered clerks.

"We demand the abolition of sleeping-rooms in the drug stores.

"We demand a work day of from ten to twelve hours, for the betterment of our own condition, and the protection of the public.

"We pledge ourselves to purchase articles bearing the union label, and to urge our employers to sell union made goods."

Officers of Association.

President—George A. Hodges.
Vice Presidents—J. C. Swan, H. L. Banks.
Recording Secretary—Chester A. Ullman.
Financial Secretary—William H. Sage.
Trustees—Bert Seltzer, Joseph Schweitzer, J. C. Drake.
Delegates to the Chicago Federation of Labor—William H. Sage, I. B. Kronberger.

A special committee of three was appointed to examinte the accounts of S. T. Hart, editor of the Drug Clerks' Journal, for the purpose of unionizing the publication.

T. J. Johnson, business agent, acted as installing officer for the new local, which will be known as Retail Drug Clerks' association No. 552. George J. Thompson of the cigarmakers addressed the clerks.

Easter Trade Ends Strike.

With the demand for Easter gowns for women and new suits for men staring it in the face, the Royal Tailoring company has settled its strike. By the agreement signed with the Custom Clothing Makers the company, which has its headquarters at Twelfth street and Michigan boulevard, agrees to unionize its plant. Eighteen subcontractors, under the terms of the agreement, must employ only members of the Clothing Makers. The settlement will give employment to nearly 1,100 men and women, as the busiest season of the year is opening.

The company locked out 500 custom clothing makers on Jan. 14. Business Agent Robert Noren and Secretary C. V. Peterson met General Manager Morris Vehon yesterday, and at 8 o'clock last night had reached an agreement. It is understood that all the employés may return to work this morning.

Union to Honor a Woman.

Miss Maud Dennison, 852 Cortland street, employed by L. Kiper & Sons, Congress and Peoria streets, is about to be initiated into the local organization of the United Brotherhood of Leather Workers and Horse Goods Employés. The consent of the international organization was necessary to the admission of Miss Dennison, who is the first woman harnessmaker the organization has recognized. The union decided to admit her in recognition of her willingness to aid the members during their recent strike at Kiper & Sons'.

Other Labor News.

Frank Lopez, 71 Whiting street, and E. Wollock, 477 South Halsted street, were arrested yesterday on complaint of George J. Thompson of the cigarmakers on the charge of having used genuine union labels on non-union made cigars.

Retail Clerks' Local 195 is preparing for a demonstration in the down-town district tonight against the stores which have refused to close at 6:30.

At a meeting of the Janitors' association at 910 East Forty-seventh street last night it was decided to begin the organization of unions all over the city.

Business Agent William Hartman of Journeyman Tailors' Union No. 5 yesterday called out eighteen men at the tailoring establishment of A. S. Swanson, Monroe street and Wabash avenue, because the free workshop was abolished.

The Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Workers' Helpers yesterday refused to accept $2.40 per day and announced that they would not go back to work for less than $2.50. They asked $2.80 originally.

Promptness in Using
Paine's Celery Compound
Means Quick Restoration to Heath.
IT IS THE GREAT SPRING MEDICINE USED IN THE HOMES OF OUR BEST PEOPLE.
Refuse All Substitutes and Imitations That May Be Offered to You.
If in the spring time people acted with more promptness, decision, and wisdom, suffering and misery would be vastly reduced.
To put off the work of regulating and strengthening the nerves, purifying the blood, and regulating digestion, at this time of the year is a very serious mistake.
Run down, weak, nervous and diseased men and women cannot with safety refuse to use Paine's Celery Compound, the greatest of vitalizers and health builders. The onward and triumphant march of the great medicine in this country and other civilized lands should be positive proof that it is the right medicine for all who look for strength, robustness, energy, and permanent health.
It is of the greatest importance that every sick person should get just what they ask for from their druggist or dealer. Paine's Celery Compound, so celebrated for its curative virtues, has many vile imitations. If you are offered a substitute or imitation by any dealer, leave his store and go to some honest merchant who will give you what you ask for. Examine wrapper and bottle and see that the name PAINE'S is on each; no other is genuine.

COEDS ALLOWED TO GROW

GIRL STUDENTS SCOUT ASSERTION OF ECONOMICS CLUB.

Deny That Their Gymnasium Facilities Are Poor and Their Class Instruction Inefficient in Effort to Make Them Inferior to Men—Especially Do They Denounce the Story of Appearing on the Campus in Anything but Street Costume.

Women students at the University of Chicago greeted with scornful laughter the complaint of the Social Economics club that coeds were badly housed in their gymnasium and indifferently taught in their classes. The statement that they appeared in the campus in gymnasium clothes was denounced as false.

"The club woman who says she saw some of us girls on the campus in our 'gym' clothes either does not know what a gymnasium suit is or she has never been on the campus," said one of the girls. "No girl in the University of Chicago ever walked across the campus in gymnasium clothes."

University Officials Deny It.

Officers of the university resent the idea that the young women are being crowded out of equal rights with men in the university, as well as the statement that their gymnasium facilities are poor.

"The statements of the way the girls in the university are mistreated are not only wrong, but absurd," said Dr. T. W. Goodspeed, secretary of the Board of Trustees. "The equipment of the girls' gymnasium in the Hyde Park Baptist Church is excellent, considering the fact that the place is only temporary quarters. The girls have their own lockers and every girl has her own key. The gymnasium is fitted with baths and there is every convenience that most first-class women's gymnasiums offer. The girls do not have to walk several blocks to their gymnasium while clad in gymnasium costume. It is a ridiculous assertion. No one ever saw such a thing and no one who understands how the university is conducted would believe it.

"So far as the men getting better accommodations than the women is concerned, any one can see that the women's gymnasium is better and pleasanter than the men's. The men are to have a new gymnasium and the women also. Next year the young women will have the present school of education building for their clubhouse and gymnasium. The building is new and well adapted for the purpose.

"In every department of the university work the women always have and always will be given equal advantages with college men. Thus far the women have even had a little better care. Their dormitories, for instance, have been much better than those which the men occupied. There is absolutely no action thought of by the university which will tend to lessen the privileges of the young women."

Girls Ask a High Board Fence.

To shield girl athletes from the gaze of passers by, the coeds have asked the university that a high board fence be built about a lot adjoining the gymnasium in the church. The request was made to Dr. Goodspeed yesterday. The girls want a space inclosed so they can play baseball, basketball, and other games outdoors during the spring months. Since the match game of indoor baseball in the gymnasium on Monday afternoon the game has grown in popularity and the girls want a larger space. Hockey was played by the young women during the winter on open grounds, but the girls entered the game in jackets and golf skirts and paid no heed to onlookers. An attempt to get the use of Marshall Field for a short time during the day for girls' basketball was abandoned.

PYTHIANS COME TO CELEBRATE

Thousands of Knights of Pythias arrived in the city yesterday to attend the jubilee gathering which is to be held at the Coliseum tonight. The 20,000 members of the order in Chicago long have been planning for the success of the meeting, and an elaborate program has been arranged for the visitors.

A contest in which teams from Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, and Wisconsin will engage will be the chief feature of the program. The teams from the different States will try to demonstrate their proficiency in administering the third rank of the order, and some of the teams will enter the struggle with prominent men as candidates. The team from Indianapolis will confer the degree on Senator Albert J. Beveridge, and the Milwaukee team will bring as its candidate Governor La Follette of Wisconsin.

Headquarters for the guests have been established at the Great Northern Hotel, and during the afternoon the officers of the Supreme and Grand Lodges will be given a reception. The ceremonies at the Coliseum are to begin at 7 o'clock, and, after a brief introduction, the ritualistic contest will begin, and will last for several hours. At the conclusion of the contest the Iola team of Dayton, O., which holds the record of being the best in the order, will give an exhibition drill in third rank work.

Among the members of the order who will participate in the ceremonies are Supreme Chancellor Ogden H. Fethers, Grand Chancellor of Illinois Charles H. Cushing, Grand Chancellor of Indiana C. A. Bookwalter, Grand Chancellor of Michigan Leo A. Caro, and Grand Chancellor of Wisconsin Zeno M. Host.

CRAZY WOMAN IN CITY HALL.

Declares Her Boy Is Locked in a Dungeon and That Rudyard Kipling Is Her Brother.

Mrs. Mary Whitaker, 375 Oak street, appeared in the City Hall yesterday and demanded that she be taken to the Mayor at once.

"My son is confined in a dungeon in this building," she declared. "I am going to get him out at once."

Two detectives started to lead her away and she fainted. After being revived she demanded that her brother be notified immediately.

"My brother is Rudyard Kipling, the great poet and author," she exclaimed. "He can be found at the Auditorium Hotel."

DOUBT FORMER BELLE'S SANITY

Friends Begin Proceedings to Have Mrs. Phoebe Morse, Formerly of Kansas City, Cared For.

This morning a Judge and jury at the Detention Hospital will be asked to decide the question of the sanity of Mrs. Phœbe J. Morse, who was once the reigning belle of Kansas City. Her husband was L. V. Morse, once a railroad official of Kansas City. He died eighteen years ago. For some years Mrs. Morse has been in poor health. For the last six months she has made her home with her sister, Miss Margaret A. Talbot, 1723 Orrington avenue, Evanston. Though once in affluence, of late she has been assisted by charitable organizations. Her delusion is that she is being persecuted. Added to this, she has a fancy that she receives telephone messages.

SCHOOL BOARD LACKS QUORUM.

Twelve Members Stay Away and Gallagher's Report of Criticism Goes Unread.

The Board of Education lacked one member of a quorum last night and consequently Trustee Gallagher's minority report, criticising the board, could not be presented. Mr. Gallagher declares that most of the twelve absent members remained away because they did not care to hear his report. President Harris announced that he would send a letter to each absent member expressing his displeasure because of their disregarding the meeting.

NEWS OF THE THEATERS.

Paderewski Recital.

The subdued light in the hall would have sufficed to tell the observant that Paderewski was to give a recital in the Auditorium yesterday. No other concert giver has realized, as has the eminent Polish pianist, how potent is the subtle influence exerted by light upon an audience's attention and musical receptive powers. Wagner realized it and inaugurated a reform in the world of opera, but Paderewski is the only artist who thus far has attempted to do away with the uncomfortable and exciting glare that prevails in our concert-rooms.

The softened light in the Auditorium yesterday was therefore peculiarly Paderewskian, and any chair other than the substantial, deep-seated one he invariably uses would have seemed out of place before the piano on the stage, any wait less than twenty minutes in duration would have seemed an abnormally short delay before the recital began, and any person other than he would have seemed as a stranger appearing at the side of the stage, and, after a bow, moving leisurely to the piano. Everything was just the same as it has been on so many occasions made memorable in the past by the unique art of this master-poet among pianists. The same, and yet, in so far as he himself was concerned, not exactly the same. There has been a slight but noticeable change in his appearance and manner since he was heard here before, and there has been a change even more noticeable in his style of playing.

Whether wearing his hair combed back more severely from his face, whether increase of health and strength has brought greater physical vigor, or whether the change has been in a measure a mental and psychic one, certain it is that Paderewski's personality gave the impression yesterday from the stage of possessing something a shade more masterful and assertive, a degree more serious, a suggestion bigger in every way than it ever has before. And this change in personality reveals itself in a change similar but even more marked in his playing. Listening to him and comparing his work with that he did in years gone by brings realization that, while there has been no lessening of his artistic and poetic sensitiveness, no weakening of his keen appreciation of the beautiful in tone and nuance, no coarsening, there has come to him recently a broadening and expanding and that he is today not only a poet of beauty and sentiment but that passion and virility such as he never before has revealed are also his. The last times Paderewski played here he was criticised for a disposition, never before shown by him, to force the piano to climaxes beyond the limits of its tonal beauty. Yesterday's recital showed that these spots seen on the glory of his work two years ago were but the products of a stage of transition, and that he now has found himself in his new style, and, although he plays more broadly and more powerfully than he did when he made piano playing the loveliest that the present generation of concert-goers has ever known, yet he has not failed to remember that art to be enduringly attractive and potent may not with safety be divorced from beauty. At no time yesterday did he climax a piece at the expense of tone beauty and nobility. His fortissimo was splendidly sonorous, but it was unfailingly free from the clang of wire and the thud of wood.

The recital began with Beethoven's "Waldstein" Sonata. Ever since he played it here at the first recital he gave in Chicago, over ten years ago, this Sonata has been remembered as serving to reveal some of Paderewski's most striking excellences as a pianist in their most attractive light. None of the eminent players now before the world has succeeded in delivering the brief Adagio with such ravishing tonal loveliness and such complete exposition of its emotional content as has he, and none has accomplished the transition from the Adagio to the Rondo with so much of poetry and dignity and such ennobling of the easily cheapened subject of the Rondo. Yesterday again, these two movements were inimitable in the beauty, poetry, and sentiment that distinguished them. Some listeners might take exception to the rapid tempo at which the first movement was taken, but no one with an ear sensitive to tone color could find aught but delight in the exquisite shades and tints used by the pianist throughout this work. His playing of the glissando octaves in the Prestissimo, which Bülow declared impossible, was, as it ever has been, a source of wonderment and delight.

The "Hunting Song," the "Spinning Song," and the Song in G major (op. 62, No. 1) of Mendelssohn, prefaced one of the most gorgeous performances of Schumann's Etudes Symphoniques it has ever been the privilege of Chicago concert goers to hear. Gorgeous is the word best descriptive, for in color splendor the performance Paderewski gave these mighty variations was unique. And it was in them, too, that his increase in breadth and largeness of interpretative style and manner was most strikingly revealed. The Beethoven had been delivered with something more of sweep and power than in years past, and the Mendelssohn Lieder received larger treatment than before, but in the Schumann the pianist's musical stature was fully revealed and it showed him a bigger man and artist interpretativity than he ever before had proven himself.

A Chopin group contained the C minor Nocturne, read with fullest appreciation of its heavy, languorous spirit, the second of the C major studies, and the one in E major, the loveliest of all the twenty-seven; the Valse, op. 42; and the F sharp minor Polonaise, played in truly magnificent fashion. The Liszt Etude and "Campanella" were dazzling, the former in the iridescent splendor of the tone coloring used in it and the latter in the crystalline clearness and glitter that distinguished it.

The audience was tireless in its enthusiastic approval and compelled the artist to give three encores—the Strauss-Tausig "Man lebt nur einmal," Liszt's sixth "Hungarian Rhapsody," and Chopin's A flat Prelude.

Paderewski's second recital will be given on Saturday afternoon in the Auditorium.

The well filled tiers of upper boxes contrasted pleasantly with the empty lower ones, and from the upper boxes came a large part of the applause for M. Paderewski. There was a sweeping of lorgnettes along the boxes to find the pianist's wife, but no one could be found among the many beautifully gowned women who bore any resemblance to the portraits of Mme. Paderewski. Yet she was present, sitting in an inconspicuous seat near the stage, and was more attentive than any one else to her husband's playing.

Mrs. Arthur Caton had in her party Mrs. Franklin MacVeagh and Mrs. Potter Palmer, and in the adjoining box were Mrs. Caton's niece, Miss Catherine Eddy, Miss Bellas, and Miss Adelaide Hamilton. In Mrs. Hugh T. Birch's party were Mrs. A. N. Eddy, Mrs. Theodore Thomas, Mrs. Watson Blair, Mrs. McCormick, and Mrs. Thomas Bellas. Mrs. Dudley Winston and Miss Caroline Kirkland were with a party in one of the boxes. Mrs. H. O. Stone was accompanied by Mrs. Secor Cunningham, Mrs. R. I. Stearns, and Miss Ela Elsa Parker. In the seats were seen Mrs. James R. McKay, Mrs. Russell Tyson, Mrs. G. G. Hamilton, Mrs. S. R. Jewett, Mrs. Milward Adams.

Plunket Greene.

Plunket Greene, the English baritone, who for a decade has deservedly enjoyed the favor of the American concert-going public, gave a concert last evening in Music Hall, in which he had the assistance of Mrs. Theodore Worcester, solo pianist, and of an accompanist whose name the program did not state.

The coming of Mr. Greene has been the subject for pleasant anticipation and enjoyable realization in seasons past, and albeit when he last sang here his voice seemed less satisfactory than before, indulgence was asked for him at that time on the plea of a cold, and his appearance last evening was awaited, therefore, with no misgivings. His singing of his first group of songs, however, awakened the fear that the enjoyable evenings spent in listening to him in the past are now all of the past, and his work later in the evening in nowise served to banish or lessen that fear.

Mr. Greene's singing has never been beyond cavil from the viewpoint of tone-placing, breathing, and vocalization, but hitherto the natural beauty and volume of the voice has caused the absence of correct schooling to be less in evidence. Now, however, nature seems to be avenging herself as she invariably does when ill treated, and Mr. Greene's voice is but a suggestion of what it formerly was. There was scarcely a phrase in any song last night that was sung faultlessly throughout as regards pitch and certain selections in sustained style, like Brahms' "Feldeinsamkeit," Corner's "Kinderwiegen," and Stanford's "Broken Song," were given off key throughout. Only in such songs as admit of the employment of the singer's questionably produced mezza-voce, was the voice and the accompaniment in accord. Here the Plunket Greene of enjoyable memory was again in evidence, but the pleasure was not unmixed with sadness, for it is this mezza-voce persistently used in the past that has brought ruin to the voice and made the singing of a free- pure, full-voice tone impossible.

In spirit, taste, and understanding Mr. Greene is as commendable as of yore, and last evening he introduced six songs by Stanford, entitled, "An Irish Idyll," that proved interesting; "The Fairy Lough," and "A Broken Song," being especially well conceived and carried out. Mrs. Worcester was heard in selections by Brahms, Liszt, and four Russians. She seems not devoid of a certain aptitude for technical work, but last evening discovered no abilities that place her other than in the ranks of amateur pianists.

LETTER OF THE MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

[Copyright, 1902, by the Marquise de Fontenoy.]

English journalism, which already comprises two full-fledged peers in its ranks, besides some half dozen baronets and a baker's dozen of knights, will shortly be able to add a full-fledged Earl to its lists. For I hear that the new Countess of Melfort and Viscountess of Forth, who has hitherto been known as Lady Edith Drummond, and who only recently succeeded to the honors of her father, the late Earl of Melfort and of Perth, is extremely ill. She is between 50 and 60 years of age, and after her death the peerages she now possesses will be inherited by Francis Morris Drummond, son of the only sister of the late Earl and editor of the London World. He has been connected with that paper almost since its origin, and up to the time of the demise of its founder, the late Edmund Yates, acted as the latter's assistant editor.

Inasmuch as the honors which Mr. Drummond will inherit are wholly barren in this sense that they carry with them no lands, estates, or any kind of property, he is certain to retain his editorship of the London World, which is one of those newspapers known as "society." He is married to a sister of the late Viscountess Forth, mother of that young Lord Drummond who died in such poverty in this country in 1887. But he has no children, and at his death the Earldom of Melfort will pass to his only surviving sister, an elderly widow named Mrs. John Barker. She has children by her second husband, John Barker, and these in their turn will become Earls of Melfort.

The late Earl of Desart was at the time of his death editor and part proprietor of another English society newspaper known as Vanity Fair. The daughter of his brother and successor in the Earldom, Lady Sybil Cuffe, is married to W. Bayard Cutting of New York. Henry Labouchere, M. P., the owner and editor of Truth, yet another society newspaper, and probably the best one of them all, is the nephew of the late Lord Taunton, and would have succeeded to the latter's now extinct peerage had not his father happened to be a younger instead of an elder brother of the late Lord.

Lord Glenesk is the proprietor and editor of the London Morning Post, while Viscount Mountmorres was until a short time ago editor of a society newspaper known as the Realm. Lady Colin Campbell, who is a sister-in-law of the Royal Duchess of Argyll, is also engaged in what is known as "society journalism." The young Earl of Rosslyn has also tried his hands at newspaper work, but is no longer connected with the press. The late Duchess of Rutland was a frequent contributor to the London woman's newspaper known as The Queen, while the wife of Lord Greville contributes weekly letters about good manners and fashions to the London Graphic and to several other English weeklies, illustrated and otherwise.

There is not one word of truth in the stories which have reached us by cable from Europe, according to which the young Queen of Holland is so ill that a regency is about to be established at The Hague, with the object of permitting her to make a long stay abroad in order to recover both her strength and her spirits. The denial comes from the Prime Minister himself, who denounces as thoroughly mendacious the assertion that the Chambers are about to assemble in congress for the purpose of deliberating about a regency.

What is true, however, is that the Queen is once again looking forward to presenting the nation with an heir to the throne, and that in consequence thereof she is taking far more care of herself than she did last year. She, however, drives out daily, usually with her husband, accompanies him to church every Sunday, and last week gave a small dance at court. She did not, however, as usual take part in the dancing.

It is not quite right to blame foreign correspondents at The Hague and foreign newspapers entirely for the circulation of all these lies that are constantly being uttered abroad about the young Dutch Queen and her husband. Many of them originate in Dutch newspapers, notably in those of Amsterdam, and are merely copied thence by correspondents of foreign journals who are not conscientious enough to take the trouble to verify the statements.

Equally without foundation is the story according to which the widowed Queen Marguerite, in conjunction with the other members of the reigning house of Italy, has arranged to make a magnificent present to Leo XIII. on the occasion of the silver jubilee of his election as Pope. Queen Marguerite is the last person in the world to attempt such a thing after the experience to which her family was subjected in 1888, at the time of the golden jubilee of the Pontiff's ordination as priest.

In that instance Princess Clothilde Bonaparte, the widowed and saintly sister of the late King Humbert, made all the arrangements for an offering of this kind. But as soon as the Pope heard of it he caused a curt announcement to be made in the Osservatore Romano—the official organ of the Papal court—declaring that under no circumstances would any such gift be accepted. It was a most humiliating snub, which has not been forgotten by any of the members of the royal family of Italy, and to which they do not care to expose themselves afresh.

A sum of close upon $400,000 has just been paid over to the Prince of Wales on account of the revenues of the Duchy of Cornwall, which for hundreds of years past have been assigned to the son and heir of the sovereign. In addition to this the Prince draws an annuity of $100,000 from what is known as the Consolidated Fund, that is to say, under the head of civil list, while the Princess, like Queen Alexandra before her, has an independent annuity of $50,000 a year from the civil list. The Prince of Wales likewise draws certains revenues from Scotland which have been assigned to the heir apparent for centuries past, indeed ever since the Stuarts succeeded to the throne of the Bruces. Besides this there is a fund in stocks and bonds to the amount of about $3,000,000, representing the savings in the administration of the Duchy of Cornwall, and which belong to the Prince of Wales, so that he cannot be looked upon in any way as in straitened circumstances.

The Hon. John Ward, who has just been appointed equerry to the King, is a younger brother of the Earl of Dudley and the second son of that Georgiana Countess of Dudley, who, like Queen Alexandra, retains her good looks and her extraordinarily youthful appearance in spite of her being a grandmother, and who has for the last twenty years enjoyed in a marked degree the friendship of both the King and Queen. It is doubtless as a mark of friendship to the Countess that the King has appointed her favorite son to be a member of his household.

IN THE SOCIETY WORLD

BOOK SHOWER GIVEN FOR AN EASTER MONDAY BRIDE.

Miss Emily Lyon, Who Is to Be Married to Mr. John Gary, Recipient of Many Gifts—Annual Banquet of Sheridan Club on April 5—Members of Sigma Chi Will Give a Reception for George Ade After the Opera Friday Evening.

Mrs. W. S. Chapman of 297 Schiller street gave a tea yesterday afternoon for Miss Emily Lyon, the guests being forty-five young people. The affair took the form of a book shower, as Miss Lyon is to be married to Mr. John Gary on Easter Monday, and she was the recipient of many gifts. The house was decorated in pink and white. Today Mrs. John R. Adams of 506 North State street will give a luncheon for Miss Lyon.

The Sheridan club will give its annual banquet at the clubhouse on Saturday evening, April 5. The speakers will be: Franklin MacVeagh, "A World Nation"; P. C. Haley of Joliet, "General Philip H. Sheridan"; George E. Adams, "Chicago and Its Future"; Lawrence Y. Sherman of Macomb, Ill., "Illinois." Each member will be permitted to bring two guests. Thomas F. Kelley is chairman of the committee, the other members being John P. Hopkins, William B. Sharp, James J. Kelly, Martin B. Madden, John R. Geary, and Harry Wild.

Chicago Sigma Chis will attend the performance of the "Sultan of Sulu" at the Studebaker on Friday evening in a body, and after the play a reception and supper will be given at the Auditorium Annex for Mr. George Ade, a committee from the Chicago Alumni association having the affair in charge. A souvenir of the occasion will be given to Mr. Ade from the fraternity, Mr. George Merrick making the presentation speech. Mr. N. Booth Tarkington of Indianapolis, author of "Beaucaire," will contribute a short fable on the career of Mr. Ade, and Victor W. Sincere will sing a solo from the opera with special words. The decorations will be the Sigma Chi colors—blue and gold.

DR. GRAY WILL BE A WITNESS.

Dying Girl's Unsigned Statement Accusing the Defendant Will Become Part of Evidence.

The dying declaration of Miss Irma Brown, written out, but not signed, accusing Dr. Robert E. Gray specifically of the crime charged in the indictment against him, will become a part of the evidence in the trial in which the doctor is defendant. This is the statement which the young woman was prevented from signing, it is said, through the interference of Drs. A. H. Farnsworth and McPherson.

The evidence for the State closed yesterday morning, and on motion of the defense Judge Ball quashed six counts of the indictment. This, however, does not affect the general charge. The court refused to take the case from the jury.

Dr. Gray will take the witness stand in his own behalf, and, according to his attorney, will testify that his every act was directed toward assisting the girl, in which he violated no law. The accident theory in its relation to the girl's death will be adhered to by the defense.

Dr. Frances Rutledge has secured permission to resume the witness stand later to recall an answer to a question made at a previous session. Assistant State's Attorney Newcomer says this is an attempt to recall certain evidence damaging to the defendant.

REFLECTS ON JUVENILE COURT.

Assistant City Prosecutor Carmichael Says Bridewell School Does More Harm than Good.

A statement of Assistant City Prosecuting Attorney Carmichael that the John Worthy School has done boys more harm than good occasioned considerable comment in the Hyde Park police court yesterday morning.

"There is little use in sending boys to the Juvenile Court," said Attorney Carmichael, addressing the court. "The John Worthy School does boys more harm than good. While there they come in contact with boys meaner than they are themselves. Then when they leave the school they are worse than when they entered."

Justice Quinn did not agree. He said that two of the boys before him had been to the John Worthy School and that he knew each of them was a better boy than when he entered. He referred particularly to Willie McGinnis, 15 years old, who was liberated from the school three months ago as a reward for writing the best essay. Since McGinnis was liberated he has held a position with the Weaver Coal company, where he is well liked. McGinnis' parents are dead. His offense was sleeping in a hallway at 4010 Wentworth avenue. He was alowed to return to his work.

At the request of his parents Otto Schultz was held to the Juvenile Court.

LAWYERS ARGUE WILCOX CASE.

Evidence in Trial of Young Man Charged with Cropsey Murder Goes to Jury Today.

Elizabeth City, N. C., March 19.—[Special.]—The argument in the Wilcox case was continued today. J. H. Sawyer of counsel for the State and W. M. Bond of the defense spoke. Sawyer held that Wilcox willfully, with malice, deliberation, and premeditation, killed Nellie Cropsey by striking her on the head. The motive was unrequited love, he said.

Bond argued for the defense. He said that the evidence against drowning was not convincing; that all symptoms failed after thirty-seven days, when the body had been buried in the water.

The argument will close tomorrow. The defendant, if acquitted, will be in danger of violence.

Food Cure.
True Way To Get Well.

The tales of how food will make people well are nearly always interesting. A young lady in Cleveland, O., says:

"I had an attack of nervous prostration and finally had to give up and go to bed. Did not know what was the matter with me. My physician told me that I should take a trip, and a favorite Auntie, who was at that time a visitor at my home, urged me to return with her. The doctor said I might get out of bed in a few days, and so, although I was still very weak, I made the journey, which was a short one, to Cleveland.

"There I gave out again and had neuralgia badly in addition to my other nervous troubles. While in this condition I was urged to change my food and try Grape-Nuts. I had tried Grape-Nuts at home but did not like them because I did not use them right, having put hot water on them, but under the advice of a friend I started in on Grape-Nuts and cream or very rich milk. That was a different story and I enjoyed the food greatly.

"In a few days I began to get strong and lost the desire to lie down. I forgot to tell you that I had been suffering also from dyspepsia. This gradually left when I had Grape-Nuts Food for breakfast and supper.

"Shortly after, I began to put on flesh and went up from 115 pounds to 130¼ in about six weeks. When I returned home all my friends remarked on my improved appearance, and the vigor and strength I had regained paid me well for my food experiment.

"In addition to strength of body I noticed a remarkable improvement in my mental strength. It was a pleasure to me to read and think and great big worries that would have put me to bed in my former condition slipped off as easily without oppressing me at all." An elaborate musical program has been arranged for the entertainment of the charges of the Crippled Children's Home this afternoon. Among the children of the school are many who possess musical talent, and a number of these will have a part in the program. The entertainment will be under the direction of Frank O. Peers, and among the musicians who will appear are Raphael Groff and Miss La Von Sperry.

LENT $3,000,000 TO HIS FRIENDS.

Executors of C. P. Huntington Fear Loss of Many Personal Loans.

TRANSFER TAX $800,000.

GENERAL NEW YORK NEWS.

NEW YORK BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBUNE, New York, March 19.

Lent $3,000,000 to Friends Who Cannot Pay.

The Collis P. Huntington estate, now being inventoried by the State's transfer tax appraisers, acting with the executors, Charles M. Tweed and Isaac E. Gates, will amount to about $28,000,000 or $29,000,000. The transfer tax will approximate $800,000. Nearly $3,000,000 was loaned to personal friends of Mr. Huntington, of which a large part can never be paid.

"The scheduling of the estate," said a friend of Mr. Huntington, "shows that C. P. Huntington's heart promptly responded to appeals for assistance. He loaned money to men and women whom he knew almost without stint. Probably the 'cats and dogs' list will foot up $3,000,000, and of this sum the executors cannot hope to realize a large amount."

The executors of the estate paid to the State last fall $700,000 in part satisfaction of the transfer tax to be levied by the State, thus securing a rebate of $85,000, which was a clear gain to the estate. Charles M. Tweed, one of the executors, when asked about the Huntington estate by a reporter, said:

"The amount of the estate, or the amount of the claims the estate holds against persons or companies, are things which Mr. Huntington would not have made public were he alive, and the executors do not for that reason care to say anything about them at this time."

Neither the officials in the State Controller's office nor the executors will give out any statement of the amount of the fortune. The report of the State appraisers will not be filed for several months. It is understood that the delay is due in large part to the overhauling of claims and notes against friends of Mr. Huntington. These amount to an astonishingly large sum, it was said today, and are in such shape that it is difficult for the executors to tell how much they are really worth. The major items in the schedule of assets have been known for a long time.

Defense in Patrick Trial Suddenly Rests Case.

The defense in the Patrick murder trial rested most unexpectedly and abruptly, when there were still five handwriting expert witnesses waiting to be called in the prisoner's behalf. This move was the result of the row between Recorder Goff and Patrick's three lawyers, which began on Tuesday, and came to a climax today. After court had adjourned the three lawyers for the defense explained their action. F. D. Turner of Chicago said:

"Counsel and witnesses for the defense have been insulted. We have not received fair treatment from the court. The bench is partisan. What is the use of going on under those conditions? We have won the case, anyway."

"The court intimates that I am a brawler," Mr. Moore said, "and belong in a barroom. The records will show who belongs in a barroom."

"Today's rulings have been outrageous. They won't stand," was Mr. House's comment.

"O, don't say they won't stand, Fred," interrupted Mr. Moore; "we'll never have to test them, because we've won an acquittal."

When asked if their comments upon the court were for the public, the three lawyers stated with great positiveness that they were.

Charles French of Boston, a handwriting expert, 76 years old, was on the stand. He started in to give his reasons for believing that the signature of W. M. Rice on the disputed will and other documents were genuine, when the Recorder stopped him, saying:

"I direct that everything the witness has said be stricken out."

That was the last straw in the opinion of Patrick's counsel. The three lawyers held a whispered consultation, and then Mr. Moore said:

"That is all, Mr. French. The defense rests."

Valuable Relics from Siberia Are Received.

One hundred and thirty-six boxes of relics, toys, musical instruments, models of houses, and facial masks have arrived at the American Museum of Natural History from Siberia. They were collected by three members of the Jesup expedition. The specimens are for the anthropological department of the museum, and are expected to serve as object lessons of the life of the peculiar races living in the northeastern part of Asia.

The pottery which has been found in Siberia is remarkably similar to that discovered in Alaska, and the great question the Jesup expedition is studying is that of the supposed primitive migration of man from Asia to America.

Boer Envoys Consider Irish Alliance Advantageous.

Messrs. Wolmarans and Wessels, the Boer envoys, will sail for France tomorrow morning on the steamship La Gascogne. Mr. Wolmarans said tonight in the course of an interview: "Since we have been in this country it has been said that our alliance with the Irish has hurt our cause. On the eve of our return we must deny that statement, and declare that the alliance has been profitable to us, both on the battlefield and by the fight which is being waged for us by the Irish members in the English House of Parliament. First we have to thank the Dutch, next the Irish, and then the Germans. We know also that the people of the United States are with us heart and soul, and we believe that a few words of sympathy from the United States Senate and House of Representatives would go a great way in helping us with the nations of the old world."

Injunction Granted Blocking Metropolitan Combine.

Opposition to the plan of the Metropolitan Street railway company's managers for the raising of new capital by the formation of a securities holding company has resulted in the granting of a temporary injunction in the Supreme Court this afternoon. This restrains the Metropolitan from delivering a lease to the Interurban Street railway company and from delivering possession of any property of the Metropolitan under the said lease or otherwise, and restrains the Interurban from receiving from the Metropolitan the lease or from entering into possession thereunder of any property of the Metropolitan until the further order of the court.

The plaintiffs are Henry Content and Walter Content, who own and control over 2,000 shares of Metropolitan.

Mr. Vreeland, President of the Metropolitan, said proxies in favor of the lease had been sent in from over 80 per cent of the company's stock.

Woman Hurled from Car as It Whirls Corner.

A motorman whirled his car around a corner at such speed today that two women and a child were thrown from the rear platform to the ground as if shot out from a catapult. All three were seriously injured and in the case of one of them, who was taken unconscious to the J. Hood Wright Hospital, it was thought tonight that death might follow:

The injured were: Emma Austen, Mrs. Henry O. Heuer, and her 4-year-old son Harry. Miss Austen's skull is fractured. Mrs. Heuer is suffering from shock and possible internal injuries. The boy's face is badly lacerated.

The accident occurred about 1 o'clock this afternoon on a south-bound Columbus avenue car. The car was so crowded that when Mrs. Heuer, with her little boy and Miss Austen, boarded it at One Hundred and Sixteenth street and Eighth avenue they had to stand on the rear platform.

"Gates Crowd" Responsible for Stock Fluctuations.

In the absence from Wall street of most of its prominent stock market operators, John W. Gates and his friends are credited with even more than usual activity in stock manipulation. The opinion was expressed today that not only were they behind the sensational fluctuations in the stock of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company, but were largely responsible for the big advance in the stock of the North American company. Both of these stocks did some more tall climbing today. In the Broad street curb market there were heavy dealings at advanced prices in Colorado Fuel and Iron 5 per cent bonds. To the so-called "Gates crowd" are also generally attributed the remarkable recent advances in the prices for the securities of the Colorado and Southern railroad, Colorado and Southern common. Today there was a fresh rumor that a deal for the sale of the road had been closed.

Motorman Stricken by Current on His Car.

Fred Waite, a Third Avenue trolley car motorman, who was shocked by a leak from his motor yesterday, was speechless today, but he was able to form words with his lips, and he suffered no pain. The Flower Hospital physicians say that he probably will recover the use of his voice in a few days. Waite communicates his ideas by writing. His trouble is common among the motormen, but his affliction, as caused in this instance, is rarely brought to the notice of physicians, and those who have Waite under their care are making a special study of his case.

Two Fires in the Astor House Rouse Suspicion.

Watchman Farley, on the top floor of the Astor House, saw a curtain ablaze at the end of a corridor on the Vesey street side just before midnight tonight. When the firemen arrived the flames had been extinguished by Farley. In a few minutes the firemen heard cries from the street below. They could see no fire, but the crowd on Broadway apparently saw flames in another window. Detective Cohen put his head out of the window and saw flames in a room off the corridor. A bureau in the corner was found blazing. This was at least twenty feet from the curtain which had at first been afire. This double outbreak aroused the suspicion of Detective Cohen and Battalion Chief Cruger. It was said there might be an arrest later.

When Carey tried to raise him, the man said: "I'm so hungry I can't stand." He was dead when the ambulance surgeon, Beckwith, arrived from the Hudson Street Hospital. The doctor said that death was due to starvation and exposure. The body was taken to the morgue. No one along Park row knew the man.

NEW ELECTRICAL ENGINEER OF THE WESTERN UNION.

J. C. Barclay Promoted from Western Division to Charge of All the Company's Work, Vice A. B. Brown.

New York, March 19.—J. C. Barclay, electrician of the western division, has been appointed electrical engineer of the Western Union Telegraph company with headquarters at New York, vice A. B. Brown, resigned. The appointment is to take effect on April 1.

J. C. BARCLAY.

Mr. Barclay has been in telegraph service since 1868, beginning at Greenburg, Pa., and serving in various capacities. He was Associated Press operator in Baltimore and finally entered the service of the Western Union company in New York twenty-five years ago. He is widely known as an expert in electrical matters and as an executive is scarcely less distinguished.

Charles H. Bristol, Superintendent of Construction of the Western division, has been appointed General Superintendent of Construction of the Western Union with headquarters at New York, vice D. Doren, deceased. He began his career in a construction gang under M. C. Bristol in the fall of 1861. He was appointed Assistant Superintendent of Construction in 1882 and Superintendent of Construction of the western division in 1897.

HETTY GREEN'S HUSBAND DEAD.

Edward Green, Who Once Made Millions in the Philippines, Dies at His Home in Vermont.

Bellows Falls, Vt., March 19.—Edward Green, husband of Hetty Green, known as the richest woman in America, died at his home here today. He had been ill for a long time of a complication of diseases.

Edward Green was over 80 years old and had retired from all business activity many years ago. He was a native of Vermont and made a large fortune in Manila, which he afterwards lost in Wall street. It took him over seventeen years of hard work to pile up his millions in the Philippines, and when he returned to Bellows Falls he fell in love with Miss Hetty Robinson, who was then one of the belles of the village. The parents of Miss Robinson objected to the match because Green was several years older than the young woman. It is a tradition, however, that Green's apparent ability to make money and his already large fortune won the day.

Edward Green and his bride went to London to live and remained there for over a year, when financial affairs in America demanded their return.

Mrs. Green had inherited a large fortune from her father, and with that of her husband they were more than rich.

Mr. Green wanted more and lost all he had in Wall street. His wife, on the contrary, added to her wealth in every transaction she undertook.

Over ten years ago Mrs. Green arranged matters so that her husband would be comfortable for the rest of his life.

Mr. and Mrs. Green had two children, Edward H. R. Green, who is an active railroad man and quite wealthy, and a daughter, Sylvia Howland Green.

OBITUARY.

ROBERT JOHNSTONE, aged 75 years, one of the oldest actors in America, died yesterday at the hospital of the State Soldiers' Home, at Bath, N. Y. He claimed that he played with Junius Brutus Booth, Forrest, McCready, and other prominent actors of their day. He will be buried in New York at the expense of the Actors' fund.

JAMES H. FAIRCHILD, for thirty-six years President of Oberlin (O.) College, died last night. He was connected with Oberlin College for sixty-eight years and had served longer than any college official in the United States.

EDWARD CARTER of Montana, who died at Colorado Springs on Sunday, was buried yesterday at Pana, Ill., where he formerly lived. He was father of former Senator Carter of Montana.

THE REV. EDWARD V. BOURSARD of Fredericksburg, Va., died there yesterday. He was formerly President of Boston College.

BLAZING SHIP IS DRIVEN ASHORE.

British Queen, Burned in Hoboken Pier Fire, Menaces New York Water Front.

BREAKS LOOSE FROM TUG.

Flames Spring Up Anew and Threaten to Spread to the Wharves and Factories.

ARMS FOR BOERS IN CARGO.

New York, March 19.—[Special.]—The steamer British Queen, which was burned in the Hoboken pier fire on Tuesday night, was driven ashore by the wind at 6 o'clock this evening while being towed to the Morse iron works in South Brooklyn, off the Thirty-ninth street ferry. Shortly afterward it began to blaze.

The factories on shore in the vicinity were afraid the sparks might start another water front fire. At midnight firemen were on the Bush and Jones piers ready for an emergency.

The Thirty-ninth street ferry stopped running at 7 o'clock because the pilots could not see their way in the smoke.

Two Dead in Pier Fire.

Only two deaths in the Hoboken pier fire have been reported. Patrick Hussey of Hoboken, one of the six longshoremen burned, died this morning at St. Mary's Hospital in that city, and the police reported that Thomas J. Cooney, a fireman on the fireboat Seth Low, was drowned while helping extinguish a blazing lighter off Governor's Island. Several longshoremen are said to be missing. None of the other persons burned will die. The property loss is variously placed at from $750,000 to $1,500,000, but it is probably much nearer the former than the latter figure.

Guns for Boers in Cargo.

In the course of the fire several small explosions were heard. Some are said to have been on the burning steamer British Queen and others were on the pier among the merchandise which, it was said, was to form part of the British Queen's cargo.

Today a large number of cartridges and shells, some of the latter empty and some loaded, were found on the approach to the burned pier. There were also a half-dozen Krag-Jorgensen rifles and some shotguns. A report spread that the guns and munitions of war were to have been shipped by this British ship to the Boers.

Superintendent Mason of the pier declared he knew nothing of the guns or the ammunition. At the office of the agents of the line it was said positively the British Queen was not to carry anything of the kind.

The fact remains that the ammunition and guns were on the pier.

Thrilling Escape of Engineer.

Chief Engineer Robert Scott of the British Queen, who was thought to be lost, turned up today, and he told a dramatic story of his escape from the burning ship. He retired to his room on the ship early on Tuesday night. When the smoke and noise aroused him everybody else on the ship, as far as he knew, had left it. He was driven back from the companion way leading to the deck several times, but finally got through.

On deck he noticed a Belgian, a member of the crew, who seemed to be in trouble, and he called to him to follow him. The man paid no attention to him. Scott says he dropped overboard holding on to a rope. He swam to a lighter and climbed aboard. He says he sank unconscious on the deck of the lighter, and staid there until he was aroused again by smoke and flames. He then discovered the lighter was on fire.

Jumping overboard again, he made his way to the steamer Heathburn, which had been hauled out into the stream, and, catching the rudder, hung on forty-five minutes. He finally attracted the attention of a sailor and was hauled aboard. Scott was badly burned.

Seek Cause of Fire.

The police and fire departments of Hoboken were busy today trying to find out the cause of the fire. They denounced as groundless the story that some of the British Queen's men had started it to "get even" with some of the officers. Late this afternoon they were well satisfied it was caused by electric light wires.

COSTLY FIRE AT MARISSA.

Illinois Town Loses Two Business Blocks and Property Valued at $80,000.

Marissa, Ill., March 19.—[Special.]—A fire which started in a barber shop here about 12 o'clock last night destroyed two blocks valued at about $80,000. There is about $50,000 of insurance on the property destroyed.

The property burned was all north of the railroad track, as follows: The Commercial Hotel, conducted by Angus Dupree; C. Wilson's millinery store; Lyons & White's drug store, jewelry store, and lumber yard; Philip Mengs' barber shop, John Evans & Son's butcher shop, Roy Hissong's barber shop, Angus Dupree's livery stable and two horses, Knights of Pythias Hall, Marissa Bank, owned by A. J. Hamilton & Co., who claim that their books and money in the bank vault are safe.

No one was injured, but Alexander Stewart, who sleeps in his furniture store, was roused with difficulty before the flames reached him.

BIG FIRE LOSS AT FORT WAYNE.

Stores in Business Center of Indiana City Burned and Surrounding Property Damaged.

Fort Wayne, Ind., March 19.—[Special.]—Fire originating in a rubbish burner today caused a loss of between $150,000 and $200,000 in the five-story building at Calhoun and Washington streets, owned by Louis Fox. The blaze was discovered shortly after noon and it was not until 9 o'clock tonight that it was under control.

Fireman William Hensel fell from a ladder and was probably fatally injured. The loss is chiefly on stocks, as only the two first floors of the building were burned.

The loss on the building is $20,000, fully covered by insurance. Soliday & Hite's loss is $33,000, with $20,000 insurance, and the Armstrong millinery company's loss is placed at $75,000, with $67,000 insurance. Jacobs' loss is heavy. Many adjoining buildings were damaged by fire and water.

RIOTING FRESHMEN ARE SHOT.

Students at Muskingum College Interrupt Sophomore Banquet and Two Are Wounded.

Zanesville, O., March 19.—While the members of the freshmen class were raising a disturbance and destroying property outside the house of Mrs. M. E. Crisswell, where the sophomores of Muskingum College were holding a banquet, Mrs. Crisswell's 12-year-old son, James, opened fire on the crowd outside from an up-stairs window, seriously wounding Floyd Kramer of Lebanon, O., and slightly wounding Mark Roy of New Concord.

Porto Rico Gives to McKinley Fund.

Cleveland, O., March 19.—Porto Ricans have contributed to the McKinley national memorial the sum of $1,497. Governor Hunt asked some one in each town to receive the funds, and no contribution was to be over 10 cents.

MOTHER LOSES HER SAVINGS RESCUING CHILD FROM FIRE.

Forgets a Roll of Bills in Anxiety to Get Baby Out of Burning Building and Money Is Destroyed by Flames.

A mother's frantic haste to save her 1-year-old baby from a fire cost Mrs. James Jordan, 5537 Kimbark avenue, all her savings, amounting to over $100. Flames threatened her home last evening, and Mrs. Jordan rescued her child, but neglected to carry out a roll of bills hidden in a dresser. When the firemen fought their way to the room a half hour later the furniture was a mass of ashes and the money destroyed.

The fire started, according to Mrs. Jordan, from a lamp which her baby pulled over. The mother found the blaze shooting up to the ceiling and the front of her infant's dress on fire. Quickly extinguishing the flames in the child's clothing with her hands, Mrs. Jordan took the baby and rushed to the street. There she thought of her money and called for help. By the time the neighbors reached the spot the fire had gained so much headway they could not enter the room where the money was concealed.

The house was an old frame structure standing on the alley at the rear of the lot. It was owned by James Jordan, who lived with his family on the second floor. His loss was about $1,000, with little insurance. T. J. Taylor, living on the first floor, suffered a loss of $400, fully covered by insurance.

Joseph Poganski, 8714 Houston avenue, South Chicago, mourns the loss of $6,000, which he declares he took from its hiding place yesterday morning to deposit in a bank. The sum represents the savings of years. Poganski, who is employed by the Illinois Steel company, carried the money with him in the morning, and shortly before noon hung his coat, in which the wallet rested, behind the kitchen door. When he put on the coat and started to the bank he could not find the money. He notified the police of the loss. He thinks he misplaced the cash.

PRAISE BY ANSON AND HART.

New York, March 19.—[Special.]—Thomas E. Burns, manager of the Jersey City Baseball club, was found dead in bed this morning at the home of P. T. Powers, President of the Eastern league, in Jersey City. A physician who was called said death was due to heart disease. Burns came to New York from Springfield on Wednesday in order to be in closer touch with his team. He complained of being ill, and at the invitation of Mr. Powers went to the Powers home, where he remained. Tuesday night he said he felt better than he had for some time.

His wife, who was Miss Margaret Walsh of Springfield, Mass., and a son survive him.

Thomas Everett Burns was born in Holmesdale, Pa., March 30, 1857. While he was still a boy his parents moved to New Britain, Conn., where, as a lad, he began playing baseball on the crack amateur teams of that section. In 1876, when he was 19 years old, he began his career as a professional player. His first engagement was with the Providence team, and he was then an outfielder and change catcher, where alternating behind the bat he caught Ned Hanlon, who was then coming into prominence as a pitcher.

First Trial at Third Base.

Near the close of that season his manager put Burns at third base, and he played there under protest for two weeks. Rather than continue at the position where he afterward became famous he quit the team at the end of the year and went to Auburn, N. Y., to play the outfield. In 1878 Burns went to Hornellsville in the old International league and the following year he played with Dunlap and Hanlon on the then famous Albany (N. Y.) team. It was there he make the reputation which brought him to Chicago in 1880.

Burns came to Chicago as a shortstop, and in that year took his place in the most famous group of players ever organized—the "stonewall infield" of the old White Stockings. It was this quartet of infielders whose names are known wherever baseball is played today which did so much toward winning the National league pennant three times in succession. Burns, Williamson, Pfeffer, and Anson, along with their batteries—Flint, "King" Kelly, Corcoran, and Clarkson—were the first combination to delevop team play to anything like its present-day height in skill and science. They played the game with their brains, and each vied with the other in thinking out and executing trick plays to catch their opponents napping. Some of the plays still used most effectively were originated by these men, and they were the first to introduce the long familiar fashion of throwing the ball around the infield for practice while the catcher was putting on his mask.

Trades Places with Williamson.

Foremost of these brainy players was Tom Burns, who shot into immediate popularity with the public and his associates. He was kept at shortstop until 1885, when the club moved from the lake front to the old Congress street grounds. In that year Burns changed places with Williamson, and it was then that he attained his greatest reputation as a player. He became unquestionably the greatest third baseman of his time, and there are many who maintain for all time. With his quick grasping of an opportunity, his nerve and fearlessness, ably seconded by the greatest of catchers, so many opposing base-runners were caught stealing or napping at third that the players feared to leave the base while there for fear of being caught.

This combination was effectually broken up by the brotherhood war, in which Burns was the only one to stick to Captain Anson and the club. He became Anson's right-hand man and chief adviser, and when he contracted a fever early in the spring of 1892 at Hot Springs which promised to keep him out of the game for the season, he was kept on the team, although he never wore a uniform, and merely "used his head" from the bench. Early in that campaign, however, the Pittsburg club, which needed a manager, bid high for his release, and, because it promised better things for him, the club allowed him to go. But the Pirates were an ungovernable lot that year, and Burns found the press arrayed against him.

Success at Springfield.

In 1893 he became manager of the Springfield (Mass.) team of the Eastern league, a position which he filled successfully for five seasons, winning the pennant in '95, and never being out of the race. Upon the expiration of Anson's contract with the Chicago club in '98 Burns was made manager of his old team, and in the first year raised the playing standard so that it climbed from ninth to fourth place in the league race. The following year he was less successful, and was succeeded in '99 by Loftus. Burns returned to his home, which was then at Springfield, and managed the Eastern league team there in 1900. Last year that franchise was awarded to Buffalo, and for a part of the year Burns managed the team under the late James P. Franklin. This year he was awarded the Jersey City franchise by the Eastern league, and had his team practically completed at the time of his death.

As a manager Burns brought out such star players as Jimmy Callahan, Fielder Jones, now of the new White Stockings, Walter Woods, and Dick Harley. Burns was known as the most temperate of ball players, and never drank or smoked. He was always popular with his teammates and later with the players under him, but his own exemplary habits and honesty toward his employers made it difficult for him to realize the necessity of strict and sometimes harsh disciplinary measures. To this fact is generally attributed his failure to fulfill as a manager the great promises indicated by his success as a player and field general.

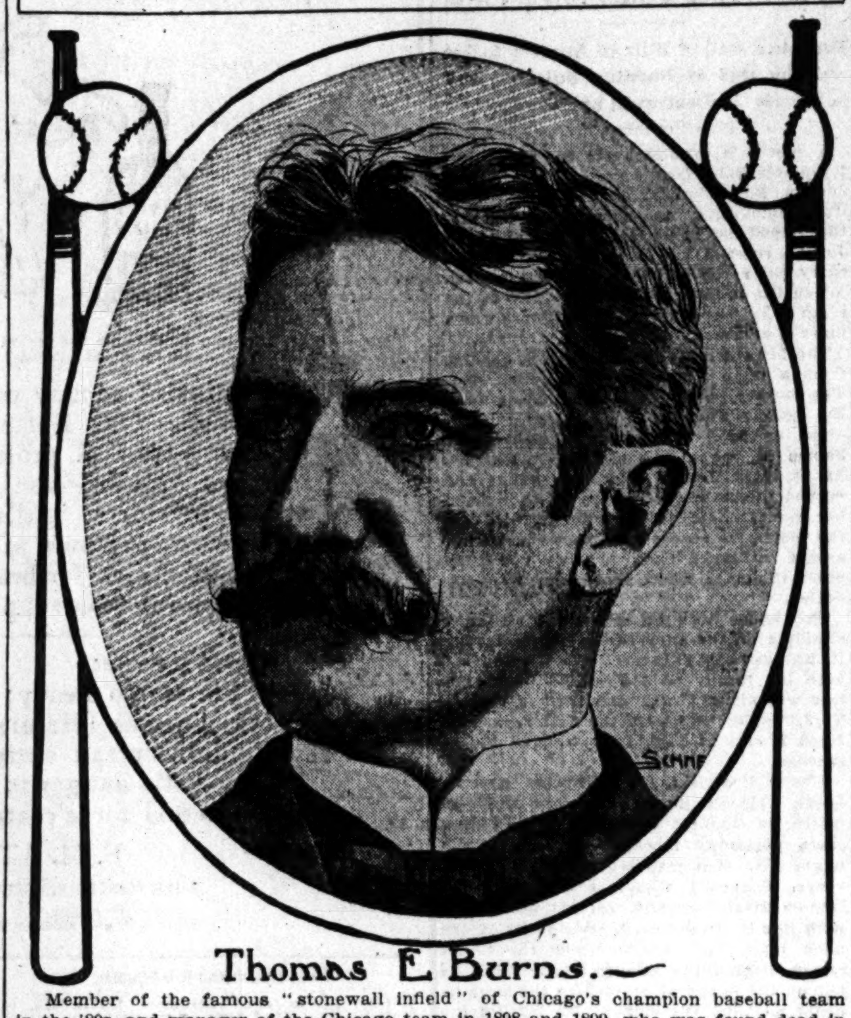
Seven of a Famous Team Are Dead.

His death removes one more from the great coterie of Chicago players of the early '80s. Williamson, his side partner for so many years, went before him. So have Kelly, Flint, Corcoran, Larkin, and Sutcliffe. Less than half of the members of that aggregation are left. They are Anson, Quest, and Pfeffer, who are engaged in business in Chicago now; Goldsmith, who is running a truck farm near Detroit; Clarkson, who is living in Bay City, Mich.; Gore, who is in New York; and Dalrymple, who is in the railroad business up in Minnesota.

Captain Anson paid his former lieutenant a high tribute in a few words yesterday when informed of his death: "He was a fine fellow and popular wherever he went," he said, "but it was not alone his personality that made him so. He was a great player and a man who was a credit to the game in every way, and that had much to do with his popularity. In that trip of ours around the world in '88 he was the life of the party and, as always, made friends everywhere we stopped. I was deeply pained to learn of his death."

President Hart, who came to Chicago when Burns was at the height of his career, said: "He was one of the greatest ball players that ever lived and one of the most popular as well. He was exemplary in his habits and stood stanchly by the league in its darkest days. Burns never signed a contract with us while a player. His word was as good as a bond. I remember when he went to Pittsburg his contract with that club was extremely brief, but it held when he carried it into the courts to collect his salary."

THOMAS E. BURNS, WHO DIED YESTERDAY.



Thomas E. Burns.—

Member of the famous "stonewall infield" of Chicago's champion baseball team in the '80s, and manager of the Chicago team in 1898 and 1899, who was found dead in bed at the home of P. T. Powers, in Jersey City, yesterday morning.

INTRUSIVE'S DEFEAT A BLOW.

Owners' Handicap at New Orleans Looks Like a Caucus Affair—Nomination Made Unanimous.

New Orleans, La., March 19.—[Special.]—The defeat of Intrusive in the Owners' Handicap today was a severe blow to the public. The conditions of the race called for a journey of a mile and seventy yards. Intrusive was ridden by Slack and was always at odds on. The form players and the public backed him, while the wise ones pinned their faith to Felix Bard. The last named was first at the finish by a neck from Tom Kingsley after a mild drive, which lasted all the last furlong. Intrusive neither looked nor ran as he has in his previous races. To sum the race up in a few words: the wise ones played Felix Bard and they cashed.

CRUZADOS WILL COME HERE.

Derby Candidate to Leave Coast for Chicago Next Month—Several Close Finishes at Oakland.

San Francisco, Cal., March 19.—[Special.]—Dan Honing's Antolee at 40 to 1 came within a nose of beating Princess Titania, the odds-on favorite, in the second race at Oakland this afternoon. Barney Schreiber's Deutschland captured the 2-year-old race in the last stride from Maxnic, a highly tried youngster from the Burns & Waterhouse stable.

The Klickitat Handicap at a mile resulted in the easiest kind of a victory for Watercure, who was 8 to 5 in the betting instead of 1 to 2. Green B. Morris also had his colors carried to the front by Old England, one of the speediest 3-year-olds racing in California. He fairly ran away from his field.

Trainer Spier of the Baldwin stable will ship Cruzados, his American Derby candidate, to Chicago some time next month. The colt may not win the coveted event, but he can be relied upon to outlook any starter.

SOME GOOD WORK AT MEMPHIS.

Barouche and Flora Pomona Do Clever Miles—Memnon Tires at Five Furlongs.

Memphis, Tenn., March 19.—[Special.]—Barouche, McCorkle & Mahone's Montgomery Handicap candidate, accomplished the best work during the morning trials at Montgomery Park today. With light weight up Barouche ran a handy mile in 1:44¼.

Silurian, Pat Dunne's handicap reliance, worked a mile with Henry Zitt, an American Derby entry, and finished in front in 1:46. Emathion and Memnon, also American Derby candidates from Dunne's barn, went five furlongs in 1:04, Memnon barely lasting until the finish.

Nellie Waddell disposed of Malay, from Thomas Carey's stable, after finishing five furlongs in better than 1:05.

Charles W. Meyer and Flora Pomona, from the Schorr string, did six furlongs in 1:18, Flora Pomona going on a mile in 1:45½ so handily that her owner may send her for the Arkansas Derby.

Among the 2-year-olds, Pearl Mendal, W. L. Lansing's imp. Likely filly, did the best work, closely followed by Rainey C. Both accomplished half miles in less than :51.

Alan-a-Dale was on the track for the first time in several days and was only galloped. Cambrian and Caviar were breezed, the former doing six furlongs in 1:22 and Caviar the same distance in 1:20. Neither Caviar nor Cambrian is a likely starter in the Montgomery Handicap.

No Poolselling at Atlanta.

Atlanta, Ga., March 19.—The City Council has refused to permit poolselling at Piedmont Park. Joe Ullman and A. E. Wall of Hot Springs, Ark., recently took a five years' lease on the track for a winter running meeting, conditional upon bookmaking being allowed.

ARMS WINS FROM HARRIS

TIE RESULTS IN THE CLASS A THREE-CUSHION TOURNAMENT.

Exciting Contest Is Finally Lost by the Leader by a Score of 50 to 47—Will Meet Again Tonight to Settle the Dispute for First Prize—Willie Hoppe, More Skillful but No Bigger than Last Year, Begins a Match Against Alex. Taylor.

Frank Arms last night defeated James Shea, who plays under the name of "Harris," in the final regular game in Mussey's class A, three-cushion carom tourney, thereby tying Harris for first money. The score was 50 to 47.

Arms banked for the opening shot with seven games won and two lost, against Harris' eight victories and one losing game. A defeat for Arms meant a tie for second, third, and fourth moneys with Riley and Avery. This naturally added more than usual interest in the game, which was by far the closest throughout of any in the tourney. The game, principally because of the numerous safety plays, the hairbreadth misses, and the nervousness of the contestants, was slow, it taking Arms 117 innings to click off his required fifty points.

Quite a number of brilliant shots were executed by both men. The best and the one that brought cheers from the crowd was Harris' thirty-fifth carom, a difficult four-cushion bank. Arms was in the lead but once in the first 110 innings, and that was in the sixtieth inning, when his string showed twenty-three to Harris' twenty-two. He played a good uphill game, especially in his laft half, when he was nine points to the bad.

Harris' electrifying bank shot apparently took all the play out of him, as he made but one carom in the ten innings following and but three in twenty essays. Arms in the meantime gathered fifteen, leaving him trailing by but two. Harris made five to Arms' seven in the next ten innings, which tied them at forty-seven. With but three to go the crucial test came, and safety plays were numerous. Neither would take a chance to split the ivories out. Harris, with an apparent easy bank in sight, went after it, missed, and left a natural, which netted Arms two. Several more safety shots followed, and an across-the-table attempt by Harris left another natural, which Arms clicked off and won the game.

The play-off for first money will take place tonight.

Following is the score, every ten innings, from the thirtieth, at which the men were tied at thirteen:

	30.	40.	50.	60.	70.	80.	90.	100.	110.	117.

Willie Hoppe, the boy billiard marvel, began a match against Alexander Taylor at Bensinger's billiard hall yesterday afternoon and finished 300 points while Taylor was making 176. The "kid" averaged 9 3-33 and his high run was 66. Hoppe has improved, apparently, since he was seen here a year ago, and many are confident he is the coming world's champion. He has not, however, yet learned to play without getting on the table, as, in fact, he could not well do as he is yet far too small. He seems to have grown scarcely at all since last seen here. Hoppe and Taylor are engaged in a 1,200 point match, the boy conceding Taylor 300 points. Three hundred points will be played each afternoon.

In Schaefer's three-cushion tournament last night H. Hoffmann defeated A. Hoffmann by a score of 50 to 43. The winner made a high run of six and the loser one of four. Tonight Glickauf will meet Chandler.

PROMISE OF MANY JUMPERS.

Secretary Nathanson Returns from the East with Assurances of Steeplechasers from That Section.

Secretary Martin Nathanson of the Harlem Jockey club returned yesterday from his Eastern trip in search of steeplechase entries, and is enthusiastic over the prospects for the jumping game at the Hawthorne and Harlem courses the coming season.

Some of those who promised support for Chicago's two steeplechase coures were Robert Neville, Charlottesville, Va.; R. Oulaney, Washington, D. C.; R. G. Fell and W. K. Levering, both of Baltimore; Charles W. Smith, Robert Wallack, William Garth, and C. M. Harris, all Virginians; John D. Hooe; J. W. Colt, Genesee Valley, N. Y.; and the Goughacre Stable, owned by B. F. Clyde and managed by W. F. Presgrave.

Donlin in the County Jail Nine.

Baltimore, Md., March 19.—Michael Donlin, the baseball player, today pleaded guilty to two indictments charging him with assaulting and striking Miss Minnie Fields, an actress, and Ernest M. Slayton in front of a local theater on the night of March 12. He was sentenced to serve six months in jail and to pay a fine of $250. Donlin, in his behalf, said he remembered nothing of the assault, as he was intoxicated at the time. The assault caused his dismissal from the Baltimore club.

Ball Team Selected for Princeton.

Princeton, N. J., March 19.—[Special.]—Princeton's baseball squad was reduced this morning to twenty-four. This is the last reduction that will be made. Those retained were: Green, catcher; Newman, Stevens, Underhill, and Kafer, pitchers; Pearson, McClave, Langdon, Meier, Sheffield, Roys, Clark, Forsythe, Preston, Purnell, Sousa, Delaney, and Wells, infielders, and Brown, Amelie, Cosgrove, Davis, Denison, and Freeman, outfielders. The opening game will be with Rutgers here on Saturday.

Gilbert Leads at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 19.—Fred Gilbert of Spirit Lake, Ia., was high gun with 141 out of a possible 150 in ten fifteen-target events at the Limited Gun club tournament today. Ed Rike of Dayton, O., was second with 140.

Kittanning Brick in The Tribune Building.

Recent demonstrations have proven to the satisfaction of its constructors that the elements will be a valuable assistant in keeping the exterior of the new Tribune Building clean and bright. Immediately after the recent rain-storm many of the thousands of people who have watched the gray skyscraper at Dearborn and Madison streets rise to its lofty height noticed that the north front seemed to have a much cleaner and more attractive appearance than the Dearborn street side, and looked to the eye as if it had been thoroughly washed down. And that is just what had been done to it, though not by any artists who hang to the walls on belts and strap and use sponges saturated with ammonia and water, but by the driving rain that beat against the surface. According to Mr. R. M. Combs, this result can be attributed to but one fact—the quality of the brick. As the Thomas Molding company, of which he is the managing representative, has furnished this class of the material used in the structure, Mr. Combs relates the incident with manifest sentiments of pride. In speaking of it yesterday, he said: "Having seen the rain's good work, I met William Holabird of Holabird & Roche, the architects, and asked him whether he had noticed anything peculiar about the north end of the building that morning. 'Nothing more than its clean appearance,' was his reply, and when I told him of the agent that had cleaned it he was agreeably surprised and exclaimed: 'For goodness sake go and pray for another such rain against the west wall!' This is only additional proof of the wisdom of using the best brick made in a building erected to last, especially in Chicago, where the flying dirt particles stick to and work into the ordinary brick and stay there. This sort of thing will never happen to the brick work in The Tribune Building, and for the reason that the surface is so hard dirt cannot adhere to it against water. Our company furnished the bricks in the walls from its yard at Kittanning, Pa. They are known as the Kittanning gray brick, and as to quality they are the very hardest brick made. Their stability was submitted to the severest test known by the architects before these bricks were accepted. By reason of the fact that stone is the principal substance employed in their manufacture, the bricks not only have that flinty facing but are of the same hardness through and through." Approximately 200,000 of these gray bricks have been used in the walls of The Tribune Building. The same firm is also furnishing the enameled Tiffany brick that are going into the finishing of the court and hallways.—Advertisement.

YANGER TO MEET TERRY M'GOVERN

TO FIGHT AT LOUISVILLE.

NEW CLUB ON THE WEST SIDE

New York, March 19.—[Special.]—Sam Harris announced this afternoon he had decided to match Terry McGovern against Benny Yanger, the Chicago crack featherweight, to battle some time in May. Harris said the battle would probably take place at Louisville or at Chicago if Yanger did not want to box more than six rounds. This evidently means that McGovern will not go to England to fight Ben Jordan during coronation week.

John Hertz, Yanger's manager, said last night that Yanger would meet McGovern in Louisville, and that the plans for the fight were practically made just after the Sullivan-McGovern fight in Louisville. The fight, Hertz said, would be twenty rounds, and the weights would be 122 pounds at 3 o'clock, 124 pounds at 6 o'clock, or 126 pounds at ringside, as McGovern preferred.

PUT OFF ERNE-GARDNER FIGHT.

Seventh Regiment Refuses Use of Armory—Will Meet at Brand's Hall Tomorrow Night.

[BY GEORGE SILER.]

Colonel D. Moriarty of the Seventh Regiment called a halt to the Wabash Athletic club's show, which was scheduled to take place at the Wabash Avenue Armory last night. Reports as to the stoppage of boxing entertainments differed somewhat. The club management says it had a lease on the building permitting it to pull off four shows a month; that it was not notified its lease or contract had been canceled, and was dumfounded when informed yesterday morning it could not have the building. Colonel Moriarty, on the other hand, says the managers of the club were notified over a week ago that no more boxing shows would be permitted in the armory.

However, the club, which had for its attraction Frank Erne and Gus Gardner, postponed its show to tomorrow night, when it hopes to pull it off at Brand's Hall, on North Clark street.

Johnny McInerney, well known in sporting and political circles, is organizing an athletic club on the West Side with the object of pulling off big boxing entertainments on that side of the river. McInerney has laid his wires carefully and when he gets ready to pull them will spring a surprise on the downtown fight promoters. Johnny has a large building in view, which he says he can lease, and hopes to bring Joe Walcott and Frank Childs together for his grand opener. Childs and Walcott are willing and are waiting to hear from John.

Young Kid McCoy and Young Sweeney will box the windup at the show to be given by the Cloud Court Athletic club, 108 Fifty-seventh place, tonight. Other bouts will be between Kid Wallace and an unknown, and Kid Henry and Billie Burns.

The America Athletic club completed the program yesterday for its Monday night's show, the novelty of which will be a military mêlée—a battle between four expert swordsmen. The card in full follows: Military mêlée; Jim Grover vs. Tony Cauponi, 145 pounds; Johnny Kelly vs. "Dusty" Miller, 110 pounds ringside; "Shorty" Ahearn vs. Jimmy Dewar, catchweights; and the windup between Joe Choynski and "Kid" Carter.

Tom Couhig, who defeated Matty Mathews at Hot Springs recently, arrived in Chicago yesterday on his way home to Dunkirk, N. Y. Couhig denies he weighed 150 pounds when he met Mathews, as stated by the latter, and says he can scale 136 pounds easily, at which weight he is anxious to meet Martin Duffy or any one else. Tom was accompanied by his manager, James Kenney, and intended to leave last night, but he received an offer from a Louisville club to fight Duffy at 138 pounds within three weeks and concluded to postpone his trip for at least twenty-four hours to consult Martin regarding the offer.

JEFF THREATENS TO "QUIT."

Champion Sends Word to Fitzsimmons That the Latter Must Come to Terms Today.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 19.—[Special.]—James Jeffries tonight declared that Fitzsimmons must come to terms tomorrow regarding the bids for the fight or he would declare negotiations off and quit training. Jeff has kept the wires burning tonight trying to reach an agreement with the Cornishman to have the contest in Los Angeles, but has been unable to do so. The champion is incensed at the position Fitzsimmons is taking.

Fighter May Lose an Ear.

Savannah, Ga., March 19.—Tommy Corcoran of Savannah and Jack Grace of New York met before the Savannah Athletic club tonight. The fight was all in Corcoran's favor until the middle of the sixth round, when he held up his hands and quit. His left ear was hanging by a bare shred of skin. It had been practically stripped off. Corcoran was taken to a hospital and the ear sewed on, but it is feared he will lose it.

O'Brien Knocks Out Denfass.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 19.—"Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien knocked out Ed Denfass tonight at the Penn Athletic club in the fifth round. The bout was all in O'Brien's favor. In the third round he floored Denfass.

Ryan to Fight Gorman in London.

Kansas City, Mo., March 19.—[Special.]—Tommy Ryan today accepted the offer of the National Sporting club of London to fight Johnny Gorman during the coronation fistic carnival for a purse of $5,000.

Erne and McFadden Matched.

Louisville, Ky., March 19.—Frank Erne of Buffalo and George McFadden of New York have signed to fight before the Southern Athletic club of this city on April 14.

TROUBLE FOR ST. LOUIS CLUB.

Mayor Refuses Permit for Wooden Grand Stand and Season's Opening May Be Necessarily Postponed.

St. Louis, Mo., March 19.—The refusal of Mayor Wells to sign the permit for the erection of a wooden grand stand at Athletic Park has placed the American league club of St. Louis in a serious predicament, which the introduction of a bill into the City Council last night will only partially relieve. In the ordinary run of affairs it will require several weeks for the ordinance to pass, and this delay will prevent the erection of a grand stand in time for the opening date, April 23. The only alternative will be to make use of the present grand stand or postpone the opening of the season here.

PURPLE'S FIRST BALL GAME.

Hollister's Nine Loses to a Team of Minor League Professionals—Field Is Damp.

Northwestern University played and lost its first baseball game of the season yesterday. With a damp field and chilling atmosphere, Dr. Hollister's recruits battled for nine full innings with the professionals of the "Three Eyes" league and were defeated by a score of 16 to 5. At the conclusion of the game Hollister said he was pleased with the work of his men.

In fielding the professionals were little better than the collegians, but in hitting they were far superior, and their victory was easy. Stewart kept the varsity hits scattered in all but the sixth inning, when a combination of hits and errors netted the university three runs. Score:

BERLIN, March 19.—It is stated that a credit of 40,000 marks will be submitted to the Reichstag to enable German athletes to compete in the Olympian games at Chicago in 1904.

GAMES IN BOWLING LEAGUE.

Standards Win Three from the Mechanics and Hofmanns Twice Defeat Thompson's Colts.

Brilliant bowling was seen in the Chicago league last night, the games being some of the best of the season. It was the last appearance of the four teams, and three of them averaged over 970 and the fourth 913. The Standards won three games from the Mechanics and will finish third. Brill's men had to travel fast to beat Thompson's Colts, but averaged 982 2-3 and took two games. Taylor of the Colts averaged 236, Jones of the Hofmanns 223 1-3, and Canfield of the Standards 218 2-3. The scores:

Notes of Sport.

Dr. Hanna, who for a number of years has been prominent in local bowling circles, left last night for Mass, Mich., where he will locate.

Sheridan league bowlers will hold an entertainment and dance at the clubhouse on Saturday night, at which the prizes won in the tournament will be distributed.

A handicap pingpong tournament will be played tonight at Calumet Hall, Sixty-third street and Stony Island avenue. Several of the best players in the city have entered.

I Will Cure You of RHEUMATISM
No Pay Until You Know It.

After 2,000 experiments, I have learned how to cure Rheumatism. Not to turn bony joints into flesh again; that is impossible. But I can cure the disease always, at any stage, and forever.

I ask for no money. Simply write me a postal and I will send you an order on your nearest druggist for six botttles of Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure, for every druggist keeps it. Use it for a month, and if it does what I claim pay your druggist $5.50 for it. If it doesn't, I will pay him myself.

I have no samples. Any medicine that can affect Rheumatism with but a few doses must be drugged to the verge of danger. I use no such drugs. It is folly to take them. You must get the disease out of the blood.

My remedy does that, even in the most difficult, obstinate cases. No matter how impossible this seems to you, I know it and I take the risk. I have cured tens of thousands of cases in this way, and my records show that 39 out of 40 who get those six bottles pay, and gladly. I have learned that people in general are honest with a physician who cures them. That is all I ask. If I fail I don't expect a penny from you.

Simply write me a postal card or letter. Let me send you an order for the medicine; also a book. Take it for a month, for it won't harm you anyway. If it cures, pay $5.50. I leave that entirely to you. Address Dr. Shoop, Box 670, Racine, Wis.

Mild cases, not chronic, are often cured by one or two bottles. At all druggists.

Col. Myers, After being Cured of Rheumatism by Whitehall Rheumatic Cure, Runs Like a Deer.

Col. Meyers is the grand old patriot of "The Hub" clothing store. He is 60 years old. After many years' siege of the disease, he says he can run like a deer.

Regards WHITEHALL'S RHEUMATIC CURE as a wonder of medical science, and is happy to express himself regarding it.

ONLY ONE OF THOUSANDS

DR. S. WHITEHALL,
The Eminent Rheumatism Specialist.

In part he writes thus:

"Your capsuleoids are grand, and, to say the least, they cap the climax. I have to take the elevated to my house, and it used to take me a long time, and often I would miss my train and have to wait for another. Now I can run up like a deer. I have tried many other kinds of medicine, but yours takes the cake. I am over 60 years of age."

Similar letters are received every day and indicate the same help at hand to all sufferers. Whitehall Rheumatic Cure has accomplished more in behalf of suffering Rheumatics than any other medicine in the history of medical science.

Realize what this means to you.

It will relieve you of all the aches and pains. It does not matter whether you have Inflammatory, Muscular, or Articular Rheumatism, this remedy, if taken as directed, will give instant relief and effect an early and permanent cure.

Relief in 60 minutes and entire comfort in two hours absolutely guaranteed.

On general sale at as 50c To be had at almost any drug store.

If not found in drug store in your vicinity send 50c direct to Dr. S. Whitehall, South Bend, Ind. It will be mailed to you, postage paid.

DYSPEPSIA.

Geo. S. Scally of 75 Nassau St., New York, says: "For years I have been troubled with rheumatism and dyspepsia, and I came to the conclusion to try your pills. I immediately found great relief from their use; I feel like a new man since I commenced taking them, and would not now be without them. The drowsy, sleepy feeling I used to have has entirely disappeared. The dyspepsia has left me and my rheumatism is gone entirely. I am satisfied if any one so afflicted will give Radway's Pills a trial they will surely cure them, for I believe it all comes from the system being out of order—the liver not doing its work."

CORNWALLIS

Descended from an old cavalier family—distinguished for personal valor at the field of Minden. Defeated the American Revolutionary Army in many pitched battles, but was himself vanquished and finally captured at Yorktown by Washington.

He afterwards looted Bangalore in India, seized half the Kingdom of Tippoo Sultan, and crushed the Irish Rebellion of 1798. He drank good whiskey all the days of his manhood and died at three score years and ten.

OLD UNDEROOF RYE

is the whiskey of a conquering nation. It comes from the purest waters and the finest grains grown under a health streaming sun. It is made in the good old way that has stood the test of time. It is aged by perfect storage in heavily charred oaken barrels which gives to it that unforgettable flavor and quality that has won its way in all the first-class buffets of Chicago and its environs for a thousand miles.

The Morning's Mourning

As George Ade says, in his new opera, "Ki-Ram:"

"It is no time for mirth and laughter
"The cold gray dawn of the morning after."

A fur overcoat on your tongue; "hair on your teeth;" a taste "as if a cat had littered in your mouth;" nerves a-tremble; aching hair; a "bust-head of splitting agony;" appetite—none; movement of the bowels—not a sign; present (unwelcome visitor), Gen. R. E. Morse. Never do it again, eh? Oh yes, you will. Remember

"The Devil was sick; the Devil a monk would be,
"The Devil got well; the Devil a monk was he," and a Cascaret three times on the day of misery will make you well. But, for goodness sake, be wise, up to the century, and the next time you go out with the boys, eat too much, drink too much, irritate your stomach, block your bowels, don't forget that you can prevent the "morning's mourning" by taking a Cascaret Candy Cathartic before you go to bed. They work while you sleep and make you awake bright as a new dollar in the morning. Always carry a box in your pocket, and have another on your dresser and another on your night table. Also one

"In your grip—on a trip,"

CRUTCH-BOUND

The crutch is a poor substitute for legs, and affords a very inconvenient and tiresome mode of locomotion—there is no more pathetic sight than a person slowly and painfully moving along the street supported by these artificial limbs.

When Rheumatism settles in the bones and muscles of the legs, it is safe to predict that the victim will eventually become helpless and crutch-bound. The corrosive irritating matter that is deposited in the joints and muscles causes the most intense pain, the knees and ankles swell, and when the natural oils and fluids that lubricate these parts are completely destroyed the joints become locked and the muscles drawn and stiff, and crutches a necessity.

The acid poisons that produce rheumatic pains form in the blood, and are distributed through the system, and lodged in the arms, shoulders, hands, back and feet, or other parts of the body—resulting often in total disability. A permanent cure of Rheumatism can be effected only by a complete cleansing of the blood, and no other remedy so surely accomplishes this as S. S. S. It neutralizes the acid effects, purifies and invigorates the stagnant blood, and the gritty corrupt particles are washed out or dislodged by the new rich blood, and relief comes to the pain-racked sufferer. S. S. S. leaves no morbid, irritating matter in the blood to reunite and produce another attack, but expels every atom of it from the system. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable remedy, and does not impair the digestion or general health like alkali or potash remedies.

Mandel's Daily Store News.

Careful attention given to mail orders..

Special points of interest in Mandel's store.

Our spacious daylight rug section is replete with the choicest products from all the rug-making centers of the world, affording a most varied and extensive selection. The showing is extremely interesting, and the low prices quoted are due to purchasing direct and in enormous quantities.

Weather indications: Fair and moderate.

Thursday, March 20th, 1902.

Our prestige as merchants has been gained neither solely by the invariably high quality of our goods nor alone by the low prices which uniformly prevail. It is a matter both of quality and price. By rigidly insisting upon high standards of excellence for every article sold in this store and by steadily offering this superior merchandise at the very lowest price compatible with its intrinsic worth, we have created for Mandel Brothers an unique place in the mercantile world. This store does not limit itself to catering to any one social class, but strives to serve all classes equally well. "Exclusive merchandise at popular prices" is with us no idle boast; the slogan states an accomplished fact. Critical shoppers find here as nowhere else that rare union of economy with quality whose attainment is the triumph of the most progressive storekeeping methods.

Our superb exposition of modish Easter millinery.

Many of the hats which comprise our brilliant galaxy of new millinery modes are the work of the great Paris houses of Berthe, Caroline Reboux, Carlier, Virot, Marecot, Touvet, Georgette, Camille Roger and other equally refulgent stars of the millinery world whose every effort is an original artistic creation.

Fitted to set off the charms of a superbly attired woman is a Caroline Reboux model of bluet tinted straw, with a triple cape falling from the back of bluets, pink roses and cornflowers.

From Virot—A white and black Virot confection has a ruching of maline and a cherry tree twig, with the fruit of simulated pearls.

From Lewis—As wonderfully colored as a sunlit mist over the mountains is a study in the pastel shades of silvery blue, green and lavender, with hydrangeas for flowers, for which we are indebted to the famous Lewis.

Rare Easter novelties in art needlework.

Much of the coziness and charm of the home depends upon an abundance of pieces of art needlework artistically arranged.

For the perfection of this purpose, we have secured for your selection a most charming array of beautiful cushions, etc., in Easter designs, also materials for home work.

Easter colorings of finished satin or silk covered sofa cushions—a large variety to choose from—values up to $4, each 1.98.

Easter lilies in wondrously natural effects, made of imported crepe paper and look very real, each, 10c and 5c.

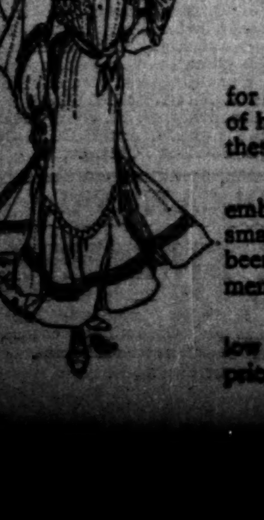
Figured art silks in pretty new patterns, usually sold at 65c per yard—25 pieces of 32 inch silks at 39c.

Girls' confirmation frocks.



Complete assortment of spotless white confirmation gowns for girls and misses—all in the correct Mandel styles and all very moderately priced.

While not a year passes that we do not provide bountifully for confirmation needs, never before has it been possible for us to gather so many smart, novel and faultlessly pretty white garments for children.

The fact that this is to be an all-white summer for everybody has brought forth a rare profusion of handsome white fabrics, and the handsomest of these have been fashioned into frocks for children.

Beautiful laces, beautiful ribbons, beautiful embroideries and beautiful, transparently sheer or smartly heavy weaves of snowy dress goods have been delightfully united to render them fitting raiment for Easter day.

And these exquisite frocks are at such low prices—that's the surprise of most mothers—prices range from $10 up to $25.

Lowest prices of the year.

Today begins our great carpet sale—a sale in all its features unequaled in America for the advantages afforded. It will be interesting to see our great March sale of carpets in progress, for we'll doubtless sell more carpets in a single day than ordinarily is sold in a week.

We control the entire output of some of the largest mills in America, and the vast quantities of carpets from which you may choose is the wonder of all who attend these sales. The qualities are unsurpassed and there are hundreds upon hundreds of the choicest patterns.

A matter of vital importance in the selection of carpets which we have provided for is this: All of our carpets are shown in a spacious carpet hall that occupies an entire floor and is flooded with daylight all day long. You can tell with minute exactness how every weave really looks and run no risk of mistakes in shadings or designs.

But the crowning advantage of our great March sale is the low prices, the fruition of our many months of preparation. Coming at a time when almost every householder has more or less carpet needs to supply the saving to Chicagoans alone amounts up into hundreds of thousands, but from far and near the buyers flock to Mandel's to get carpets while they are selling on the smallest possible margin of profits.

We are now recognized as the headquarters for the popular Wilton velvets from the Alexander Smith mills. This fabric has a close, tight nap, does not mat down like the longer and looser Axminster. This carpet is made in 27 and 54-inch widths, something unheard of in the ordinary stocks—27, 36 and 54-inch stairs to match, 1.25, $2 and $3.

Our Bigelow Wiltons from Th. & J. Sloane command more than a passing glance. Here the wonderful L'Art Nouveau and Egyptian effects are seen in all their splendor—2.50 and 2.75 for the new spring patterns. A special feature is the 27 and 36 inch stairs, closely resembling the Parisian rugs, so well adapted for hall runners, at 2.50 and 3.50 yard.

Linoleum—The thrifty housekeepers are more and more appreciating the value of good linoleum—the surfaces are smooth and have just enough oil not to retain the dirt. The English, German and domestic are vying with each other for supremacy, and these can be bought for 1.20 to 1.60 per square yd. We also have the heavy cork carpet, plain and fancy printed linoleum, the latter as low as 45c a yard.

For tapestry Brussels and ingrain carpets, two such sterling brands as the Roxbury tapestry and the Lowell ingrains need no introduction. They are the pioneer makes and are recognized as the best. 85c and 65c buy the new patterns—other makes of good qualities as low as 45c and 39c respectively.

Just a word about straw mattings—it is not too early, as those beautiful damask and inlaid designs will go quickly and as we are measuring rooms and reserving for future delivery—it is well to make selections early, when the assortments are complete—we show over 50 patterns at 25c per yard, and as high as 60c for Japanese, 40c for China, while fair matting can be had as low as 10c.

Today our great leaders are: Wiltons at 2.00, velvets at 85c, Brussels at 50c, ingrains at 40c, Axminsters at 1.10.

Hosts of women enjoy a little jaunt among our wraps and costumes, with a peep into the splendors of the French room, to see the newest modes, expressed in real fabrics and put on real women, so as to show just how they look when made up.

The distinctive points of difference between the old and new styles are the flowing sleeves, the paletot, the peplum skirt, the Monte Carlo coat, the Gibson effect, the coffee coat.

The graceful sleeves of the present day, born of the recent admiration accorded by Paris to Madame Sada Yacco, the Japanese actress, may be seen at their perfection of beauty in our matchless gowns.

In the paletot comes the revival of a most graceful garment of the past. It is made up in cloth, silk and lace appliques, reaches to the knee and is slightly shaped in at the waistline at the back.

The peplum skirt gets its name from the garment tradition ascribed to the goddesses of Greece, and consists in a three or four inch frill below the waist on the jacket, the old-fashioned basque in a new form. You may see it to perfection in our new blouse coats.

The Monte Carlo coat, the passion of all Paris, is a glorification of the popular kimono with cords running over the collar and lapels like the takli prayer strings used by the Buddhists. It's here in charming tans and blacks.

The Gibson effect reproduces the favorite Gibson girl's ample shoulders with a piece projected beyond the shoulder seam so as to give the waist the appearance of dainty smallness. It finds its most charming expression in our superb blouses.

The coffee coat is a plain, loose short sacque, that is shorter in the back than in the front, and too short everywhere to crinkle or crease when you sit at the table. We have it in spring weight cloths and silken effects.

At Mandel's you'll find the most complete representation of these delightful modes de saison—the best that Europe and America can produce. As we never quote exorbitant prices on advance styles, it's very easy for anyone buying here to dress in the height of fashion at moderate cost.

Matting remnants at 9c.

Basement.

We happen to have in stock just now some most excellent short pieces of Japanese and Chinese mattings.

They're short lengths, consisting of 5 to 20 yards, but any of them could be made useful in most homes.

Because they're remnants we are selling them for paltry prices—mattings formerly priced as high as 40c per yard, at 17½c, 15c, 12½c and 9c.

Basement.

Just what you need for your bathroom; they're slightly soiled now, but perfectly washable, so that's no serious objection.

We don't know where you could come anywhere near duplicating these for the price.

1.10 is what they're worth, but 50c is what we sell them for.

We secured a special lot of these veilings at a bargain price and you'll enjoy the benefit in the prices quoted.

They are hemstitched and chenille dot, white, black, black and white, white and black, navy, brown, etc., prices 35c, 50c, 75c and $1.

Basement.

Just a lot of the silver plated goods that we purchased when preparing for our great silverware sale.

Butter dishes, fancy napkin rings, toothpick holders, card trays, creamers and bread trays, spoons and forks, etc.

Can't keep them waiting for the prices they deserve, for there must be a clean sweep of everything when our silver sale ends—so it's your choice of the lot at 50c.

Silk waists for Easter, $5.

Unprecedented values.

Don't hesitate at the low price. It's only $5, to be sure, but that doesn't matter if the value is here. These waists are in the height of style, made from exquisite silks and the designs are charming—just such as will win the most approving glances on Easter day.

We secured a lot of these waists through a fortunate venture. The maker himself would be astonished at the prices we are quoting, but we always share good things with our customers.

Waists of choicest crinkled silk, front fastened with silk cords and frogs—Maxim and Gibson designs—dainty tucking and stitched narrow and wide plaits, handsomely trimmed stocks, colors black, white, pink and light blue, actually worth near double the selling price, $5.

A special lot of exquisite mercerized Italian cloth skirts, with deep accordion plaited flounces, edged with ruching, come only in black and white stripes—look precisely like silk and are washable—these skirts would be cheap at $4—your choice of the collection, 2.50.

6.95 for handsome silk petticoats. Dashing new styles.

LOTS of them to choose from, too; they've just come, and Easter shoppers will be delighted with the opportunity afforded of getting a petticoat of rare style beauty at so low a price.

The silk is excellent and they are made just as we would have specified ourselves.

They are exquisite styles in the latest designs and are perfect examples of correct workmanship, but had it not been for a piece of rare good fortune we would be obliged to quote a much higher price.

The comfort of the wearer will be subserved by wearing one of these petticoats, for they are made to go with the new gowns and lend much to the stylish hang of the garments.

Silk petticoats—excellent quality with deep accordion-plaited flounces, edged with narrow ruffles and trimmed with two rows of silk ruching. Splendid bargains at 6.95.

Handsome silk petticoats—The very newest creations, with accordion plaited flounce and circular flounce, strapped with contrasting and self-colored silks, rouse ruching, plain and changeable effects, $10.

Get your new top coat now.

We are very busy in our men's clothing section. A special shipment has just arrived of those elegant silk-lined Brokaw Bros.' overcoats, which are attracting such wide attention.

Authorities on questions of correct male attire agree that they are the best examples of good tailoring yet shown.

They are, in fact, the only grades of ready-to-wear clothing that fit and look as if made to the wearer's measurement, and they evince a style tone that's decidedly superior to any other clothing whatever.

Brokaw Bros.' clothing is known as the foremost in the world, and the prices are only about half as much as the custom tailor asks for the same qualities.

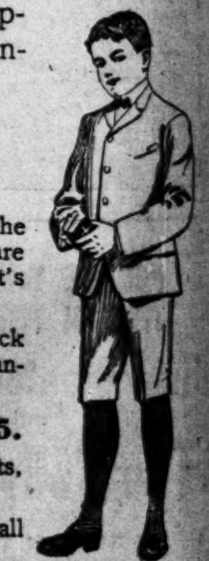
Basement—Men's silk-lined overcoats, made of fine oxford gray vicuna and coverts, remarkable for style and wear, usually sold for $15—also high-grade suits finely tailored—special at $10.

Boys' confirmation clothing



Our precedence in the style world is maintained as thoroughly in the matter of boys' clothing as any other line, and it's eminently natural that with the approach of Eastertide our preparations for confirmation needs should surpass all others.

With the largest stocks, the most varied assortments, the most correct styles, and the lowest prices, we are selling more boys' confirmation clothing than any other house in Chicago.

The Brokaw Bros.' and Mandel Special grades are the leaders in boys' clothing, as well as men's, for they are tailored with that particularity in the little details—that's the crowning element of superiority.

Boys' confirmation suits, made of fine black worsted of the newest design—all Brokaw Bros.' and Mandel Special makes priced exceptionally low.

Boys' long pants confirmation suits, $10 and $15.

Boys' knee pants with vest confirmation suits, stylishly made and finished, 7.50 and $10.

Boys' two-piece knee pants confirmation suits, all the season's best patterns, $5 and 7.50.

Basement—1,000 boys' double-breasted suits, ages 7 to 16 years, made of pure fine all-wool blue serge and dark mixed cassimeres, fine qualities, actually made to sell at double our special price—2.50.

To the wonderful enterprise of the new jewelry store is due this unexampled opportunity to secure good jewelry at bargain prices.

We bought a large quantity of these rings at their appraised intrinsic value.

They are very appropriate for Easter gifts and are solid gold 10-k. fine and come in various shapes and combinations of settings.

Nothing can emphasize too strongly the bargain character of this sale, for at the prices we quote you pay absolutely nothing for the workmanship that has been expended in making these rings and you choose from a very extensive variety.

Rings of solid gold 10k. fine and sterling silver, set with genuine opals, pearls, garnets and pearls; ruby, emerald, and amethyst doublets and pearls, single stones, turquoise enamel and pearls, dainty styles—splendid Easter gifts, suitable for women and misses—priced at actual value of the metal and settings at 1.50.

Real renaissance lace curtains.

Among the many handsome curtains, towards which your thought naturally turns in the springtime, none clothes the home with more luxurious dignity than the rich renaissance lace models from the sunny little town of Luxeuil, France.

The perfection to which these simple villagers have brought the art of lace-making is wonderful.

You'd look in vain in the shops of all Europe to see any single collection of these beautiful curtains that would equal either in extent or beauty the ones we've imported for Chicago's appreciative admirers of lace draperies.

Curtain after curtain in almost unending succession, each expressing graceful richness in ample outline, and each with figures wrought of handsome braid on a surface of fine netting. It's a splendid opportunity for saving buyers. The prices range from 4.50 to [illegible]

VOTE COLONIES FOR GRAND JURY

STATE'S ATTORNEY BUSY.

REPORT OF VOTERS' LEAGUE.

Charges of colonization in the First Ward will be examined by the grand jury at its first session on next Monday. The decision to investigate the charges against the ward politicians was reached yesterday afternoon in a conference between representatives of the State Attorney's office and of the Municipal Voters' league, and other organizations which are interested in the fight against Alderman Coughlin.

Information which led to the decision was given to Assistant State's Attorney Sprogle by Attorneys Thomas D. Knight and Kellogg Fairbank, and a number of operatives from a private detective agency. Several witnesses were heard, and one who proved reluctant to talk was subpœnaed on the spot.

Will Take Charges as They Come.

"There will be no dragnet process employed," said Attorney Sprogle. "The cases as they are brought to us will be examined and if found sufficient will be taken before the grand jury. If the conditions in the First Ward are as represented by the investigators it is time something was done."

Attorneys Knight and Fairbank have been engaged for several days in laying evidence of colonization and registration frauds before the State's Attorney's assistants. The investigation is still in the hands of the persons making the fight and the State's Attorney's office has assumed no responsibility as yet.

"There is no telling where the investigation will lead," said one of the representatives of the organizations in the fight. "We will not spare any one who can be convicted of a part in registration frauds."

Arrests for Having Saloons Open.

Alderman Michael Kenna was again served with a warrant charging him with violation of the midnight closing law. Last Friday the first warrant was secured by Thomas D. Knight, who represents the Union league, Hamilton, and Iroquois clubs in their fight for an honest election. Together with the arrest of Kenna last Friday there were John Sachs, W. Wardner, W. Bohn, and James Foley. The five men were accused of the same offense. Their cases were called before Justice Hamburgher on Tuesday, but a continuance was granted till March 28.

Mr. Knight secured ten additional warrants yesterday, and Kenna and Sachs were again made defendants. In addition to them there were:

J. O'Malley	Polk and Clark streets.
I. J. Adler	320 Clark street.
Brill & Frick	294 Clark street.
I. Glasner	332 Clark street.
M. Undleman	367 Clark street.
Seymour Finkle	104 Van Buren street.
E. Giblom	340 Clark street.

The ten men arranged for bonds in amount of $200, and these cases will be heard also on March 28.

Voters' League to Issue Report.

The Municipal Voters' league has about completed its investigation of the Aldermanic lists and will soon be ready with its report. Secretary Fisher gives the Democratic party credit for having placed on its ticket a number of exceptionally high class men.

"There will be no discrimination on account of party," he said. "The league's indorsement will be given on the personal character and the experience of the men."

In two wards the reform elements are somewhat up in the air. No opponent can be found for ex-Alderman Fred Rohde in the Eleventh Ward, and in the Eighteenth Michael Conlon is left without a serious opponent by the knocking out of the petition of O'Connor, the single tax candidate. The petition was thrown out because of spurious signatures.

Walter Fisher, secretary of the league, and Alderman Stanley Kunz, to whom the league is hostile, were on the same side yesterday in the matter of the petition of Frank Bouchonville, independent Democratic candidate for Alderman in the Seventeenth Ward. Alderman Kunz was acting as the representative of the County Central committee.

Bouchonville's petition to be placed on the ballot contains 584 to 650 names. Of these it was testified that 250 had belonged to a petition in favor of Daniel P. Roberts, who had withdrawn in favor of Bouchonville.

Appeal by Town Subcommittee.

The subcommittee for North Chicago, appointed to assist in the campaign for the adoption of the law abolishing township governments within the city, met at the rooms of the Civic federation and issued an appeal to the voters of North Town.

MINWEGEN HINTS AT BOODLE IN VACATING CITY'S STREETS.

Municipality's Share of Compensation, He Says, Is Inadequate—Mayor to Watch Future Ordinances.

Alderman Minwegen indirectly suggests boodling in connection with the waiving of the city's rights over streets and alleys in favor of corporations. He has called attention to the fact that the city does not get what he considers a fair share of the amount necessary to secure certain property. In doing this he has revived the statement that the Crane company paid $4,000 to the city for the vacation of alleys and $50,000 to property-owners.

Mayor Harrison's attention has been called to this case by the Alderman in an endeavor to enlist his efforts. The Mayor has responded by suggesting a rule of procedure for such vacations. The consent of adjoining property-owners should be secured, he said.

"Hereafter I shall examine street and alley vacation ordinances more carefully than ever," he added. "I had been figuring on the basis that this Council of ours could do no wrong."

The statement concerning the Crane company is explained in this way: The city was given $4,000 for the vacation of the street. Having been vacated, the property reverted to the heirs of the original subdividers, and it had to be purchased from them.

Alderman Minwegen claims that the share the city received in the transaction compared with that received by the heirs was entirely inadequate.

Denial for Beidler Estate.

Alderman Minwegen's contention that the Beidler estate is endeavoring to buy land from the city for six cents a foot where it paid for 60 cents and $1 a foot is denied by George Beidler.

"The Beidler estate has been out of existence for two years," he said. "The Beidlers are in no way associated in business together or hold any property in the [illegible] district jointly. I have no interest [illegible] or any connection with the property [illegible]."

NEW MEMBERS OF THE SOUTH PARK BOARD.

H.G. FOREMAN. LYMAN A. WALTON.

The vacancies in the South Park board caused by the death of John B. Sherman and the resignation of Joseph Donnersberger were filled yesterday by the Circuit Judges, who elected Lyman A. Walton and Henry G. Foreman.

LAW FOR FREE TRANSFERS

CAR LINES DEFEATED BY JUDGE BALL'S SWEEPING DECISION.

Jurist Rules That the Companies Must Make Long Hauls for Five Cents and Holds That the City Has the Right to Regulate Rates—Consolidated and Union Traction Concerns Not Separate—Big Victory, Says Mayor Harrison.

The city's right to regulate the street railway fares and to demand transfers to and from all lines operated or controlled by the same company was sustained yesterday by Judge Ball.

The test came on an action brought against the Union Traction company by thirteen citizens of Austin. After having been refused transfers from the Union Traction to the Consolidated Traction lines they sued the Union Traction company and won their case before Justice Gibbons, a fine of $50 being imposed on the company for each of the thirteen complaints. The company appealed, and Judge Ball now has held against it.

Corporation Counsel Walker and Mayor Harrison declare that the city has won an important victory by the decision. The transfer rule will be enforced at once, they say.

City's Rights Defined.

Four points were set forth definitely by Judge Ball. They were:

1. The Union and Consolidated Traction companies must recognize transfers from the lines of one company to those of the other.
2. The Union Traction company and the Consolidated Traction company are practically one corporation.
3. The ordinance passed by the City Council in 1897 requiring a five-cent fare to all points within the city limits is valid.
4. The city has a right to regulate street railway fares.

Basis of the Decision.

Judge Ball in delivering his opinion declared the power of legislative bodies to regulate the rates of common carriers within reasonable bounds was established in 1871, when such power was delegated to the City Council by the Legislature.

The exercise of this power must be reasonable, the Judge held. If the law cannot be enforced without too great hardship, he said, the law is void. The common carrier is entitled to reasonable compensation, and the passenger is entitled to transportation for a reasonable fare.

Judge Ball then referred to the five-cent fare law of 1897, and declared it still valid. He said there was no evidence that the giving of transfers would result in financial loss to the street railway companies. The court thought it would not.

In speaking of the practical unity of the two roads, Judge Ball said the evidence showed that the Board of Directors of the consolidated road has no hand in the operation of the lines. Both corporations, he said, are in control of the Union Traction company.

Say It's a Big Victory.

Corporation Counsel Walker said of the decision:

"It means transfers from the West Side to the North Side, and back again. We will begin immediately to enforce the ordinance. It will be extremely valuable to workingmen and others who have to travel from one of these two divisions of the city to another."

Mayor Harrison said: "There will be joy in Bowmanville tonight. Now, the next thing to do is to start right out to gain the benefit of the decision. We will devote our best efforts to securing for the people the fruits of this victory."

Alderman Frank L. Race, who was a party to the suit, said: "It is a big victory. It will be particularly gratifying to residents of Austin, Jefferson, and other suburbs."

STOLEN GOODS RECOVERED; HOTEL BELLBOYS SUSPECTED.

Detectives Find Several Hundred Dollars' Worth of Property in Sangamon Street Flats—Some of It Identified.

Evidence that an organized gang of bellboy thieves has operated recently in the Chicago hotels has been discovered by Detective Sergeants Larkin and Howard. Stored in the vaults at the Central station is jewelry and wearing apparel valued at several hundred dollars which the detectives have recovered and which they believe was stolen from guests at different Chicago hotels.

Thus far the detectives have succeeded in finding two owners to a portion of the goods recovered. They are Mrs. C. Bradstead of Ishpeming, Mich., who has identified a sealskin cloak, which she says was stolen from her room while she was a guest at the Sherman House. The other is Mrs. Roos of the Ontario Hotel, who has identified a similar garment as her property.

The property was recovered in raids made upon the premises at 205 and 207 Sangamon street, occupied respectively by James and Harry Melly. It has been inventoried as follows:

Three gold watches	250
Five gold rings, set with emeralds and diamonds	425
Two gold neck chains	125
One man's stickpin, with ruby in center and surrounded by thirty chipped diamonds	100
Four pairs of gold cuffbuttons	30
Woman's eight-pointed star, with diamond in center	125
Penknives and trinkets	10

Most of the property was recovered in the flat of James Melly, and here was found the cloak which was subsequently identified by Mrs. Bradstead. A sealskin cloak which has been identified by Mrs. Roos was found in the house adjoining. The men are brothers and proprietors of a barber shop in State street, near Van Buren. They were placed under arrest on a charge of receiving stolen property.

SAYS CALL WAS INSULT

DR. M'ELVEEN'S BOSTON FRIENDS ANGERED BY JENKINS' ACT.

Chicago Committeeman's Return of Letter Declining to Come to This City Shocks Shawmut Congregation—Ministers' Associate Declares He Declined by Telegraph Before Announcing Decision to His Own People—Union Park Church Apologizes.

Boston, Mass., March 19.—[Special.]—The action of Robert E. Jenkins, chairman of a committee of the Union Park Congregational Church of Chicago, in returning unopened to the Rev. W. T. McElveen, pastor of the Shawmut Congregational Church of this city, a letter in which, presumably, he declined the call to Chicago, was a great shock to members of McElveen's congregation. One of Dr. McElveen's closest friends says the call, under the circumstances, was an insult to the Boston minister.

Dr. McElveen went to New York on Monday for a week's rest. His wife said today no letter had been received from Chicago since her husband sent in the notification of non-acceptance of the call.

Says Decision Was Telegraphed.

Frank Wood, a friend of Dr. McElveen, who is thoroughly in touch with the matter which the clergyman has had under consideration, said today:

"The report from Chicago concerning the return of Dr. McElveen's letter unopened states that the final announcement was first made to Shawmut Church, which is not true, because I know a telegram was sent to the Union Park Church, which must have been received before the announcement was made here, stating that the Lord had made it plain to him that it was his duty to serve him here.

"The committee must have known what Dr. McElveen's final decision probably would be, because no encouragement was ever given them that he would go to Chicago. A telegram was sent them on Feb. 27, followed by a letter on the same day, which was as final a refusal as he could write. Yet, after they had received both the telegram and the letter, the Union Park Church gave him a unanimous call, which, it seems, would have been impossible if the committee had not concealed from the church the actual condition of things and the facts in relation to the letter and telegram.

Attitude of Dr. McElveen.

"Dr. McElveen, of course, considered it a great honor and compliment and was disposed to treat them with all kindness and consideration, and at a meeting of the officers of the Shawmut Church on last Wednesday he said, although his mind was fully made up as to what his duty was, he did not wish the Union Park Church to think he had decided without due consideration, and he proposed to permit a week or two to elapse before he gave them a final decision.

"The officers of the church were unanimous in their opinion that the following Sabbath, which was the third anniversary of his coming to Shawmut Church, would be the proper time to announce to the church his final decision, and that it was also the truest kindness to the Union Park Church that it should know his decision as speedily as possible.

Considers Call an Insult.

"It is an unheard of thing for a church to give a unanimous call to a minister they have never heard preach, and it is especially strange that they should give such a call after receiving a letter and telegram stating that the Lord had made it plain to him that it was his duty to serve him here. If a call had come to me under such circumstances I should have considered it an insult, as either they did not believe me or supposed they had power to overrule the Almighty."

Apologize for Jenkins' Act.

The members of the Supply committee of the Union Park Congregational Church met in special session yesterday and sent to Dr. McElveen a telegram deploring the action of Chairman Jenkins in returning his letter to him unopened. Of the original committee of eight six signed the telegram, Chairman Jenkins and another member being absent from the meeting.

"Members of the Supply committee are much grieved that Mr. Jenkins should have taken upon himself the authority he did," said P. F. Pettibone. "For my own part I cannot see that Dr. McElveen committed any breach of courtesy toward our church in reading his refusal of our offer to his congregation before he sent it to the Supply committee. Dr. McElveen had not refused to consider a call from us before we sent him the unanimous call of the church. He was asked to preach two Sundays in March, but he declined. We did not consider his reply favorable, but thought it likely he did not wish to be regarded as a candidate for the pastorate. A committee went to his church to hear him preach and after that the call was sent. We are sorry matters have come to the state in which they are. I think all the members of the Supply committee except Mr. Jenkins share my opinion."

FOOTBRIDGE TO BE BUILT AT ONCE AT STATE STREET.

Drainage Board Appropriates $6,500 for a Temporary Structure Which Will Be in Operation in Sixty Days.

The Drainage board yesterday appropriated $6,500 for the construction of a temporary bridge for pedestrians at State street, and instructed Chief Engineer Randolph to push work on the structure as rapidly as possible. The bridge will be erected west of the old structure and be in operation within sixty days. The owners of the abutting property have given their consent to the construction of the temporary bridge for the accommodation of the public while the new bascule bridge is being built.

JUDGES CHOOSE PARK TRUSTEES.

Lyman A. Walton and Henry G. Foreman Elected to South Division Board.

FOURTEEN VOTES CAST.

Horton and Gibbons Out of Town, but Represented by Proxies.

MANY NAMES CONSIDERED.

Lyman A. Walton and Henry G. Foreman were appointed members of the Board of South Park Commissioners by the Judges of the Circuit Court yesterday afternoon. Mr. Foreman was chosen to succeed the late John B. Sherman and Mr. Walton to succeed Joseph Donnersberger, who resigned a few days ago. There were fourteen votes cast, Judges Horton and Gibbons, who are out of the city, voting by proxy. Mr. Foreman received eight votes out of fourteen, while Mr. Walton was given nearly the entire number that were cast.

The meeting was held in Judge Hanecy's chambers at 3:30 o'clock. Those present were Judges Murray F. Tuley, E. F. Dunne, Abner Smith, A. N. Waterman, Francis Adams, Thomas G. Windes, Elbridge Hanecy, Charles G. Neely, Richard W. Clifford, Edmund Burke, Frank Baker, and R. S. Tuthill. Judge Horton was taken sick several days ago, and on the advice of his physician left the city yesterday for the South. His vote was represented by Judge Burke. Judge Hanecy voted for Judge Gibbons.

Of the Judges present there were six Democrats—Windes, Adams, Dunne, Tuley, Baker, and Clifford. The list of candidates for appointment on the board had been prepared previously, each of the Judges having the right to present the name of one or more men.

Many Names Considered.

As soon as the meeting was called to order by Judge Hanecy the list of Republican candidates was read and a vote taken. Henry G. Foreman received eight votes out of fourteen, the others being cast for several different men. Among the men whose names were considered were L. D. Condee, attorney, former member of the State Senate; E. C. Potter, metallurgist; J. A. Edwards, President of J. A. Edwards & Co.; George H. Hess, President of the Hess Warming and Ventilating company; Arthur G. Leonard, general manager of the Union Stock-Yards and Transit company; Louis J. Marks, and H. H. Gross.

When the vote was taken for a Democratic member of the board the Judges were more in accord, Mr. Walton being an almost unanimous choice. Dr. John Guerin received a few votes. Among the other Democrats whose names were considered was Theodore Oehne, President of the Conrad Seipp Brewing company. The formal resignation of Joseph Donnersberger was read and accepted.

Although Mr. Walton and Mr. Foreman did not receive the votes of all the Judges their selection will be considered as unanimous when the formal order is made out by Judge Hanecy. According to the latter there was only one Judge of the Circuit Court when the law regulating the appointment of Park Commissioners was passed in 1869, and as his vote could not be divided the vote of all of the Judges on the Circuit bench cannot in contemplation of the law be divided, as the law has never been changed.

The personnel of the board is now as follows: William Best, Daniel F. Crilly, Jefferson Hodgkins, Lyman A. Walton, and H. G. Foreman.

New Members of the Board.

Mr. Walton has been a resident of Chicago for more than twenty years. In 1881 he was an employé of the board, acting as receiving clerk of material. In 1882 he entered the National Live Stock Bank as a clerk. He remained there until 1885, when he went West. He stopped in Kansas, where he engaged in the banking business, remaining there until 1890. He returned to Chicago that year to accept the position of cashier for the Equitable Trust company, with which he has been ever since, now being Vice President. His home is at 5737 Woodlawn avenue.

Mr. Foreman is in the real estate business, and was born in Chicago in 1857. He is the eldest son of the late Gerhard Foreman, who settled in Chicago in the early days and engaged in the banking business, retiring in 1885. The bank was carried on then by H. G. Foreman & Bros. Some years ago H. G. Foreman retired to enable him to devote all his time to his growing real estate interests. Mr. Foreman lives with his family in the Lakota Hotel. He is a member of several clubs, among which are the Union League, the Washington Park, and the Standard.

SWEEPERS RAISE THE DUST IN DOWN-TOWN STREETS.

Theater-Goers Get Benefit of All the Dried and Pulverized Refuse—Sprinklers Not Used Anywhere.

Clouds of dust floated about the streets last night, settling on the sidewalks or the clothing of pedestrians. The squads of workmen swept without the aid of the sprinkling cart.

No attempt was made by the men to avoid the business center at the hour when crowds from the theaters moved out upon the streets. In passing the workmen the pedestrians were forced to run the gantlet of a line almost a block in length, as the men with their heavy brooms were scattered along the street for that distance. A yell of warning to stop until a crowd passed did no good. The sweepers ignored it.

An attempt to learn why the street had not been sprinkled brought no reply from the workmen.

CROWLEY DENIES LOWE CHARGE

Says the Story of Outside Influence in Local Controversy Is Untrue—Policeman Discharged.

"This talk of Mr. Lowe about some mysterious outside prelate whose ambition to in some way supplant Archbishop Feehan and to ruin Bishop Muldoon is at the bottom of the present agitation is all nonsense," said Father Crowley yesterday. "I believe it to be utterly untrue that any outside prelate has or ever did have anything whatever to do with this agitation, except possibly that all loyal Catholics must desire the successful issue of a movement for morality."

Detective Edward Niland of the Thirty-fifth Street Police Station was suspended to await formal charges of conduct unbecoming to a policeman. His suspension supplies the latest sensation in connection with the Crowley controversy. It is said to have been made upon the demand of Father Kelly of St. Cecilia's Church. Detective Niland is understood to have lost his temper because of criticisms directed against Father Crowley by some of the policemen in the station and to have said unpleasant things concerning Father Kelly and Father Flanagan of St. Anne's Church.

CHUMS TO WED EACH OTHERS' SISTERS.

HOLLIS D. SHAW.
ROY A. NEVILL.
GEORGE L. SHAW.

Four hearts will beat as two on April 3, when George L. Shaw and Roy A. Nevill will each lead the other's sister to the altar. The romance which will culminate in the joining of two families with double bonds of matrimony began in Wisconsin. For years the Nevill family had made its home in the little town of Magnolia. There the son, Roy, and the daughter, Bertha, grew up together.

Four years ago the Shaws moved to the Wisconsin village. Roy Nevill became acquainted with George Shaw. Each had a sister and the girls became fast friends. The two brothers each owned a buggy and the summer days were shortened by drives. In Roy Nevill's buggy was always to be found Miss Hollis Shaw, and the seat beside George Shaw, Miss Bertha Nevill occupied. The engagements soon were announced. The prospective brides are still neighbors in Magnolia and the grooms share apartments at 33 South Forty-eighth avenue. Shaw is employed at the factory of the Victor Piano company at Forty-ninth avenue and Lake street, and Nevill at A. G. Pearson & Co.'s warehouse, Forty-eighth avenue and Kinzie street.

The double wedding will be held at the little home which the grooms have prepared at 2490 Kinzie street, and the wedding reception will be held at the home of R. O. Shaw, 27 South Forty-eighth avenue. The marriage licenses were secured yesterday. Both of the coming brides are 20 years old. Mr. George Shaw is 26 and Mr. Nevill is 21.

O'NEILL DROPS FOUR MEN

FORESHADOWS EARLY SHAKEUP IN POLICE DEPARTMENT.

Secretary to Assistant Chief Resigns, as Council Has Abolished His Office—Captain Martin Hayes Restored to His Position—New Inspectors Probably Will Be Appointed — Mayor Talks of Traction in Connection with Ald. Palmer's Resolutions.

As soon as the policemen come to an agreement with the city the upheaval will begin in the department which is to make the force conform with the appropriations finally decided upon on Tuesday night by the Council. As a start Chief O'Neill discharged four assistants and received the resignation of one yesterday.

The dismissals were made by a general order issued last night, and at the same time an order was sent out for the reinstatement of Captain Martin Hayes to his position at the Thirty-fifth and Halsted Street Station. The final touch in the rearrangement of the department will be the appointment of Inspectors to succeed those recently discharged after the decision of the Supreme Court.

Captain Hayes Reinstated.

An opinion drawn by Assistant Corporation Counsel Mason restored Captain Hayes to his position from which he was retired on March 11.

Of the action taken by the Chief in retiring Captain Hayes the opinion said:

"If he is unfit to act as Captain of Police charges may be preferred against him under the civil service act and rules. If he is physically unable to perform the duties of his position the Police Pension board may retire him on a pension. I do not think he can be legally retired without his consent on the ground that he is more than 50 years of age and has served more than twenty years in the Police department."

Four Men Discharged.

The men discharged by the Chief yesterday were those for whom no appropriations had been made. They were John K. Hickey and James F. Carson, assistant superintendents of horse; James W. Fitzsimmons, foreman of the repair shop; and Patrick Malone, assistant plumber.

Patrick Dunne, brother of F. Peter Dunne, resigned as secretary to the Assistant Chief of Police. His position was abolished with that of Assistant Chief.

The general rearrangement of the department will come as soon as the policemen can agree how they will take their medicine.

"Some agreement must be reached so that they will not hold the city responsible for their salaries when they do the work and don't get the money," said Chief O'Neill.

Mayor Wants a Fight.

Mayor Harrison is belligerent. Things are getting too dull around the City Hall, he says, and he is "spoiling for a good fight."

If the traction companies would just come in with their requests for franchise extensions that would be the kind of a fight the Mayor is hunting. He said he had not thought much about the resolutions which Alderman Honoré Palmer introduced to bring the companies into the Council by June 15.

"I am the boy behind the gatling gun," he said. "I have the last whack at these things. I am not responsible for what the Council does. It will have to come in here in the end."

Attitude of City Railway.

The City railway is regarded by Aldermen as the most likely to bring a request before the Council within the specified time. William B. Walker, one of the directors of the company, said:

"In due time we will request an extension, but just when or on what terms I do not know. I recognize the fact that it would be better for the Union Traction and our corporation to go before the Council at the same time, but the City railway will act on its own responsibility."

W. W. Gurley, general counsel for the Union Traction company, did not enter into any extensive discussion of the plans of that company.

BOTH VIXEN AND ANGEL

TESTIMONY CONFLICTS IN THE THOMAS DIVORCE TRIAL.

Prosecution Introduces Witnesses Who Declare That the Woman's Conduct Has Been Bad, While the Defense Charges That a Conspiracy Exists and Submits Evidence That the Accused One Has Behaved as She Should—Reporter as a Detective.

Testimony to prove that Mrs. Harold Thomas is an exceedingly bad woman and other testimony to establish her as an angel in human guise came in conflict yesterday in Judge Bishop's court, where the son of General Samuel Thomas is seeking to secure a divorce from his wife, Adah.

During the morning the woman's defense was outlined by Attorney Burry.

"Mrs. Thomas has been accused of being a tippler," he said. "We will prove that this statement is entirely false. Instead of being a tippler, Mrs. Thomas is a total abstainer. Mrs. Thomas' fidelity as a wife has been attacked. We will prove the falsity of these charges, too. We also will prove that there is a conspiracy to separate Mrs. Thomas from her husband."

Lays Stress on Drunkenness.

The prosecution rested its case without having attempted to prove many of the specific acts of misconduct alleged in the bill filed by Thomas. In this bill nearly a score of corespondents were named. The evidence concerned only three of these, the name of one only was given from the witness stand. The prosecution seemed to content itself with emphasizing the charges of drunkenness.

Four witnesses were offered to testify to specific charges, and against this testimony the attorney for the woman submitted testimony of good character and an honest name among neighbors in Kansas City and Columbus.

"Not only have they conspired against this woman, but they have been unfair with her," declared Attorney Burry. "They have alleged specific acts, but they have not given the dates nor the names of the other persons present, thus preventing absolute disproval of their charges."

Two women appeared as witnesses against Mrs. Thomas at the morning session. They were Alice O'Hare, a Columbus, O., dry goods clerk, and Louise Gray of Kansas City. They were preceded to the witness stand by Harry I. Cleveland, a newspaper reporter, in conjunction with whom they are said to have worked in securing evidence against the defendant.

Cleveland testified that he was engaged by Superintendent Williams of the Masonic Temple, in which building is the office of Dr. J. B. McFatrich, friend of young Thomas, to secure evidence against the defendant, and that in pursuance of this end he made a visit to Columbus, where Mrs. Thomas resided about Jan. 1. He testified to having seen Mrs. Thomas in two disreputable resorts.

Effort to Prove Conspiracy.

The defense sought to support the contention of conspiracy, inquiring into the motives that prompted Cleveland's investigation.

"Were you on a salary from your paper while you were in Columbus?" asked Mr. Burry.

"Yes," was the answer.

"Did you receive any pay for your work down in Columbus?"

"Not yet."

"Do you expect to?"

"Yes. No matter how the case comes out."

"What besides a money consideration prompted your action?"

"My friendship for Mr. Williams."

The defense developed the information that Cleveland, Williams, and Dr. McFatrich were close friends and members of a fraternal order.

During the afternoon Attorneys Burry and McShane took turns reading affidavits from neighbors of Mrs. Thomas in Columbus. They declared that her character was good.

WANT ALL LINES TREATED ALIKE.

CASE SET FOR MONDAY.

Judge Phillips Refuses to Take It Up Till Then at Kansas City.

NEW STORIES OF MERGERS.

General counsel of the Western railroads in this city received word from Jefferson City yesterday that Judge John F. Phillips of the United States District Court would not hear the injunction cases until next Monday at Kansas City. Attorney W. A. Day went to Jefferson City, where Judge Phillips is attending court, and asked leave to file the bills there. Judge Phillips, however, refused to accept the filing of the suit or give the matter any hearing until he returned to Kansas City.

This news was highly satisfactory to the railroad attorneys, as it gave them a chance to agree upon a course of action. It has been practically decided that the principal arguments for the railroads shall be made by General Solicitor William Brown of the Alton and General Counsel George R. Peck of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul. The railroads will not resist the issuance of an injunction as asked by the United States Government, but they will protest against the singling out of the leading roads between Chicago and Kansas City and ask that an injunction issue against every railroad, big or small, between the Missouri River and New York. They will claim that if an injunction be issued against the roads named in the bill to be filed by Attorney Day it would not remedy the evils complained of, but the small and unnoticed lines between the Missouri River and the Western termini of the Central Freight association roads and the trunk lines could and probably would continue to cut rates and make secret arrangements, while the roads enjoined would be prevented from meeting competition.

It will be contended that at the hearing before the Interstate Commerce commission a short time ago, when the revelations about the paying of rebates and the violations of the law were made, it was not shown that the Chicago-Kansas City lines alone had been the offenders. It will be argued that all lines between Kansas City and other Missouri River points and New York shared in the business.

Word was received yesterday that Attorney Day will come to Chicago today to arrange with District Attorney Bethea for filing the bills in the local court. After the hearing of the Kansas City cases next Monday he will be in Chicago to attend to the new bills, the hearing here will take place probably on the following day.

Stock Exchange Tales of Mergers.

The recent rapid rise in the stocks of the Chicago and Northwestern, Chicago Rock Island and Pacific, and other Western roads has been urolific in bringing out numerous reports of new railroad combinations and consolidations. The report that the Rock Island and the Chicago and Northwestern would be consolidated has been dished up in a dozen different styles, and some of these stories included the Milwaukee and St. Paul, the Chicago Great Western, and the Wisconsin Central. There has been no other foundation for these reports than the large boom in their stocks, and the general opinion here is that all these reports emanate from Wall street and are spread for the purpose of inducing the public to buy railroad stocks, which are generally considered topheavy at the present time.

Transportation Notes.

Official announcement was made yesterday of the appointment of W. G. Besler as General Manager of the Central Railroad of New Jersey. Mr. Besler has been General Superintendent of the Reading railway since September, 1900, which position he now resigns to accept his new berth. Mr. Besler was born at Galesburg, Ill., in 1864 and commenced railroad service with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy as clerk in the General Superintendent's office at Chicago in 1881.

Gross earnings of the Chicago Great Western railway for the second week of March, 1902, show an increase of $7,880 over the corresponding week last year. The total increase since the beginning of the fiscal year, July 1, to date is $518,164.

T. P. Shonts, formerly President of the Indiana, Illinois and Iowa railroad, is said to have been tendered the position of Traffic Manager of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company.

KENNEDY TELLS OF MERGER.

New York Banker Testifies Concerning Formation of Northern Securities Company in Powers Suit.

New York, March 19.—There was a hearing in this city today before Richard A. Mabey, special examiner, in the suit of Peter Power against the Northern Pacific railroad company. The object of the suit is to overthrow the transfer to the Northern Securities company of the control of the Northern Pacific.

John S. Kennedy, a banker, testified. He said he went to Europe in the spring of 1901, and when he left James J. Hill and Lord Strathcona, D. Willis James, George F. Baker, himself, and other friends of James J. Hill owned a majority of the common stock of the Northern Pacific, and understood much of the stock was held by J. P. Morgan & Co. He did not know before he went to Europe that E. H. Harriman sought to acquire a majority of Northern Pacific common, but learned of it afterward from J. P. Morgan.

In the following August Mr. Kennedy acquired 10,000 shares of Northern Pacific from J. P. Morgan & Co.

He said he had not heard that between May 4 and May 9 J. Pierpont Morgan had purchased from $16,000,000 to $18,000,000 of the stock.

Mr. Kennedy said the Northern Securities company had been thought of for a great many years before it was formed, but admitted Mr. Hill and his associates had no difficulty in electing directors of the Great Northern railroad. He said the object was to protect the Northern Pacific against stock market attacks. He did not know whether Morgan and Hill owned controlling interests in both roads.

Mr. Kennedy could not remember any proposition to put Northern Securities stock on the market. He said there had been suggestions of purchasing other properties. He knew nothing of his own knowledge about a purchase of $11,000,000 or $12,000,000 of Great Northern stock by Mr. Hill. He purchased 10,000 shares himself.

Mr. Kennedy said he could not give any information as to why Mr. Harriman was elected a director of the Burlington, nor did he know that at the time of the election the relations between Harriman and Jacob H. Schiff were much strained.

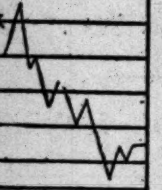
Man Killed by Premature Blast.

Carlinville, Ill., March 19.—[Special.]—[illegible] Hall, a young man 24 years of age, was killed in the mines this afternoon by the premature explosion of a shot. J. W. Cain, a helper, was badly injured and may die.

WHEAT SELLING IS LARGE

TIRED HOLDERS HELP BEARS IN DEPRESSING PRICES.

Cash Demand Shows Some Improvement, but Southwest Has Warmer Weather and Prospects of Rain and Liquidation Forces May to 74 Cents—Corn Breaks Nearly a Cent—Oats Weaken on Rumors of Settlement by Big Shorts.



May Wheat Range.

Wheat values faded away to a new low level yesterday under heavy and persistent liquidation. There was a stubborn market early, inspired by renewed crop damage reports from the Southwest, but the confidence in them as bull factors was not sufficiently general to do more than hold prices for a short time, and the buying based on them was mostly local. The prospect for unsettled weather in Kansas suggested the possibility of relief and holders saw nothing in the cash situation to justify hope of an upturn by hanging on longer. There was some good buying apparently, but the evidences of bull discouragement were stronger than at any time before. May opened a shade easier at 74⅝c, but got up to 75⅛c, a net gain of ⅛c. There was no further reaction, but instead a drop to 73⅞c, with the close at 74⅛c, a net loss of ⅞c for the day. From 74⅝c down for May there was heavy stop-loss selling and at 74c a tremendous trade. The demand by commission houses and pit traders covering shorts and taking profits was enough to check the decline, but the liquidation continued on so large a scale that little reaction was possible. July closed at 74⅛c, a loss of ⅞c.

Wheat Longs Let Go.

The selling came from every quarter of the speculative compass, and included long wheat which had been carried down the sliding scale for a heavy loss. There was a good deal of bear pressure for both local and outside account, and on the break a vast deal of covering, some of it for foreigners.

Receipts continued light, only 16 cars less Northwest than a year ago, but 395,094 bu at primary points compared with 584,603 bu. Winter markets got 109,000 bu and shipped 58,000 bu. There were early claims of 320,000 bu sold here for shipment, but this did not check the decline, and no more sales were reported on the break. It was claimed 100,000 bu was simply a transaction between elevators. Export sales at the seaboard were 280,000 bu and clearances were 573,593 bu. Liverpool futures were unchanged, spot steady to ¼d lower for hard Kansas. There was one cargo off coast, the first in a week; those on passage quoted dull but steady. Paris was strong and up 1c.

Corn Develops Weakness.

Corn shared fully in the weakness of wheat. While it was a smaller market, there was general stop loss selling by commission houses with apparently no effort by local bull interests to support prices. There was a break of 1c and enough profit taking by shorts to cause a reaction of ¼-⅜c. The May range was from 61⅞c to 60⅞c, the close at 61⅛-¼c, a loss of ⅝-¾c. July was weaker, losing ⅞c and closing at 60⅞c. There was no improvement in the shipping demand, even on the break. Sales here about 25,000 bu, and some claims from the Southwest of good cash business had no influence. Receipts of 84 cars at Kansas City, compared with 13 last year, attracted more attention. The inspection was 81 cars, with 60 estimated for today. Primary receipts were 323,135 bu, compared with 597,952 bu last year. Clearances were 54,711 bu. Liverpool futures were ¼d lower, spot steady to ¼d higher.

Getting Out of May Oats.

There was a decline of about ⅜c in March and May oats because of liquidation and changing. July and September were relatively much stronger than the two first deliveries, each losing only ⅛@⅜c. The extreme weakness in wheat and corn exercised a dragging influence on the market, making late sellers of a good many traders who had been earlier buyers. The market had not much more than opened before selling orders on May began coming from commission houses. The Weare people began around 44⅛c for May and helped put the price down to 43⅝c during the first hour. Later it got down to 43¼c, but recovered. Some of the best buying of the day was done by Logan, Norton-Switzer, and Harris. J. P. Smith was a good seller of July. The getting out of the May was about the feature of the market. Receipts of oats were 48 cars, of which 6 were contract. Withdrawals were 2,100 bu from regular and 3 cars from unlicensed houses. Estimated today is 75 cars. The seaboard cleared 11,500 bu. Demand for samples was moderately good.

Better Prices in Provisions.

Slightly better prices prevailed in provisions, owing to general buying by local interests, both scalping and packing. The improvement in pork, on a basis of Tuesday's figures, was about 2½@5c, in lard 5c, and in ribs generally 5c. September ribs closed 5@7c higher. Shippers were buying ribs against the cash business, which is getting in larger volume. Gregson and Wolff were good buyers of the list nearly all day, though early the latter was on the selling side of pork. Wrenn sold ribs and Wright lard. Some good buying was done now and then by scalpers. Local hog receipts were 31,000, against 28,000 the previous week and 22,000 last year. There are 34,000 estimated for today. Western packing points reported 66,900, against 60,100 the previous week and 55,300 a year ago. Shipments of cured meats were 2,784,000 lbs, against 2,059,000 lbs a year ago, and of lard 1,580,000 lbs, compared with 2,410,000 lbs.

Rye was considerably easier losing a full ⅜c, sales of May ranging from 56⅝c to 56c. It was offered at the lower price at the close, with 55⅞c bid. For July, 56¼c was bid. Cash and May are about the same price. Receipts were 1 car.

Barley continued steady, mainly on light receipts—22 cars. Demand keeps up sufficiently to absorb about all offerings. The late market on screenings was considerably weaker than the early. Screenings sold from 57c to 59½c, and malting from 60@65c. Some thin barley, though billed, sold at 58c.

Timothy seed made another advance of 5c, March selling at $6.75. Contract clover was called nominally $8.75.

Only a small business was done in flaxseed, a bag lot of No. 1 Northwestern, delivered, selling at $1.71, and car lots at $1.72. Southwestern was unchanged at $1.68. Rejected was nominally $1.67@1.68. May sold at $1.71, 1c under Tuesday's figures.

Trade Gossip on Change.

Memberships are offering at $3,900 net to the buyer.

Advices as to the export demand for wheat were decidedly contradictory, but the action of the market told which variety was effective. Lahrke wired: "The outlook for export business is poor. Foreigners indifferent. Bids mostly considerably out." Bingham cabled Harris: "Private cable from continent just received says general confidence in prices and disposition to buy wheat."

Reports from Duluth are that there are about 14,000,000 bu American wheat in store there and 1,800,000 bu Manitoban, and that only 3,000,000 bu are sold for shipment at the opening of navigation, about half American.

The oats trade was treated yesterday to a rumor by way of Minneapolis that there had been private settlement of a big short line of May oats with Patten, 5,000,000 bu. The rumor was well circulated, as inquiries came from New York and St. Louis as to its truth. At Patten's office nothing was said either in confirmation or denial of the story, but the general impression was the story must be overdrawn at least. While there is believed to be a large short interest in the Northwest, there is no idea there is any line of anywhere near the size named. Rumors of private settlements are matters of course during the progress of a deal, but this is the first time one has cropped out.

PRODUCE RATHER MORE ACTIVE

Local Dealers Taking Hold a Little Better, Having Permitted Stocks to Run Down.

There is more general activity in produce lines, supplies being so large as to permit of a better selection, and as retail stocks are low there are more dealers on the street. About the only price change yesterday was in butter, which is showing a firming tendency. The different grades were marked up about 1c. Offerings are moderate and the better makes are quickly absorbed. Receipts are larger than a week ago, but not quite up to last year. Egg receipts now exceed those of a year ago, being 20,600 cases for the three days of the week. Potato holders are generally asking higher prices than buyers care to pay. This restricts business. All commission houses report green produce sales as increasing.

LOCAL MILLS TO BENEFIT

MONEY WILL BE SPENT ON CHICAGO STEEL PLANTS.

Facilities of Illinois Company and American Steel and Wire at This Point Will Be Enlarged in Expenditure of Cash Proceeds of Proposed Bond Issue—Activity in Union Traction Stock Continues—Quaker Oats Issues Listed.

Plants owned in Chicago by the United States Steel corporation will benefit by the plan to raise $50,000,000 cash by the issue of $250,000,000 5 per cent bonds. Besides retiring $200,000,000 of preferred stock the new bond issue is made for the purpose of providing the corporation with a sufficient amount of additional working capital to permit the construction of new mills where the needs of its business demand them.

One of these points is Chicago, and it is understood that large expenditures will be made in this city and its vicinity by the Illinois Steel company and the American Steel and Wire company, both constituent concerns of the United States Steel corporation. The position of Chicago at the gateway to the West and Northwest has made this a larger center for business, and the growth necessitates increased facilities here on the part of the steel corporation.

Tractions Again Active.

Union Traction stocks were firm again in the local market yesterday. Trading in the common was not so large, amounting to 5,820 shares. It sold at 18⅛, but reacted to 17¾ at the close, or the same as on the previous day. The preferred was stronger, selling at 55 and at 55½, and closing at the top with a net gain of 1½. The action of the City Council had no effect. H. B. Hollins of New York and the Widener interests of Philadelphia are credited with the operations still.

City Railway stock has become more quiet, but held at 223 at the close. North Chicago was off 3 to 195. West Chicago was stronger at par.

Small lots of Chicago Edison are being taken as they are offered on the local market at 175. While only a few shares are bought at a time, there seems to be a market for all offered at 175.

National Biscuit was strong on the continuance of the pool operations. Nearly 5,000 shares were traded in, with the effect of advancing the common stock to 53⅛. It closed at 52¾, a further gain of ½. The preferred was dull and unchanged. Carbon maintained its improvement. The common rose ¼ and the preferred ⅞. Ogden Gas bonds sold at 89, a gain of 1¼ over the previous price.

Chicago and New York Listings.

The stock of the Quaker Oats company was placed in the unlisted department of the Chicago Stock Exchange by the Governing committee yesterday. It consists of $4,000,000 common and $8,000,000 8 per cent preferred. The committee elected the following to membership: Ira Calder, M. Kozminski, Thomas E. Wells, William H. Lake, Fred A. Hill, Lawrence Heyworth.

Application has been made to the New York Stock Exchange by the Corn Products company to list $28,000,000 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock and $48,000,000 common.

Application is made to the New York Stock Exchange to list $3,893,000 additional first mortgage gold bonds of 1950 of the Kansas City Southern railroad.

Financial Topics.

John C. King, who returned yesterday from New York, said that the crop situation is now being watched with close interest by Wall street. He looks for a decided movement in the market one way or the other next month, believing that the condition of the crops will begin to be an active market factor by then.

President James H. Eckels of the Commercial National Bank is expected to return from California about April 10.

Newell C. Knight of Knight, Donnelley & Co., will go South today for a three weeks' trip.

The Metropolitan Elevated road has been granted the right to build a station at Humboldt Park.

Call money closed in New York yesterday at 4½@5 per cent, but ruled at 4½. The last loan was at 5 per cent.

The Trowbridge & Niver company announces that G. N. Pannell, who has had long experience in the bond business, has become identified with the company as assistant secretary.

A petition is being circulated on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange asking the governors to close the exchange on the Saturday following, as well as on Good Friday.

North American.

Commenting on the advance in North American stock, George R. Sheldon, treasurer of the company, said:

"There are no new developments affecting the company. It is making money, as it always has, but has paid no dividends, and I do not know of any purpose to put it on a dividend basis. I own control, with my friends, and do not know the reasons for the buying. No one could take control from us."

A local report was that the North American company might take over the Chicago traction lines. The North American company is controlled by J. P. Morgan, who is now the largest individual stockholder in the Chicago Union Traction company.

Dividends Declared.

The Singer Manufacturing company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent, payable on March 31.

The New York Air Brake company declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent, payable on April 15.

Condition of Trade.

Southern pig iron producers are seriously considering a further advance of $2 a ton in the price of that product. It is said a number of the producers will meet in Birmingham this week to take action. Authorities say it is impossible to purchase Southern pig iron at $12 a ton in No. 2 foundry. The extraordinary demand for pig iron has resulted in the importation of foreign iron and many thousand tons are now on the way here and negotiations for more are on foot.

Officials of the Western Stone company say they have a large business booked and the year promises to exceed all others since the World's Fair demand for building materials. Prices are being kept down, however, by competition, rendering profits narrow, and the hope of consolidation or a strong working agreement is strong. It is said the negotiations to such an end taken up last fall were only temporarily abandoned.

The United States Steel corporation will open fifty new coal mines along the Norfolk and Western railroad, which will be double-tracked to accommodate the traffic.

It is reported that the American Locomotive company is figuring on an Italian order for locomotives.

Speculative Notes.

The strength in Missouri Pacific is attributed to inside operations, believed to have been undertaken in consequence of the favorable conditions in the winter wheat belt. The speculative holdings of interests more or less identified with the property in the market were reduced materially some weeks ago and are still considerably less than they were at one time. On the other hand, there is a moderate short interest in the stock, and it is thought that some of this can be driven to cover by aggressive operations.

Dow-Jones say on Amalgamated Copper: "Insiders continue their policy of silence in regard to the prospects for Amalgamated Copper. Some of them say they are not selling the stock and propose to keep their holdings indefinitely. They do not, however, say that they are disposed to buy more at these prices. People who have thought copper cheap enough and who have tried to get encouragement to buy from those who, in time past, have sometimes advised buying, have been unable to get any encouragement. The answer made to inquiries has been that the copper situation was still unsettled and might not be adjusted for a long time. In the interim there might be many changes which could not be foreseen and the effect of which could not be predicted. In the end, the Amalgamated company was expected to justify the confidence of its friends, but that was not saying that the stock was cheap now."

IN FOREIGN MONEY MARKETS.

General Tendency of Cash, Bonds, and Other Securities at London, Paris, and Berlin.

NEW YORK, March 19.—The Commercial-Advertiser's London financial cablegram says: "It was an idle holiday market today, but the tone was cheerful. American shares were inanimate but firm. Rio Tintos sold at 44⅛. Gold to the amount of £19,000 has been received from Holland. The Gold Coast offers a 3 per cent £1,000,000 loan at 91."

LONDON, March 19.—Money was in strong demand today, and the prospects of continued scarcity hardened discounts.

MINOR STOCKS MOVE UP

WALL STREET MANIPULATION SENDS PRICES SKYWARD.

Speculation Shifts to Issues Seldom Active and Sharp Gains Are Recorded—Sugar Refining Leads the List—Western Contingent Pushing Colorado Fuel Rushes It Up Seven Points, Then Permits It to Fall—Interest in Local Tractions Renewed.

[BY A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.]

NEW YORK, March 19.—[Special.]—There was the usual shifting of speculative activity today from stocks that have recently received attention to others that have been comparatively neglected.

The stocks that were taken in hand were Sugar Refining, which led the list in respect to activity, and scored a net gain of 2¼ points; Tennessee Coal and Iron, which retained about half of a maximum advance of 2 points; Atchison common, which was exceptionally strong throughout, and closed 1¼ per cent higher than last night; and, among the less active issues, Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville common, at a net gain of 4¼ points; Colorado Fuel, at a net gain of 4 points; New York Air Brake, New York Chicago and St. Louis common and second preferred, and St. Louis and San Francisco common and second preferred.

There was a continuation of the unexplained upward movement in North American. It rose 6 points, but lost practically all of its improvement.

Colorado Fuel was second only to Sugar Refining in respect to activity, and the opening in it was wild, owing to the brash manipulation of the Western speculators, who have taken charge of the market for the stock. Transactions were made at 107, but a reaction of several points followed immediately, and the final price was five points below the highest.

The magnitude and timidity of the short interest in Amalgamated Copper was responsible for a net advance of nearly a point in the price of that stock.

Minor industrials that made a fairly good showing were General Electric, International Paper issues, International Power, National Biscuit, and Westinghouse Electric.

The revival of local interest in Chicago Union Traction continues. The sudden development of activity in this stock was based upon prospects that the corporation tax law of Illinois will be declared unconstitutional by the courts, equally good prospects that a combination will be formed between the company and the City railway of Chicago, and the fact that the two corporations named are working in harmony in the matter of securing extensions of their franchises.

The reactionary features of the market were Evansville and Terre Haute, which sustained a net loss of 2¼ points, Reading issues, and a number of the less active stocks that have recently advanced sharply. Because of these movements the market presented an irregular appearance.

There was a falling off in the transactions in bonds, but the tone continued firm. In the outside market there were heavy dealings in Colorado Fuel and Iron convertible 5s, at an advance, at 105½, and a subsequent reaction to 103⅛.

IN NEW YORK MONEY MARKET.

General Tendency of Cash, Bonds, Railroad Stocks, and Other Securities in Wall Street.

NEW YORK, March 19.—It is not often the stock market witnesses such a series of spectacular and sensational movements as it was treated to today. The dullness in the general list was extreme, and prices of the important stocks moved only with the utmost reluctance. It was among the stocks which are traded in only at intervals of weeks that the speculation was fierce and the price movement violent. These violent movements created distrust and the market became neglected.

The bond market was rather dull and irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,615,000.

Money on call firm at 4 to 5 per cent. Closing bid and asked, 4½@5 per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 4½@5 per cent. Sterling exchange firmer, with actual business in bankers' bills at 4.87½ for demand and at 4.85 for 60 days; posted rates, 4.86 and 4.88½. Commercial bills, 4.84⅝@4.85⅝.

Bar silver, 53⅞; Mexican dollars, 43¼.

IN THE BOSTON MONEY MARKET.

General Tendency of Cash, Bonds, Copper Stocks, and Other Securities at the Hub.

BOSTON, Mass., March 19.—[Special.]—Boston's market was moderate in animation, generally steady in prices, and productive of at least two pyrotechnic displays, Dominion coal rising 6 to 115½, a new high record, and making 62½ advance thus far in 1902, while United Fruit was up 3 more at 100. Conferences are being held between Amalgamated and Calumet and Hecla interests looking to some kind of an agreement respecting the copper market.

Call loans, 4@4½ per cent; time loans, collateral, 4½ per cent; time loans, mercantile paper, 4½@5 per cent; clearing-house loans, 3 per cent.

IN THE NEW YORK MARKETS.

Current and Closing Quotations on Dry Goods, Coffee, Poultry, Butter, and Metals.

NEW YORK, March 19.—[Special.]—Quieter conditions prevailed in the cotton goods market as far as business actually in process was concerned, but there was no loss of strength, and prices in a number of directions still tend against the buyers without open advances being quoted. This is chiefly in brown cottons. Print cloths are difficult to buy on the basis of 3⅛c for regulars. Woolen dress goods firm in all staple lines.

Range of Coffee Prices.

Coffee—Closed steady, with prices net unchanged to 10 points higher. Total sales were 9,750 bags. Spot coffee was quiet, but steady, with invoice lots of No. 7 Rio quoted at 5⅝c. The range of contract prices in the local market today was as follows:

MR. BIGELOW NOT A DIRECTOR

The inclusion in an advertisement, published in the Tribune of Sunday, March 9th, of the name of Frank G. Bigelow, President of the First National Bank of Milwaukee, as a Director of the Horseshoe Mining Company, was an error. Mr. Bigelow's name was ordered omitted from the advertisement and new copy containing a correct list of the Directors was furnished, but by mistake Mr. Bigelow's name appeared. He is not a Director and is in no way connected with the Horseshoe Company.

Receipts and Shipments of Cattle, Hogs, and Sheep—Figures for the Week.

The average price of both cattle and hogs, and in fact sheep and lambs, was the highest of the year, or about $6.25 for beef cattle, $6.43 for hogs, $5.15 for sheep, and $6.40 for lambs. Cattle ruled steady to 10c lower than on Tuesday. Hogs sold at 5c higher at the start, but later weakened. Sheep and lambs advanced 10@15c. Top prices for the day follow: Cattle, $7.35; hogs, $6.60; sheep, $5.70; and lambs, $6.85. Cattle receipts thus far this week increased 3,000 compared with a week ago and 2,000 compared with a year ago. Hogs decreased 23,000 compared with a week ago, and increased 11,700 compared with a year ago. Sheep decreased 1,400 compared with a week ago, and showed no change compared with the corresponding three days a year ago.

Receipts for March 20 are estimated at 9,000 cattle, 33,000 hogs, and 11,000 sheep, against 7,532 cattle, 22,275 hogs, and 7,374 sheep on Thursday of last week.

Three loads of shorthorn cattle sold at $7.35, being the highest of the month. Some sold here the last week of February at the same price. Nothing sold above $7.35 since Jan. 29, when $7.60 was paid. Jan. 1 and 2 carload lots sold at $7.75, with three head on Jan. 9 at $7.85. Wednesday's top was $1.10 above the highest price paid in Chicago last March, being the highest March since 1882, when $7.65 was paid. The top in March, 1896, was only $4.75.

Average cost price of hogs for the day, $6.43, the highest of the year. Average Tuesday, $6.40, and Wednesday of last week, $6.38. Average the first half of this week, $6.41, against $6.28 a week ago. While yesterday was the highest average of the year, the top for the day was only $6.60, against $6.85 on Jan. 3, but that day there was $1.25 spread between common light and best heavy, whereas yesterday the spread amounted to only 65c.

Eleven markets received 71,000 hogs, against 65,000 a week ago and 57,000 a year ago. Total the first half of the week, 213,000, against 237,000 a week ago and 231,000 a year ago.

Chicago sold cattle 65c higher than Kansas City, $1.00 higher than Omaha, and $1.30 higher than St. Louis.

Following are given top and average prices for hogs at Chicago thus far this year, with the top and average for the first three months of the previous nine years:

	Top.	Average.

CATTLE—Seven loads of 1,604@1,624-lb. steers sold above $7.00, with three loads averaging 1,624 lbs at $7.35. The market was active and most sales were at steady prices, with some heavy and undesirable steers 5@10c lower. Exporters and shippers bought freely, and dressed beef men were liberal purchasers. The market was weakest at the start, the finish being comparatively firm for all grades. Most of the beef cattle sold at $5.65@6.60, with 1,006@1,097-lb distillery steers at $5.50@6.00. Few steers sold below $5.50. There were no Texas on sale. Native cows and heifers ruled strong, with choice to fancy heifers at $5.25@6.00; fat cows and heifers, $3.50@5.00, and canning cows, $1.75@2.80. Stockers and heifers sold strong at $2.00@5.25. Veal calves advanced 10@25c, selling at $5.75@6.85.

HOGS—There was a liberal run of hogs, but the demand was brisk and prices were mostly 5c higher. The market opened strong, but finished weak, with late bids little if any higher than on Tuesday. Shippers were free buyers from the start, while most of the packers purchased indifferently all day. Armour bought freely from the start, taking 5,500. All the packers were in the market, but four houses took only 800 each. The quality of the offerings was good, with the bulk of sales at $6.35@6.50. The top was $6.60, the highest of the month, 40c higher than a year ago, and $2.60 higher than the top for March, 1899. There has been only one month since 1884 when hogs sold higher than $6.60, which was in the third month of 1893, when $8.55 was paid, but that was the year of the Cudahy corner, when prices dropped from $8.75 to $5.85 in six months' time. Quotations follow:

Bulk of sales..........................	$6.35@6.50
Selected butchers, 220@270 lbs........	6.45@6.57½
Light bacon, 150@175 lbs............	6.10@6.35
Light butchers, 180@195 lbs.........	6.35@6.45
Mixed grades, 180@240 lbs...........	6.20@6.50
Heavy shipping, 200@350 lbs........	6.45@6.60
Heavy packing, 280@400 lbs.........	6.40@6.50
Rough to heavy grades................	6.15@6.35
Poor to choice pigs..................	5.15@5.80

Sheep—The run was moderate, and, with a good demand, trading was at a lively gait at prices 10@15c higher. Some of the plain and shelly lots of Western ewes showed hardly any gain on prices paid early this week, but the demand for choice lots was urgent at the best prices of the week. A double deck of 114-lb Western wethers, only a few yearlings in the lot, sold up to $5.50, and straight yearlings of the same weight at $5.75, while prime 124@160-lb shorn Western wethers sold at $5.50, and fat 109-lb wethers sold at $5.25. A lot of 85-lb shorn lambs sold at $6.60, or 20c above the previous top price for shorn lambs this week, and one double of 88-lb native lambs in the fleece sold at $6.75. Native sheep sold at $3.00@5.50, bulk $4.00@5.00; yearlings, $5.00@5.80; Western yearlings, $5.50@5.80; Western sheep, $4.10@5.50, bulk $4.25@5.50. Native lambs sold at $4.00@6.75, bulk $5.00@6.50. Westerns, $6.25@6.65.

LAKE SAILORS TO APPEAL ANTI-SALT WATER RULING.

Skippers of the Inland Seas Prepare to Press Their Claims for Ocean Licenses—Hope Lies in Shaw.

Ambitious lake steamboat masters, who have desired to take out papers for salt water commands as well, have come in contact with salt water prejudice and have been refused licenses, although they passed excellent examinations in many instances.

General James A. Dumont, Supervising Inspector General of the Steamboat Inspection service, has sustained the decisions against the lake men, and now it is proposed to take the matter directly to Secretary of the Treasury Shaw. As the Secretary is a Western man, it is hoped that he will be favorably disposed toward the lake masters.

The lake mariners are particularly angry because in years gone by lake men have gone to Boston and New York, and on passing the necessary examinations have had licenses granted to them without question. It is charged that the ocean shippers have become alarmed at the increasing number of applications and have taken means to check them. The tendency of lake men to take up the study of ocean navigation has grown since the new canals of the St. Lawrence opened a route between the lakes and the ocean for medium-sized ships.

General Dumont has decided that the lakes are not high seas and the ships on them are not in the coastwise service. The lake men contend that Judge Grosscup decided to the contrary.

FINED FOR SMOKE NUISANCE.

Three Defendants Taxed $5 and Costs Each—Less Leniency to Be Shown in Future.

Violators of the smoke ordinance were heard by Justice Gibbons yesterday, and three were fined $5 and costs. They were the owners of the Ozark flats, Thirty-fifth street and Wabash avenue, the Woodstock flat building, Twenty-eighth street and Wabash avenue, and the Granada Hotel, 76 Rush street. This is the minimum fine, and that amount at least will hereafter be charged to all violators of this ordinance, as it is declared no more cases will be dismissed.

WESTERN UNION MEETING

GOVERNING COMMITTEE REPORT TO INSURANCE MEN MILD.

President Decamp Urges Large Addition to Number of Inspectors to Improve Risks Rather than Repeated Advances in Rates—Committee on Large Cities to Report Today—Philadelphia Business-Men Assemble to Protest Against Increase.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 19.—[Special.]—President Decamp today told the members of the Western union, assembled after one of the most trying experiences the fire insurance business has ever known, that they must bestir themselves to reduce the fire waste of the country. In his address, reviewing the conditions since the last meeting, he held that insurance companies had not done their full duty when they paid their losses and increased rates to cover the increasing loss. For the sake of the community, as well as for their own interests, they must use their organization to reduce the number of fires. He recommended that the number of inspectors employed by companies and rating organizations be largely increased, so that dangerous conditions might be removed and the application of the new schedules hastened.

The report of the Governing committee, about which the storm center of union politics has hovered, was exhaustive but mild. It was only by the adoption of this policy that the unanimous vote of the whole committee could be obtained. The work of the application of the schedules was revised by cities and sections, and the statement was made that the new mercantile schedule had already been applied to over 10,000 risks in the West. The recent controversy over the ordering of the flat advance in rates in the West was not discussed at length. The afternoon was given up largely to the consideration of the reports of the standing committees. The "Large Cities" committee, which has to do with the situation in Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Louis, Louisville, Cincinnati, and Cleveland, will report tomorrow.

A mass-meeting of business-men, at which all the commercial organizations were represented, was held today to protest against the advance in insurance rates here. A committee was named to confer with the Board of Fire Underwriters regarding a repeal of the order, although the insurance men insist that nothing can be done.

NEWS FROM INSURANCE FIELD.

United Underwriters, Embracing Three Companies, Begins Business with Headquarters in Chicago.

The formation of the United Underwriters, a new insurance company, with headquarters in Chicago, attracted interest in La Salle street yesterday. The new concern embraces the German Insurance Company of Indiana, the National of Allegheny, and the Farmers and Merchants' of Lincoln, Neb. The total assets of these companies amounts to $1,139,966. The German has been in business for over fifty years, and the other two for half that period.

George F. Penfield, who organized the Insurance Company of the State Illinois and managed its affairs for seven years, has been made manager of the United Underwriters. The offices will be in the Temple Building. Mr. Penfield will remove from Rockford to Chicago. The company will do business chiefly in Illinois, Ohio, and Wisconsin. George W. Montgomery of Montgomery & Funkhauser is President of the Board of Managers, and H. M. Schmitt Secretary.

Chicago insurance men are interested in pending consolidations of industrials. The organization of the United States Steel corporation resulted in the practical abandonment of stock company insurance for all except the most hazardous plants, and the organization of an insurance fund of its own. The line of the American Glucose company, which the officers tried to place direct for a time because of complications with the local agents in the towns where the plants were located, was turned over to Johnson & Higgins several months ago. It has taken in the American Starch company, whose line in the West is handled by Moore, Janes, Lyman & Herrick of Chicago, who also have the Waukegan Independent plant, which has gone into the new Corn Products company. It is believed that the insurance arrangements of the constituent companies will not be disturbed for the present.

"There have been some mistaken ideas regarding the placing of the insurance on the plant of the Hammond company," said Philip Mesny yesterday. "A new schedule was applied which made the rates $1.85 on buildings and machinery, and $2.10 on stock. Some representatives of the insurance companies thought the rate lower than they wanted to accept. The rates were then voluntarily raised by us, and I did not go to the Governing committee to have them advanced at all. My retirement from the Hammond company was planned before that time, and was due entirely to a desire to get back into the insurance business."

The G. H. Hammond company of Hammond, Ind., has brought suit to recover $3,500 in the Circuit Court against Alderman Edward F. Cullerton and F. H. Novak, Elmer Littlefield, E. Littlefield, Franklin D. Arnold, John B. Guthrie, James J. Hoch, George F. Roberts, F. M. Trask, and C. E. Sayre. The defendants, it is alleged, are doing an insurance business under the name of the Western Consolidated Underwriters, and issued a policy to the plaintiff. The latter, it is alleged, lost a considerable amount of property in the fire last fall at Hammond and the portion of the loss to be paid by the defendants, it is said, was placed at $2,400. The suit is brought to recover this money, which it is said they have neglected to pay.

LINE OF FREIGHT STEAMERS FOR PHILIPPINE TRADE.

Lake Built Boats to Ply Between San Francisco and Manila—Letter from Capt. Jensen, Commanding Meteor.

A line of freight steamers from San Francisco to the Philippine Islands, composed of lake built ships, will be started during the coming summer. The steamers are the Meteor, Eureka, and Tampico, which were constructed in lake yards for H. A. Hawgood and others of Cleveland. They were sold to a syndicate of San Francisco capitalists and taken around Cape Horn two years ago. They have been trading to Honolulu, Alaska, and various coast ports. Captain K. A. Jensen, who sailed the Meteor, the first of the boats to go, is still in command, and related the plans of the Globe Navigation company, which operates the steamers, in a letter to Lieutenant W. J. Wilson of the Hydrographic office.

Washington, D. C., March 19.—The legal officers who have been examining the question presented by the flight of Gaynor and Green from Savannah to Canada have reached the conclusion that they can be reached under the extradition treaty.

HEALTH AND ALL ITS BLESSINGS

Health will come with all its blessings to those who know the way, and it is mainly a question of right-living, with all the term implies, but the efforts which strengthen the system, the games which refresh and the foods which nourish are important, each in a way, while it is also advantageous to have knowledge of the best methods of promoting freedom from unsanitary conditions. To assist nature, when nature needs assistance, it is all important that the medicinal agents used should be of the best quality and of known value, and the one remedy which acts most beneficially and pleasantly, as a laxative, is—Syrup of Figs—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

With a proper understanding of the fact that many physical ills are of a transient character and yield promptly to the gentle action of Syrup of Figs, gladness and comfort come to the heart, and if one would remove the torpor and strain and congestion attendant upon a constipated condition of the system, take Syrup of Figs and enjoy freedom from the aches and pains, the colds and headaches and the depression due to inactivity of the bowels. In case of any organic trouble it is well to consult a competent physician, but when a laxative is required remember that the most permanently gratifying results will follow personal cooperation with the beneficial effects of Syrup of Figs. It is for sale by all reliable druggists. Price fifty cents per bottle.

The excellence of Syrup of Figs comes from the beneficial effects of the plants used in the combination and also from the method of manufacture which ensures that perfect purity and uniformity of product essential in a perfect family laxative. All the members of the family from the youngest to the most advanced in years may use it whenever a laxative is needed and share alike in its beneficial effects. We do not claim that Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of known value, but it possesses this great advantage over all other laxatives that it acts gently and pleasantly without disturbing natural functions, in any way, as it is free from every objectionable quality or substance. To get its beneficial effects it is always necessary to buy the genuine and the full name of the Co.—California Fig Syrup Co.—is printed on the front of every package.

THURSDAY, MARCH 20, 1902.

The Easter of Commerce. From a material point of view, and judging by the advertisements of merchants, Easter seems to be a time for the renewal of one's handkerchiefs and shoe laces rather than a time for spiritual purification and salvation. The Easter bonnet, though it seems to exist merely for the sake of supplying a place in which the humorist's bee may buzz, is really an important factor in Easter festivities, and though upon this occasion it often blushes unseen in my lady's closet, still its owner is said to wear her winter bonnet with much more complacency when she enjoys the happy consciousness of possession of this bit of spring finery. Even men are said to be unable to resist the allurements of Easter novelties, and often provide themselves with a seasonable pair of gloves or necktie, which, like the bonnets, may be destined to blush unseen as far as any appearance in church is concerned. Easter gifts are also becoming a feature of the emergence from Lenten abstinences, and the Easter egg, which once owed its colors to bits of red flannel or onions, now has its special decorators and colorists. This tendency to make Easter an occasion for the merchant and the modiste is not so deplorable as it seems, for we know that a desire to look one's best and to be outwardly fair is quite compatible with a longing for spiritual uplifting and inward loveliness. The wish to put off the winter garments, of which one is heartily tired, may go hand in hand or even arm in arm with the intention of putting off moral raiment which may be much disfigured with darns and patches.

Five Cents Within the City Limits. The decision of Judge Ball that the Union and Consolidated Traction companies must recognize transfers from the lines of one company to those of the other meets with the hearty approval of residents in western and northwestern suburbs who have to travel over the lines of both companies to reach the business district. As the case stands now they have to pay 10 cents to get there. If the companies are obliged to give transfers fares will drop from 10 cents to 5 cents. The case has been appealed by the companies to the Supreme Court. Therefore, for the present at least, the residents in the suburbs may not get the lower rate of fare they desire. The Union Traction and Consolidated Traction companies are, as Judge Ball says, "practicaly one corporation." There has been for the last two years and more an operating agreement between the two companies which has put the entire control of the Consolidated Traction company in the hands of the Union Traction company. There has been as yet no conclusive decision to the effect that in such a case as this a passenger can ride on the lines of both roads for one fare. The Council has passed an ordinance that a passenger shall have the right to do this within the city limits. That ordinance is sustained by Judge Ball, who says the city has a right to regulate street car fares within reasonable bounds. Judge Ball's decision is one which the patrons of street car lines will wish to see upheld by the higher courts, but their view of the case may differ from his.

A "CONSPIRACY" UNEARTHED.

The Social Economics club, going to and fro in the earth and walking up and down in it with intent to devour, has found new prey in the University of Chicago. That institution, says the club, is making an attack upon women in general and upon its own women students in particular. Further, in the accomplishment of its purpose in this matter it has engaged in a conspiracy. It has determined, apparently at some kind of secret session in a basement or other similar place appropriate to conspiracies, that (1) by means of inadequate gymnasium facilities women are to be held in a position of physical inferiority, and (2) by means of "isolation"—that is, separation from the men—they are to be kept in a corresponding position intellectually.

If this charge had been made by a company of men after dinner when wine and cigars had given wings to their powers of imagination, one would think nothing of it. As Thackeray observes, there is a point, not necessarily a pint, in the course of an evening when what a man says is to be regarded more as an effort to please than as a means of conveying information. With the Social Economics club, however, the case is different. That body of social students is expected to keep itself sober and to speak words of truth. When it begins to talk wildly and whirlingly about conspiracies that are being evolved, hatched, or otherwise brought into being, for the purpose of weakening the physical and mental vigor of the women of the university, it displays a degree of credulity which is somewhat astonishing and a state of excitement which borders on mental intoxication.

It is well known among men that seeing conspiracies is almost as dangerous a symptom as seeing snakes. With women this may not be true. Even in their case, however, the conspiracy habit should be checked. People who see a conspiracy of moneyed men to enslave the laboring population are beating their wings in a vacuum. They should come back and breathe the vital air. Conspiracies are hard to prove. Most of them do not exist. People who do business in them will find that their stock is all water. The Social Economics club may not believe this just now, but unless the constitution of things experiences a radical change it will be obliged to believe it later on. If the University of Chicago makes any change in its treatment of its women students, the reason will be found not in a conspiracy against women but in a desire to do what is best, all things considered, for all persons concerned.

RELIEF FOR CUBA.

By a great majority the Republicans in the House of Representatives have voted that there shall be a reciprocal agreement with Cuba on the basis of a 20 per cent reduction in the Dingley law duties on Cuban products. This is not quite so large a reduction as should be made, but it will give material relief to the Cuban producers. They will get better prices for their sugar and tobacco. They alone, and not some sugar or tobacco "trust," will reap the benefit of these lower duties.

For the purpose of pacifying some of the beet sugar men it was agreed that there shall be attached to this proposed reciprocity agreement a proviso that it shall expire on Dec. 1 of next year. This is not a gracious provision. It is not calculated to awaken much enthusiasm among the Cuban planters, who desire permanent and not temporary reciprocity. Nevertheless, this proviso will not be such a serious matter. If for the space of a twelvemonth American products are admitted into Cuba on the payment of duties materially lower than those which foreign products have to pay American trade with the island will be greatly increased. It will be increased so much as regards the products of the farmer and the manufacturer that a failure to extend the reciprocity agreement will not be tolerated by American producers.

Another proposed condition of the reciprocity agreement is that the Cuban government shall enact immigration and exclusion laws similar to those of the United States. Fears—probably groundless—are entertained in some quarters that the Cuban planters will invite Chinamen to the island if not prevented, in order to have cheap labor. The Cuban government will consent to enact these laws. The fact that it will be asked to pass such laws and will comply with the request simply illustrates the dependent status of the island. No really independent country would be asked to shape its legislation after that of another country as a condition of freer commercial intercourse.

The Cuban government will be installed about May 1. There will be no delay on its part in assenting to a reciprocity agreement. Therefore it is desirable that Congress should dispose of this question during the next six weeks, so that Cuban producers—and American producers also—may get, without unnecessary delay, the benefits of the limited reciprocity which is to be given them.

INVITING THE COMPANIES.

The Council has invited the traction companies to enter into negotiations for the renewal of their privileges. The companies should accept the invitation. The Council has resolved also that if by June 15 the companies shall not begin negotiations or shall fail to present reasonably satisfactory propositions steps be taken "to call the attention of capital to the fact that the city has valuable transportation privileges to dispose of."

The invitation should come from the traction companies. They should be the ones to come forward respectfully to ask the municipality on what terms it is willing to grant them a renewal of their privileges. The companies are not willing to make the first advances and the Council cannot afford to stand on its dignity and await them. The city needs revenue from the traction companies. Citizens need better service. It is the evident intention of the companies to continue the use of the cables and antiquated appliances and methods until they know what the future has in store for them.

The Council can lose nothing by calling the attention of capital to the value of the important transportation privileges which expire next year. It is possible that capital needs no information on this point. If capitalists have not thus far given any indications of being interested in the question the reason is that they assume the present holders of the privileges are likely to obtain a renewal of them.

If it shall seem likely in the near future that the traction companies and the city will not come to terms, capitalists will come forward unsolicited with offers. Generous offers will be made by responsible bidders, and Chicagoans will have a better idea than many of them have now of the value of transportation privileges in the city.

The situation is complicated by the ninety-nine years' law, the validity of which has not yet been passed on by the courts. That law if sustained by the courts would not cover all the lines of the traction companies. There are lines quite outside its scope for which capitalists would make liberal offers if given an opportunity to do so. They are watching the progress of events in Chicago with quiet interest. They will be here whenever there is an opening for them. It will not be necessary to put in the advertising columns of the papers: "Wanted—Capitalists to make offers for Chicago street railroad lines."

PLANKS FOR THE PARTY PLATFORM.

The Republicans of Livingston County at their convention held day before yesterday adopted two resolutions which should be conspicuous planks in the platform to be adopted by the Republican State convention when it shall meet this year. These parts of the platform, offered in good faith, will assist materially in securing Republican victory. The resolutions of the Livingston County Republicans are as follows:

> We are opposed to the levy of political assessments on State officeholders, and demand that the same be discontinued and prohibited either by legislation or its unqualified condemnation in the next Republican State convention. The system and the money derived from such sources and used in factional struggles within the party not only weakens and tends to destroy party principles but demoralizes the public service and is inconsistent with the best performances of duty to the State, and along this line we deplore the interference of State institutions which are prohibited by law from interfering in factional politics, and we protest against the prostitution of such institutions in such matters in this and all other counties.
> We further believe that all the public charities of the State ought to be consolidated and put under the management of a single board of control, and we believe that all such charities ought to be placed under a civil service law, and that the time is now at hand for a united progressive movement in Illinois to the end that the care of the unfortunate persons who are the wards of the State shall cease to be dispensed as party patronage and shall be measured only by efficiency and fitness for the service required.

There is nothing in these resolutions to which any sincere Republican can take exception. The practice of levying assessments on officeholders is not openly defended, even by those who carry it on. It is a corrupt and injurious practice, originating at a time when political standards were lower than they are now. It was devised to raise money for party purposes. It has become now the method resorted to by a party faction which is in power to raise money for its purposes or for the personal benefit of the inner circle of the chiefs of that faction.

Necessarily the officeholder under any government who is subject to special taxation in the form of assessments must be paid too much, so that he may be enabled to pay tribute to the bosses without much inconvenience, or he will seek to indemnify himself without giving much thought to the lawfulness of the mode he resorts to. These political assessments engender bad service and dishonesty. The Republican party should not hesitate publicly to condemn them and to denounce all who persist in collecting them.

Twelve years ago the Illinois State institutions were not "party patronage." There was no apparent need of a State civil service law. These institutions having fallen into the hands of political spoilsmen the necessity for the application to them of the merit system is admitted now by all who have given the subject the least attention. It was a sore disappointment for those who had hoped for better things when pledges made a year and a half ago were broken.

The Republican party in this State will place itself on solid ground by declaring that political assessments and the partisan administration of public charities shall cease.

AN EPIDEMIC OF HANGINGS.

It is a curious feature of the working of justice in Mississippi that whereas for several years past it has been the State where lynchings have been most frequent this year thus far not a single case of lynching has occurred there. Judge Lynch seems to have surrendered his functions to the regular courts of justice, which are providing the gallows with a remarkable number of victims, black and white. Nine, seven white and two colored, have been hanged since Jan. 1. In one day, the 11th inst., there were four hangings, one in each corner of the State. During the next few days there will be several more, and no less than a score are booked for the gallows during the next sixty days.

The State is in the midst of an epidemic of hanging, and the law-abiding people approve of it, as they believe it will exert a deterrent influence on the criminal classes. This remains to be seen. Nearly all of those thus far hanged have met their doom either with indifference or with braggadocio. One of them, John Sasser, on being notified that he was to be hanged between 10 a. m. and 1 p. m., and asked if he had any choice as to the hour, promptly and coolly replied: "Let her go at 1 o'clock. I'll stay in the game until the limit." If this is the general view taken of legal execution by the Mississippi murderers it is questionable whether it will exercise any specially good influence on criminals.

If the people of Mississippi have decided to let the courts administer justice instead of mobs, it is a great point gained for law and order, and it will have a good influence upon other Southern States where the mob has been too much in evidence. Once the courts are in full operation and justice is again administered by them it will be for the benefit of the entire community, black and white. It may then be anticipated that crimes by blacks will measurably decrease. Crimes by whites can be looked after by the courts and in time they may decrease also.

ENJOINING THE RAILROADS.

A new attempt is being made to enforce the wholesome provisions of the interstate commerce law as to the secret cutting of rates by railroads and the payment of rebates. These are the illegal and inequitable practices which have made fortunes for some men and corporations at the expense of others who have found it impossible to compete with their favored rivals. These are the practices that built up the Standard Oil company.

Bills have been filed at Kansas City against railroads running east from that city to restrain them, their officers, and employés from carrying out agreements to transport grain or provisions at rates different from those set forth in their published schedules, and also to restrain them from paying rebates or making any concessions whereby freight is carried for less than schedule rates. Similar bills are to be filed against other roads.

Railroads have often gone to the courts for injunctions addressed to persons who were, as they alleged, violating the law to their injury. They have frequently obtained these injunctions, and sometimes the courts have been violently abused for granting them. Under the circumstances the railroads cannot feel abused when they are ordered to refrain from the violation of laws enacted for the protection of shippers against indefensible discriminations.

Some railroad officers have admitted that they have extended special favors to some shippers and at the same time have said that they did so with reluctance, but that these favored shippers had "a way with them" which was so potent that these officers simply had to yield to it. They should be thankful to the Department of Justice for coming to their assistance by supplying them with a new reason for resisting the importunities of these shippers. The officers of these enjoined roads will henceforth be able to say to these shippers that they dare not disobey the express injunctions of a court, for if caught doing so they would find themselves in exceedingly hot water.

SENSIBLE OPTIMISM.

Dr. Albert Shaw, editor-in-chief of the Review of Reviews, made a speech day before yesterday at the quarterly convocation of the University of Chicago. In the course of that speech he made a statement of his opinion with regard to the social and economic conditions of the time. It was a statement that deserves to be reproduced verbatim. He said:

> Not only is it not in the least true that money, capital, mere dead material possessions, are getting the better of human flesh and blood, and that mankind is coming under a new form of slavery, but exactly the opposite is true. Capital and labor, of course, must continue in association with each other, but of the two it is labor that constantly grows stronger.

This is not the kind of talk one would hear from a professional agitator who felt that he could thrive only by convincing the people that they are rapidly approaching a precipice over which they will plunge to destruction if they do not elect him to office. On the other hand, it is not the talk of the fatalistic optimist who is content to fold his arms and watch creation while it moves onward to that far-off divine event which is understood to be its goal. It is rather the talk of an optimist after the order of John Fiske, an optimist who believes in effort and struggle and who is convinced that effort and struggle will be successful. To such a man, as Mr. Fiske was never tired of saying, it is certain that human society will in time reach that height where it can be called in truth "The City of God" in a wider sense than St. Augustine's.

It is equally clear, however, that between that height and this level there is many a weary bit of road, and that there will be moors, and fens, and crags, and torrents to traverse before the goal is reached. This is optimism of the right kind. It leaves scope for Mr. Roosevelt's "most glorious game in the world," that of fighting with all one's power for something one believes is right. By means of such fighting the men of the future will achieve the triumphs of which Dr. Shaw spoke.

A QUIET SABBATH in the Country

MEADOWS is the mildest mannered man that ever shot a duck. All the year round he sits at his desk in a Chicago office building. As a rule he is the most quiet and domestic of men. He goes home to his wife and family every evening at 6 o'clock and on Sunday he escorts his brood to the church of which he is a pillar.

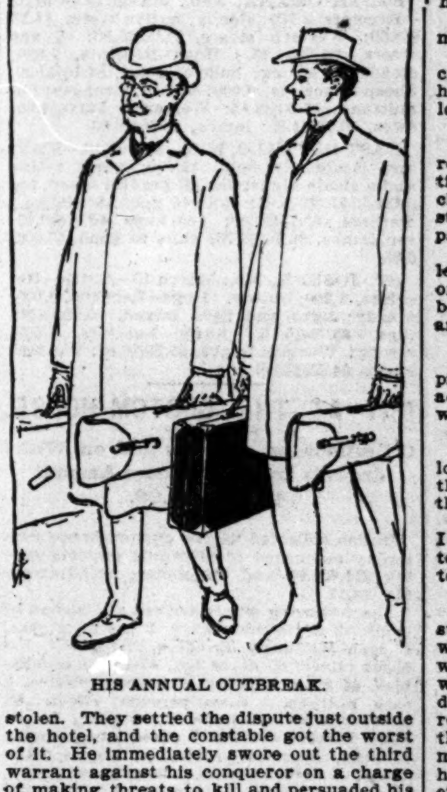
But when the ice breaks up in the spring and the newspapers begin to print pictures of long wedges of wild geese flying north he becomes for the time being a heathen and a savage. The lust of blood is hot upon him and he suffers severely until he slips away with his gun and a party of friends to spend a "quiet Sabbath in the country."

His annual outbreak occurred last week. Saturday night he and another city man packed their hunting outfits and started for a lake within a few hours of Chicago where wild ducks have been known to alight occasionally.

They got to the little hotel on the lake shore at an unearthly hour in the morning and found things in a great state of excitement. A farmer who lives six or eight miles away had driven over early the night before and had spent several hours in the barroom. Meanwhile he had left his horse, unblanketed, standing outside in the freezing wind. A neighbor, with humane instincts, had come along, and, seeing the suffering horse, had put it up in his own barn.

When the drunken farmer was ready to go home his horse was missing and he swore out a warrant for the humane man on a charge of horse stealing. This made it necessary to wake up a country constable, who lived several miles away, to serve the warrant and arrest the "horse thief." The first constable had aroused another officer of the law, and while they were on their way to the hotel the man whose horse had been stolen and the "horse thief" had met in mortal combat and the "horse thief" had received two black eyes and a bloody nose. Forthwith he had sworn out a warrant for the first man on a charge of assault, and when the constables arrived they found it incumbent upon them to arrest both men.

On their way to the scene of hostilities both the constables had imbibed freely; so that when they arrived they were in quite the same condition as their prisoners. Shortly after their arrival a dispute arose as to the respective fighting ability of one of the constables and the man whose horse had been stolen. They settled the dispute just outside the hotel, and the constable got the worst of it. He immediately swore out the third warrant against his conqueror on a charge of making threats to kill and persuaded his constabulary colleague to arrest the prisoner for the second time.



HIS ANNUAL OUTBREAK.

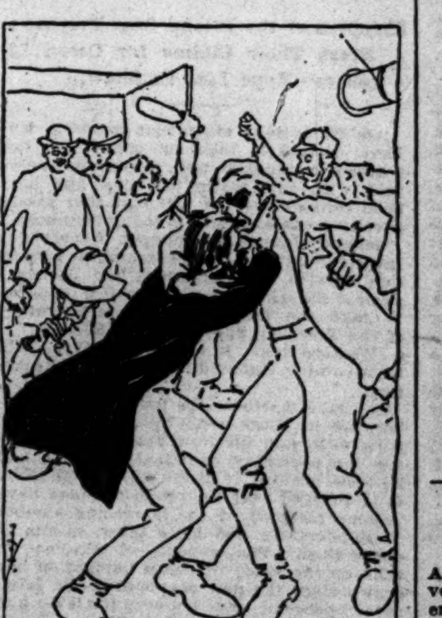
Warrants were easy to get because the proprietor of the hotel was also a justice of the peace. Each warrant brought money into the landlord's pocket, and between serving drinks to the belligerents and making out papers for their arrest and rearrest he was kept busy with both hands.

When the men from the city reached the hotel they were almost frozen. A sixty-mile wind, as sharp as ice, was sweeping across the lake, and they were anxious to get close to the red-hot stove in the little barroom. They also wanted to get to sleep as quickly as possible, so that they might get up and after the ducks at any early hour. But they found small chance of getting warm and even less of getting to sleep. The minute they came in the various constables and prisoners present began to tell them their troubles.

"I've been licked twice already," hiccoughed the man whose horse had been stolen, "but I'm lookin' fer another fight. It wouldn't hurt me a bit to git licked a couple of times more."

Forthwith he wrapped his arms about Meadows' neck and told the tired and freezing man from Chicago that he loved him like a brother.

The other member of the Chicago party was immediately approached by one of the constables, who had figured out that it would cost him $5.50 to hit one of the prisoners while he was in the custody of the law and who wished to know whether in the stranger's opinion the satisfaction so obtained would not be cheap at the price. Without waiting for an answer the constable tackled the prisoner, and, grappling with him, proceeded to whip him to the full extent of the $5.50.



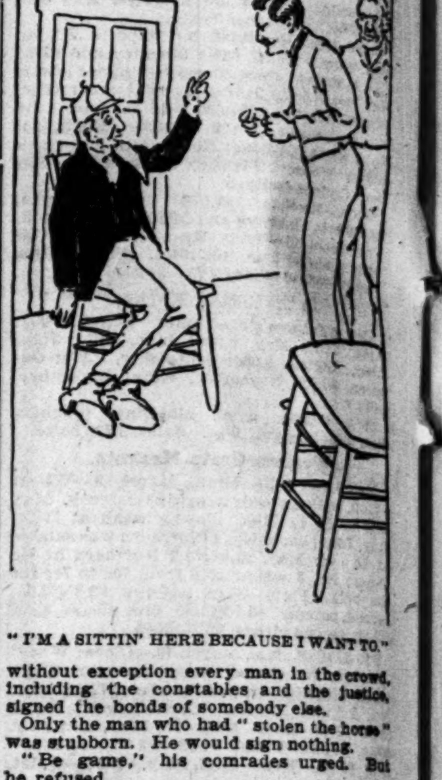
THINGS WERE IN A STATE OF GREAT EXCITEMENT.

Meanwhile the man who combined the functions of hotel keeper, bartender, and justice of the peace was still making out warrants as fast as he could collect for them, and half a dozen additional men had gathered, each of whom was shortly under arrest under one or more charges.

Then it became extremely difficult and, in their condition, practically impossible for the constables to keep track of their respective prisoners. Every few minutes one of the minions of the law would count up the prisoners in sight, and, missing one or two, would make a desperate attack on the men from the city in the hope of recapturing his escaped prisoners.

Occasionally also one of the prisoners would miss the constable who had him in charge and would wander about in a free and easy manner loking for the majesty of the law, which was more likely than otherwise to be just then taking a short nap under the table.

Presently it struck some one that as a matter of formality it would be a good thing to have bail bonds made out on which the various prisoners could be released. Forthwith the justice of the peace was set to work on that task, and shortly everybody in the crowd was under bonds in amounts ranging from $500 to $5,000 to appear for trial. In the matter of securing signatures to the bonds there was little trouble. Almost without exception every man in the crowd, including the constables and the justice, signed the bonds of somebody else.



"I'M A SITTIN' HERE BECAUSE I WANT TO."

Only the man who had "stolen the horse" was stubborn. He would sign nothing.

"Be game," his comrades urged. But he refused.

"Naw," he said. "They ain't no man kin make me sign nothin'. I ain't goin' to sign."

Then he appealed to the party from Chicago for vindication. "Ain't I all right?" he asked Meadows. "Ain't I a good feller?"

After everybody within sight had been arrested several times and released as many times on bail bonds the landlord decided to clear the house. He happens to be a giant in stature. He was also sober—at least comparatively speaking.

When he roared out his order everybody left the room but the men from Chicago and one little farmer, with a long and thin gray beard, who came unsteadily up to the giant and threw his arms about his neck.

"Doan' be mean, Andy," he said.

Andy, bartender and justice of the peace, picked him up bodily by the coat, carried him across the room and deposited him in a chair wuth much force.

"Now sit there," he roared.

The little farmer straightened himself up, looked around with injured dignity, and then waved a crooked forefinger sagely at the justice.

"Andy," he said, "I'm a-sittin' here, but I ain't a-sittin' here because you want me to sit here. I'm a-sittin' here because I want to. An' I'll git up, too."

It was almost daylight before the two constables decided it was their duty to start with their prisoners for the county seat, where the nearest lockup was located. It was twenty-two miles away. However, they did not get far. Along about noon the representatives of the majesty of the law and their eight captives emerged from the haymow of a barn across the street from the hotel, where they had been asleep for six or eight hours. They came over to the hotel where the various trials were to be held before the justice just as Meadows and his friends took the train for the city. The result of those trials will probably never be recorded.

As for the story of the duck hunting it is short and pathetic. Meadows and his friend went out on the lake on Sunday morning and were almost chilled to death in two hours. Meadows, in a light grass-colored hunting outfit, was half frozen. He discovered later that two fingers on his right hand were badly frost bitten, and his ears are still a rich purple tint. They saw two ducks. One of them Meadows shot. It fell into the lake near shore, where the floating ice is still thick. Several attempts were made to reach it, but they were not successful. Once the strong wind almost tipped the boat over and Meadows was soaked to the waist in the icy water. Then they gave it up.

Not What It Was.

A relic of days gone by,
  With its sedgy banks
  And its rushes and danks:
The haunts of the dragon-fly.
We love you for all that you used to be
In the days that our fathers knew,
  When they toiled with their loads
  Over corduroy roads,
With struggle and cry and hue.

Time was when the old canal flowed fair
Its argosies weighted down
  Like galleons of old
  With yellow gold,
Consigned to the field and town.
Ah, me, but what changes the years have wrought,
For sluggish it creeps o'er the lea,
  While the town and the field
  Are in turn made to yield
The gold flowing out to sea.

And so it goes out to all
  Of the time-gilded store
  Of things of yore
That have drifted beyond recall.
So crawl on your way through the mildewed locks.
You belong to a by-gone day,
  But you've champions strong
  Old canal, just as long
As the field and the town will pay.
—George W. Stephens in the Dayton (O.) Herald.

The Culprit Was Easily Detected.

A tale of Nemesis is told by Dr. Herbert Allen Giles, professor of Chinese at the University of Cambridge. Dr. Giles spent several years in the British consular service in the Orient, and the incident illustrates the devious means resorted to by justice to keep her scales balanced in a land where custom is popularly believed to be upside down. A serious crime had been committed by a member of a gang, and no amount of prying and inquisition served to disclose the culprit. The magistrate announced that the matter would be left in the hands of a fabulous dragon. The prisoners were dressed in black and led into a dark room, where they were placed facing the wall. The dragon, as the word ran, would come and mark the back of one of them, and by that they would know the guilty man. When the door was opened and the men led out, a telltale smear of white marked the shoulders of one. A guilty conscience had led him to seek to frustrate the dragon by crouching with his back against the wall, which the magistrate had taken the pains to have whitewashed.

NEW HOME FOR Y. M. C. A.

BLOCK WITH ACCOMMODATIONS FOR 1,500 IN HYDE PARK.

Committee Appointed to Select a Site Near Washington Avenue, Between Fifty-first and Fifty-fifth Streets—Expenditure of $100,000 to Be Made—Property at Hamlin Avenue and Fulton Street Transferred Twice—Leases Filed for Record.

The Young Men's Christian association will erect a new building in Hyde Park, to cost in the neighborhood of $100,000. The committee appointed to choose a site is composed of John B. Lord, G. F. Swift, N. W. Harris, John C. Welling, and Charles H. Morse. The location will be near Washington avenue, between Fifty-first and Fifty-fifth streets.

The present association rooms in Hyde Park are at Fifty-seventh street and Rosalie court, and the meager accommodations have long been insufficient for the 375 members. Therefore, at a recent meeting held at the home of John B. Lord a vigorous appeal was made for a new building.

The new structure will represent a model type of the modern association club buildings, containing from seventy-five to 100 living-rooms and a restaurant, as well as a gymnasium, bowling alleys, swimming pool, library, and entertainment hall. The building will accommodate 1,500 resident and nonresident members. As soon as the location has been determined a systematic canvass of the district will be made for procuring funds.

Plans are also well under way looking to the development of association work on the South Side in the vicinity of Twenty-second street and Michigan avenue and at Thirty-ninth street and Cottage Grove avenue.

Transfers of Realty Recorded.

The property at the southwest corner of Hamlin avenue and Fulton street, 50x125 feet, with apartment building, figures in two transactions recorded yesterday. In the first it is conveyed by Martin C. Londelius to George A. Neeves for $40,000, subject to an incumbrance of $16,000. In the second transaction it is conveyed by Neeves to Mary P. Allen, also for $40,000, but with an incumbrance of $26,000.

The United States Mortgage and Trust company bid in at foreclosure sale twenty acres of land between Seventy-ninth and Eighty-first streets and Palmer and Yates avenues, for $36,130.

The estate of M. E. McDowell has sold to Frank F. Jaques the premises on Sheridan drive, 154 feet south of Granville avenue, east front, 100x150 feet, for $28,000.

Leases Filed for Record.

Edgar M. Snow & Co., in connection with S. B. Mills & Co., have leased for the United States Brewing company to the Chicago Sirup Refining company the old Ernst Bros. Brewing company's plant, on Larrabee street, for ten years, at $3,000 a year.

The Brunswick-Balke-Collender company has leased for five years, at $3,500 a year, property between Hawthorne avenue and North Branch street, with 350 feet frontage on Hawthorne avenue and 331 feet on North Branch street.

LOOKING INTO THE FUTURE.—

If you have an eye out for the future you will appreciate the advantage of getting out of debt in the present, and the best way to get out of debt is to place it all with one company and pay it gradually in small installments. This gives you one account only to satisfy instead of several, and you can readily see how much easier it will be. We will loan you the money with which to do this on your FURNITURE, PIANO, HORSES, WAGONS, ETC., without delay or publicity and without disturbing the property in any way and you can pay it back by our special plan of repayment, which is the fairest ever offered. Call and let us explain more fully.

MEDICAL AND HOSPITALS.

DR. BRINEY,
THE WOMAN'S GREAT SPECIALIST,
CHICAGO AND NEW YORK.
Home office: 610, 167 Dearborn-st., opposite First Nat'l Bank.
Hours: 9 to 5. Sunday, 9 to 12 m.
Ladies: If sick, worried and discouraged, hopeless and despondent, from any cause, don't become reckless. Don't give up. Dr. Briney has saved more women to a healthy, purer, and better life than all other doctors in the city combined. Wonderfully gifted and skilled in the treatment of all diseases and complications peculiar to women. His brilliant reputation, unclouded by a single failure, he inspires all with hope who consult him and never disappoints. He absolutely guarantees every case undertaken. If a failure should ever occur, will gladly refund the money. Is not this proof positive and sufficient? Don't waste valuable time on drug clerks, hoping against hope. Come and be examined. Get a diagnosis that will forever put at rest the tormenting uncertainty of your mind. The blessed hour of relief will come like magic under the skill of this Specialist, no matter what the cause or how obstinate the case. Patients from out of town have all the privileges of his private Sanitarium extended free to them, or they can return home the same day.
Write for booklet, terms, etc. Help extended to the unfortunate. Fees within the reach of all. His greatest successes treating irregularities, abnormal suppressions, etc.
Come and be convinced. Free consultation and examinations.

A SUCCESSFUL METHOD OF TREATMENT BY A WELL KNOWN SPECIALIST, DR. F. A. GREENE.
Has made a life study of nervous and chronic diseases, being in turn the third generation of Drs. Greene to take up this division of medicine exclusively, and he is a recognized authority on nervous diseases. The doctor has prepared in tablet form a remedy for lost vitality, a preparation to give new strength to the nervous system, not a stimulant, but a medicine of lasting effect, which will build up the weak and debilitated system. The remedies act directly upon the stomach, bowels, and liver, in toning up and strengthening their action; upon the kindneys and bladder, in regulating their functions, and upon the nervous system directly in recharging the same.
These tablets cure nervous debility, stomach, bowel, and liver complaints, kidney diseases, and all difficulties arising from a weak and exhausted state of the nervous system. One month's treatment, $2, obtained at his office or sent, postage prepaid. Results guaranteed.

EASTER OPENING SALE

All our ready-to-wear departments are now in the full glory of complete and comprehensive spring assortment. We want it borne in upon the intelligence of all Chicago's careful buyers that the very finest, the perfection of stylish wearables—perfection in fabric, fit and finish—is contained in the matchless showing made at The Big Store. There is no garment, headdress, neckdressing or garniture, no matter how expensive, but is offered for a lower price than elsewhere, simply because we buy more and sell more than any other Chicago merchandising establishment.

Easter Decorations—Lilies, Lanterns, Foliage, Flowers, Birds—Combined in a Delightful Exhibition Worth Traveling Far to See.

Beginning Thursday we offer an advance showing of spring and summer wear positively unmatchable for volume and variety, for style and service, for perfection and price. A call will convince. Comparisons are all in our favor. You can buy better and for less money, always and in all departments, at Siegel, Cooper & Co.'s.

Lovely Necks and Shoulders are lovelier still in the dainty new spring conceits for their adornment. Our showing is complete, embracing all that the art of the staid or fanciful has produced.

Make no mistake in this—that there is all gain and no loss in buying them here—a gain in the lower price—no loss in style or value.

The New Liberty Silk Neck Ruffs, with the long flowing ends, are incomparable, at only $1.98 and $1.48

We have others at $6.50 and up to $10.75, all of which are sold much lower than like qualities elsewhere.

And for the little conceits which do so much as a finish to the robing of our piquant dressers—the jabots, stocks, lace collars, ruffs—there's always money-saving here, as witness our half-dollar values in turnover collars, embroidered in all colors—during this sale.... 15c

is as characteristic of Easter as a brightly-bonneted head—that there may be no incongruity, but the last to be put on as charmingly correct as all—completing the perfect tout ensemble of the Easter dress—our glove offerings are made especially attractive in dress and street styles.

Millinery Glory--Rarest, Most Beautiful, Combined with Economy.

Our millinery department is by far the largest and most comprehensive in Chicago. Thousands know it, other thousands should. The best and most expensive Paris models are here, clasping hands with their even more delightful American sisters.

There is only this difference—for what others would ask $50 we ask but $35; where others ask $25 we are satisfied with $15; all the way down to our 25c shapes or 15c roses the same difference is clearly defined. Is this difference to your liking?

We show the entire range of prices named above. We are as particular to give good values on the inexpensive as on the most gorgeous. For this occasion our special offering is a beautiful assortment of Trimmed Hats, particularly correct for early spring. The values are really extraordinary—by far the most remarkable in Chicago.
